SPANISH CABINET QUITS AND CIVIL WAR LOOMS; REPUBLIC IS DEMANDED

Juan De La Cierva Will Try Formation of New Ministry.

SURRENDER RUMORED NEARING FOR ALFONSO

Republican Chieftains Defy King, Issue Ultimatum for His Removal.

London, Tuesday, April 14 (A.P.).—Alfonso of Spain late last night informed the Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail that he had no intention of abdicating the throne, and expressed the wish that the London newspaper publish his assertion.

It is his intention, he told the correspondent, to act in strict accordance with the constitutional and royalist traditions of Spain.

(Copyright, 1931, by the Associated Press.)

Madrid, April 13 (A.P.).—Count de Romanones, minister of state, announced tonight that the entire Spanish cabinet will resign tomorrow morning as the result of Republican victories in yesterday's municipal elections, and that Juan de la Cierva, present minister of public works, will attempt to form a new Conservative-Monarchist cabinet.

For four hours tonight Premier Aznar's cabinet debated the advisability of resigning.

Count de Romanones said the new cabinet would not include representation of Liberal Monarchist elements.

Rumors Still Persist.

The premier himself denied tonight that Alfonso would abdicate, but rumors persisted that the end of the monarchy was at hand.

The trend of popular reaction to the Republican triumph was illustrated in the tone of a manifesto issued this evening by the executive committee of the Socialist Labor party, one of the units which shared in the victory at the polls.

"After the smashing victory of our ideals in the Sunday election," the document read, "we will oppose strenuously any attempt to delay or prevent the realization of the will of the people."

The uncompromising declaration was taken as an indication the Socialists are ready to fight any effort made to hinder the establishment of a republic in Spain.

Throne Appears Doomed.

King Alfonso's throne appeared doomed tonight unless there develops fortuitous elements not apparent at present.

Just how soon or in what way the monarchy may end and a republic be established is not yet clear. The crash may be postponed and it may be avoided, but no neutral observer in Madrid can see how. The writing on the wall since yesterday's balloting unmistakably decrees a republic. Not even the king's strongest supporters see how he can erase or revise that verdict.

The king, however, has shown a great flare for meeting crises threatening his throne and has come through successfully on more than one occasion. He may do it again.

Republican leaders defied King Alfonso late today by issuing an ultimatum in which they bluntly demanded an immediate establishment of a republic and broadly threatened to establish one by force if their desires were not granted.

Officials Seem Bewildered.

Rumors that the king will abdicate and perhaps leave Spain to live

Calvin Coolidge Says:

The pleasure with which the people will welcome the brother of the Emperor of Japan, Prince Takamatsu, and his wife, Princess Kikuko, will be very deep and sincere. It will exist not only because of the royal rank of the visitors, but because they represent a nation for whom we have the highest regard and with whom we have always been on terms of peace and friendship.

Those sentiments are the real foundation of human progress. The acquaintance that comes from the contact of one people with another through travel increases the bonds of understanding and sympathy. Trade is increased and common interests are developed. Our commerce with Japan is large and important for both countries. But after all friendship between people is the important thing. If that is on a sound basis economic relations will adjust themselves.

In stating that he desired to see our art treasures, the prince was better than many of our own people. He will find them of a richness and extent seldom surpassed. Whatever we may have of interest will be gladly displayed to the prince and princess and we hope they may take home with them the realization of our admiration for Japan.

RED CROSS RELIEF LAUDED BY HOOVER

Tells Delegates Work Has Vindicated His Stand Against U. S. Aid.

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover yesterday pointed to the work of the Red Cross as vindicating his stand against Federal donations for drought relief.

Welcoming delegates to the Red Cross annual convention, Mr. Hoover said the organization had saved more than 2,000,000 persons in drought areas from infinite suffering and had preserved the ideal of voluntary assistance by refusing to take a "step on the pathway of Government doles."

"You have proved yourselves not only a practical instrument of mercy and relief," he said, "but you have renewed and invigorated the spiritual life of the Nation."

To have yielded to the demands of Senate Democrats and Republican independents to administer an outright appropriation of $25,000,000 from the Treasury, the President said, would have rendered the Red Cross impotent in all future emergencies.

"A voluntary deed by a man impressed with the sense of responsibility and brotherhood of man," he said, "is infinitely more precious to our national ideals and national spirit than a thousandfold poured from the Treasury of the Government under the compulsion of law.

"Your organization is indeed the highest form of self-government, that is, for our people to organize themselves without the force of law."

James L. Fieser, vice chairman of domestic operations of the Red Cross, who had just returned from a tour of the drought States, said

"The country is again under cultivation and will play an important

BAKER SURRENDERS, SAYS HE SLEW WIFE

Avers He Shot After Mate Called Him Fool; Tells of Suicide Thoughts.

Albert C. Baker, 50 years old, surrendered to police yesterday and confessed that he killed his wife, Mrs. May Baker, in his basement apartment on April 2.

The confession of Baker is a story of an unhappy married life that lasted for fifteen years and was fatally terminated when he, angered when his wife called him a fool, sent a bullet into her abdomen.

Twice during his flight, Baker said, he raised a revolver to his temple to end his life, but his solicitude for his children stayed the finger on the trigger. Again, when he was about to surrender himself, his intentions were postponed until he assured himself that his children would be cared for.

Baker, accompanied by his brother Herman, walked into police headquarters soon after noon. Inspector William S. Shelby recognized the man from his picture and followed him to an office on the second floor.

There Baker approached a policeman, who directed him to Lieut. Charles Weber, who, when Baker apprised him of his identity, said: "So you're Baker, eh? Well, I'm mighty glad to see you."

In the homicide room at headquarters Baker told the story of the killing to Detective Sergt. John A. Flaherty, head of the homicide squad, and Detective Sergts. George Darnell and Carlton Talley.

Baker recited the misunderstandings with his wife that began soon after his marriage. Early this year, he said, he lost his position as a salesman in a local department store

The Post's Bridge Tourney Sets Pace in Westchester

Similar Contests Become Vogue Elsewhere, Sweeping Fashionable Centers From Florida Winter Colonies to Southern and Northern Cities.

In sponsoring the first annual bridge tournament for Washington players The Washington Post has set an example which is being followed elsewhere. Contests of this character are rapidly becoming the vogue and lovers of the game are giving the events their enthusiastic support.

Since plans for the Washington tournament were formulated, announcement has been made by the Standard-Star of Westchester, N. Y., that it will inaugurate a bridge competition, which will be conducted in much the same manner as the local tournament. Westchester, which lies just outside New York, boasts of being the wealthiest county in the United States. It embraces some of the most fashionable suburbs of the Metropolis, including such social centers as Larchmont, New Rochelle, White Plains, and Pelham, all of which will join in the tourney.

Following the example of The Post the newspaper will offer trophies and prizes, which will be played for by the elite of the suburban set of New York. As in Washington the social leaders of these communities are keenly interested in the enterprise. Shepard Barclay, who is a resident of Larchmont, and one of the best-known bridge players of the country, as well as a writer on the subject, will conduct the tournament.

Another outstanding event in the world of bridge is the out-of-doors tournament now in progress at Or-

ESSAY JUDGES PICK FINALISTS FOR FLAG TRIP

Six Boys and Six Girls to Face Saturday Test Are Selected.

25 OF COMPETITORS FOUND NEARLY EVEN Committee's Task Difficult; Friendship Envoys Soon to Be Designated.

Essay Finalists

William Duvel, Central High School.
Thomas J. Hayes, Western High School.
Charles O. Holbrook, Langley Junior High School.
Thomas Orme, Business High School.
William Kernan, Nativity School.
Alexander H. Van Kueren, jr., St. Alban's School.
Frances Conrad, St. Patrick's Academy.
Kathleen Crowley, Sacred Heart.
Helen Dettweiler, Immaculata Seminary.
Ruth L. Jackson, St. Paul's Academy.
Margaret Pyne, St. Anthony's High School.
Dorothy Skirm, Western High School.

These are the six boys and six girls who will take part in the finals of the good will trip to Europe contest being sponsored by the United States Flag Association with the cooperation of The Washington Post. The finals will be held at Central High School auditorium Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

The judges faced a severe task in making the selection of the twelve children. When the preliminary tests were ended Saturday, it was found that 25 boys and girls were so evenly matched that a reexamination of the papers would be necessary in order to determine the finalists. Another meeting was held yesterday and the names mentioned were selected.

Each boy and girl listed above will receive the Patriotic Service Medal of the United States Flag Association, the second highest honor within the gift of the Flag Association, with the exception of the two who will be declared "Envoys of Friendship" at Saturday's finals, the two winners being given the Cross of Honor, the same medal bestowed upon Col. Charles A. Lindbergh on his return from his memorable flight to Paris.

Will Be Given Medals.

Each of the 60 boys and girls, with the exception of the 12 named here, who qualified for the preliminary test held last Saturday, will receive the "Old Glory" medal of the United States Flag Association, which entitles them to life membership in the "Order of the Flag."

All medals will be presented at the finals Saturday, in order that the boys and girls who worked so hard to qualify for the preliminary test may have a chance to participate in the elaborate ceremonies which will mark the selection of the winners Saturday. The medals will be presented by prominent citizens and each boy and

WOMEN WETS DEFY PLANS TO SIDESTEP RUM

Group Enters Capital as Rival Drys End Session.

BOTH FACTIONS ISSUE THREATS OF BOLTING

Parties, in 1932, Warned to Face Prohibition Despite Consequences.

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

Today Washington bids farewell to one large group of prominent women and greets another. The two are rivals, one being dry, the other wet. But on one thing they agree, and that is that prohibition is bound to be the dominant issue in 1932. Not only that, but if timorous male politicians try to sidestep it they are prepared to push prohibition to the front, and make it the issue.

Jouett Shouse may cry out that economic conditions will be the issue; Robert Lucas may single out the tariff, and Senator George Norris may put forward water power, but none of these can convince the women—at least not the women who have come to Washington.

Not since the suffragettes and the antisuffragettes fought it out over the nineteneth amendment, has there been such a fight among America's women.

Women Drys Active.

In the 1928 campaign the women drys were extremely active and also effective. The women wets had not yet started to organize. In the three years that have intervened, however, their ranks have grown tremendously.

When Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, of Florida, called the National Commission for Law Enforcement together last Saturday there were 800 enthusiastic drys assembled in the Washington Hotel. They demanded that prohibition be retained in order that the home might be perserved.

When Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, of New York, calls the Women's Organization for National Reform to order in the Mayflower Hotel today, it is expected that 1,000 or more will be in attendance. They will demand that prohibition be abolished before it wrecks the home.

Both Talk of Bolting.

Each group is in favor of bolting the two big parties in order to advance their cause.

A number of the women who attended Saturday's meeting in the Washington yesterday gathered for the meeting of the National Woman's National Democratic Law Enforcement League at the Shoreham.

They heard the president, Mrs. Jesse Nicholson, of Chevy Chase, Md., demand the resignation of Chairman John J. Raskob, of the Democratic national committee because of his wet views. If he doesn't resign, Mrs. Nicholson said, a drive will be made to have Democratic women drys desert the party.

Four Men Banned.

Mrs. Nicholson, who supported President Hoover, in 1928, listed four men, who, she said, were "disqualified" for the Democratic nomination: Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, former Senator James Reed,

Gunboat Nears Site Of Nicaraguan Fight

U. S. S. Asheville Carries 75 Marines; Cruiser Memphis Sailing Cancelled; Death of One Officer Confirmed, Two Others Not Reported Officially.

(Associated Press.)

The gunboat Asheville was moving toward Nicaraguan waters last night to cope, if necessary, with insurgent activity in that country.

At the State Department it was said she would land no forces unless the situation proved much more serious than official reports had indicated.

Official advices received by the Navy Department mentioned the death of only one marine, Capt. Harlan Pefley.

The Asheville, carrying a detachment of about 75 Marines, was ordered to proceed from the Canal Zone to Puerta Cabezas, on the east coast of Nicaragua.

The cruiser Memphis, with a considerably larger armed force aboard, was ordered from Guantanamo, Cuba, to position nearer the trouble zone, but was turned back shortly after her departure.

The cruiser will not go to Nicaragua unless the situation becomes more serious.

Latest advices to the Marine Corps headquarters said the relief force had been surrounded, but that supplies were being taken to it by airplane from Managua, on the west coast.

The only American Marines or other troops in the Puerta Cabezas region are those acting as officers of the native national guard. These were believed to number not more than three or four.

The Puerta Cabezas district is separated from the northwestern areas in which Sandino and his fellow insurgents have been operating by a wide stretch of mountainous and heavily wooded country, requiring ten days or more to traverse on foot.

American officials do not believe the present trouble has any connection with the Sandino activities against the Moncado government. It is believed more likely to be connected with labor dissatisfaction growing out of unemployment among lumber men and banana cutters on the east coast.

Managua, Nicaragua, April 13 (A. P.).—United States Marine headquarters today said it had received no official report which would confirm dispatches from Panama City that Lieut. Darrah and Sergt. Taylor, U. S. Marine Corps, had been killed in a bandit attack at Logtown, in northeastern Nicaragua.

ADD NIC—

New Orleans, La., April 13 (A.P.).—C. A. Davis, American Marine officer attached to the National Guard unit at Bluefields, Nicaragua, in a tropical radio despatch to the Associated Press here tonight telling of a battle of the Marines with bandits in Nicaragua, reported that Lieut. Clyde Doy Darrah, for whom apprehension was felt, emerged safely from his encounter with the outlaws.

Davis gave the following account of the battle:

"Capt. Harlen Pefley, United States Marine Corps, department commander Guardia Nacional de Nicaragua at Puerto Cabezas, was ambushed and

POMP AND CEREMONY FOR 33,000 CROWD

Johnson Starts Third Year With Washington Seen Flag Contender.

By SHIRLEY L. POVICH
(Sports Editor of The Post).

The genus fan, who first detected rumblings on Dixie diamonds in February and March, lifted his ear from the ground today to await the deep detonations in eight big-league cities, sounding the start of the 1931 pennant races. It is only a matter of hours.

Transcending the other national issues of the day, the start of another major league baseball campaign has caught up again with the American public after the discordant blare of the ballyhoo games in the South has served to whet the appetites of a baseball-hungry populace.

Washington lays claim to the fullest glare of the spotlight. Here baseball "puts on the dog," with President Hoover and Mrs. Hoover, flanked by the dignitaries of his administration, lends the official note to the proceedings—the national aspect of the game which the baseball magnates fondly call the national pastime.

Champions Invade.

But the game here presages in its own right an important beginning of the pennant scramble in the American League, for the world champion Philadelphia Athletics invade the Capital for the inaugural engagement with Walter Johnson's Washington Club, which is hailed as the team most likely to dethrone the Mackmen in any such eventuality.

The pregame assault on the peanuts and hot dogs will be staged to the tune of strains from the national anthems of 21 Pan-American countries who have officially designated the game as a part of their good-will exercises here while delegates are in the Capital. The Presidential party is to arrive at the stadium at 2:40 o'clock, with the unfurling of Old Glory to be followed by the hoisting of the flags of Pan-American nations on a companion pole in center field, climaxed by a 21-gun national salute.

Gates Open at 11:30.

The stadium gates will open at 11:30 with the early comers to be entertained by bands and the antics of Nick Altrock and Al Schacht until the ceremonies leading up to the tossing out of the first ball at 3 o'clock by the President, whose sea-going arm is reported to have responded to the treatment of the White House trainer.

Griffith Stadium is a sell-out. Every reserved seat has been disposed of for almost a week and lines will form early today for the 14,000 rush seats in center field. A crowd approximating 33,000, the capacity of the park, will witness the opening.

Pitching aces of the respective staffs of the Nats and the Athletics are slated to perform today. Walter Johnson has nominated his young left-hander, Lloyd Brown, to oppose the Mackmen. His rival will be either George Earnshaw or Lefty Grove, Connie Mack's world series heroes. Mack, as in his wont, will not divulge the identity of his starting pitcher until game time, but that either Earnshaw or Grove will pitch is deemed a certainty.

Johnson Starts Third Year.

For Walter Johnson, it will mark the start of the third campaign as manager of the Nats. The pitching idol of two decades of Washington fandom will send a team into the pennant race that is the popular choice to offer the Champion Athletics the sternest competition.

Two late developments will send a revamped Washington Team on the field. Sam West, center fielding sensation, is confined to his home with influenza and will be supplanted by Harry Rice, off-season acquisition, from the New York Yankees, whose presence is not expected to weaken the club's attack or defense in a great degree. Buddy Myer, relegated to the bench for the majority of the spring training games, will return to his post at second base as the choice over Jack Hayes in an effort by John-

REED FLAYS RASKOB, SUGGESTS HE RESIGN

Leave Rum, Other Questions to Next Convention, Missourian Says.

(United Press.)

Former Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, one of those frequently mentioned as a Democratic presidential possibility in 1932, yesterday joined the ranks of those who oppose the platform suggestions of Chairman John J. Raskob, and added a pointed suggestion that Mr. Raskob should resign.

Prefacing his comments with a sardonic declaration that he would not discuss "Mr. Raskob or any other man by name," Mr. Reed took up Mr. Raskob's proposal to amend the anti-trust laws and dissected it in the best Reed manner.

"I think that any man who proposes to impair or repeal the anti-trust statutes at a time when the march of monopoly is the greatest menace of the age is thinking a great deal more about his investments in the stocks and bonds of monopoly than he is about the welfare of the people," Mr. Reed declared.

Still avoiding the use of Mr. Raskob's name Mr. Reed went on to assert that such a man "should cease undertaking to control a party that is devoted to the very opposite of that proposition."

He then ridiculed the Raskob proposal that the national committee make platform recommendations to the next convention.

"Leave it to the convention," he declared, adding that he was not surprised that another course is being pursued because:

"It is as true today as when it was first stated, that 'the ox knoweth his owner and the ass his master's crib.'"

Still another of the Raskob premises, the acceptance of a "fair" tariff, rather than the traditional Democratic tariff for revenue only, came in for Mr. Reed's denunciation—still without mention of Mr. Raskob's name.

The cardinal principle of the Democratic party, according to Mr. Reed is that "a tariff is justified as a tax only," and "any man who attempts to speak for the Democratic party and announce any other doctrine doesn't have the slightest conception of real Democracy."

The picturesque Missourian, master of invective, sharpened by nearly 20 years of rough-and-tumble debate in the Senate and other political forums, was in his best form. Tired and irritated by a tedius day of legal arguments before the Interstate Commerce Commission, where he is appearing as counsel in a railroad consolidation case, he was in the mood to fight without gloves.

On prohibition repeal—a point of sympathy between him and Mr. Raskob, he also had some caustic remarks to make.

He is not very hopeful that either major party will take a decided stand on repeal next year, because he "expects the same character of hypoc-

JURY FAILS TO NAME MARINE'S MURDERER

Coroner's Inquest in Thorne Slaying Hears Several Persons Testify.

A coroner's jury failed to fix responsibility for the murder of Emanuel H. Thorne, Marine private, whose body was found in a shallow grave in Greater Capitol Heights, Md., but testimony given last night at the inquest fixed the time of the burial more closely than it had been established before.

Vincent Selbicky, Marine bandsman, on whose property the body was found, testified that he had walked over the location of the grave about the first of February, and that the body was not there then. It is understood, though it was not brought out at the inquest, that a woodcutter in the vicinity had also worked near the spot from February 1 to February 21, and had not noticed the body.

Five persons testified before the coroner's jury impanelled by Judge Thomas D. Griffith. They were H. L. Merryman, who found Thorne's body; Constable Earle Blackwell, who uncovered it; Selbicky, on whose property it was found; John E. Harmon, who identified it, and Dr. James I. Boyd, who performed the autopsy.

Selbicky said he moved into the house about March 1, and had spent each night there until the body was found on April 4. He denied that there had been "wild" parties there, and said he had noticed no one prowling about the house at night.

About February 1, he said, he went to the house and into the back yard to prune some fruit trees. On this occasion he walked around the fence inclosing his property, inspecting it for holes. The body was found about 4 feet inside this fence, and he was certain that he would have noticed it if it had been there at that time.

He also testified that he had visited the grave several times the day of his arrest, before he was taken into custody. When he arrived at his home, he said, he was told there was a dead man on the place. He went to the grave to try to identify the man, but did not know him. After returning to the spot several times, he said, he was arrested and taken to the jail at Marlboro. He was released four days later.

Selbicky also intimated that there was a Marine Corps investigation of Thorne's death going on. In response to questions from the jury, he said that "we are running down all leads." One of the jurors had asked him the whereabouts of a man named Overton.

Merryman told of finding the body while exercising his dogs in the patch of woodland. He said that he had been in the vicinity every two or three days for some time before.

Blackwell told of removing the thin covering of earth over the body and the condition it was in.

Harmon testified that Thorne had left $20 with a comrade when he left the barracks on liberty on January 16. Thorne never returned to duty.

Police Hold Youthful Band On Fire and Theft Charges

Lads Ranging From 11 to 18 Years in Age Said to Have Set Hilton-Carbery School Ablaze; Accused of Store, Auto Robberies.

A band of youths ranging in age from 11 to 18 years is being held by police for allegedly starting eight fires in the last three months, one of which was a $2,000 blaze at the Hilton-Carbery School.

The alleged criminal attainments of the youthful mob runs the gamut of school robberies, poor-box thefts, store robberies, automobile thefts, and the looting of parked cars.

All of their alleged crimes have occurred over a period of three months and culminated with their arrest on Sunday by Inspector R. C. Roberts, of the fire marshal's office, and Patrolman W. M. Malone, of the Ninth Precinct.

Police say that Robert E. Solon, 16 years old, of Fourth street near B street southeast, has confessed to organizing the group and planning most of its reputed depredations.

The alleged "key man" of the band is an 11-year-old boy, who was lithe enough to wiggle through small transoms and admit the rest of the band to the places they are said to have robbed.

During their alleged operations, police estimate, they caused more than $10,000 in fire damage and stole goods valued at more than $1,00. Two of the youths are said to have confessed that they had been fired upon by a policeman while trying to steal an automobile in the Eleventh Precinct a few sewks ago.

The round-up of the gang began when the fire marshal's office noted

REPEAL OF DRY ACTS VETOED IN ILLINOIS

Governor Rejects Measure as Attempt to Nullify 18th Amendment.

Springfield, Ill., April 13 (A.P.).—The bill to repeal Illinois' prohibition enforcement acts was vetoed today by Gov. Louis L. Emmerson.

Passed by the Illinois House of Representatives, 91 to 56, and by the State Senate, 26 to 24, the O'Grady-McDermott bill, which would have set aside the Illinois prohibition act and the State search and seizure act, was returned by the governor without his approval.

"It attempts to nullify the provisions of the eighteenth amendment," he explained in a message accompanying his veto. "I am not for nullification. Destructive principles which do not protect the lives and homes of all our citizens will not aord a solution of the liquor problem."

The repealer bill had been the subject of heated controversy for three months, and Gov. Emmerson, delaying his decision until about 36 hours before the bill would automatically have become law, was besieged daily by delegations of "wets" and "drys."

In the earlier discussion and in the governor's message, the prohibition referendum of last November 4 was frequently mentioned. The three questions of pubilc policy were repeal of the eighteenth amendment, modification of the Volstead act and repeal of the Illinois prohibition act. All three were voted favorably.

Referring to this referendum, Gov. Emmerson said the number of votes in favor of repeal of the prohibition act was less than a majority of all those who voted and was only about one-third of the total number of voters, but that it was not his purpose "to quibble over whether or not this public policy referendum was a true expression of the so-called wet and dry sentiment of the State."

"In my opinion," said the governor, "a majority of the thinking people of this State are dissatisfied with the conditions in this country which have followed the eighteenth amendment and the enforcement acts under it; but I am equally satisfied that the American people do not want and will not attempt the correction of these evils by wiping out all regulatory liquor legislation."

Evanston, Ill., April 13 (A.P.).—The American flag was raised at Frances Willard Cottage, home of the National W. C. T. U., when word came today of the veto of the Illinois prohibition repeal measure.

Text of Hoover's Speech At Red Cross Convention

The text of President Hoover's speech yesterday before the opening session of the annual convention of the American Red Cross follows:

I am particularly glad to welcome this annual convention of the American Red Cross. During this past year this great mutual institution of the whole people has been put again to severe tests, not only as to its practical ability to meet national disaster, but a tst involving its whole moral and spiritual purpose. You have, under most difficult handicaps, again demonstrated that it can be meet and relieve human suffering in any national disaster.

The drought presented a new type of problem for the Red Cross—the problem of famine in over 2,000,000 of people. Your leaders, alive to the possibility of suffering which would be the inescapable result during the winter, began as early as last August to mobilize the Red Cross to meet the inevitable burden. It was that farsighted action and that early action which enabled the saving of the multitude of people from infinite suffering. Unfortunately, men less familiar with the resources and the ability and the courage of the American people in mutual action under their own Red Cross, men no doubt genuinely concerned over the growing seriousness of the situation, were skeptical of your abilities and the forces which give it strength, and were insistent that the Red Cross should abandon its voluntary character, should abandon its independence and its foundation in service which are part of the spiritual life of our country, and become in effect a Government bureau through Federal appropriations as the source of its funds. They did not realize that the Red Cross represents a vital and precious force in our people—their ability and strength in voluntary action and their sense of service and of moral responsibility. For the Red Cross springs from the people; it is of the people—it is a part of their spiritual expression.

It was a momentous decision which confronted you, to refuse the easy course that was proposed, and it has been due to you, officers and members of the Red Cross in every city and hamlet of the United States, to your courage, your resolution, and devotion, that it has been possible even in a time of extreme economic difficulty to prove your strength and ability to meet national emergencies, by finding from your members the financial resources on the one hand and the ability and the sense of service for distribution on the other. If your officers had yielded on this occasion the Red Cross would have been rendered impotent in the face of every future national emergency, for it would have been inevitable to turn to the Government and the taxpayer; it would have meant the destruction of the spirit of the Red Cross and it would have been the destruction of something even greater than voluntary service—it would have injured the spiritual responses of the American people. It would have been a step on the pathway of Government doles.

In problems of this kind we are dealing with the intangibles of life and ideals. We are dealing also with the highest thing in our civilization, that is, the sense of personal responsibility of neighbor for neighbor, the spirit of charity and benevolence in the individual, the holding alight the lamp of voluntary action in American life. A voluntary deed by a man impressed with the sense of responsibility and brotherhood of man is infinitely more precious to our national ideals and national spirit than a thousandfold poured from the Treasury of the Government under the compulsion of law. Your organization is indeed the highest form of self-government, that it, for our people to organize themselves without the force of law.

The spiritual question is not solely a problem of giving and raising funds; it is equally a question of their distribution—for here again is mobilized the sense of voluntary service. There is within it the solicitude and care given to the individual in distress based upon his need and not upon his claim of right or influence. The very spirit that makes the Red Cross possible assures it a probity and devotion in service which no government can ever attain.

In all this there is the imponderable of spiritual ideal and spiritual growth. It is indeed the spiritual in the individual and in the Nation which looks out with keen interest on the well-being of others, forgetful of ourselves, beyond our own preoccupation with our own selfish interests and gives us a sense of belonging to the great company of mankind, sharing in the great plan of the universe and the definite order which pervades it. To impose this burden upon some one else by the arm of the law does not awaken the spirit of our people. A great spiritual value comes to those who give from the thankful heart, who give because of their sensibility to suffering. It is this spiritual value, which is exemplified in the Red Cross, that is of transcendent value to our Nation. It is because of the courage and maintenance of this spirit and this value that I wish on this occasion to pay tribute to each and every man of you and to your board of governors, and more especially to your chairman. You have not alone served our country in distress, but you have contributed to preserve a great ideal in our people. You have proved yourselves not only a practical instrument of mercy and relief but you have renewed and invigorated the spiritual life of the Nation.

You are inscribing another bright chapter in the history of the American Red Cross; and you are inserting a chapter of spiritual growth of our country.

Shouse Attacks Hoover on Coast

Democrats in President's Home State Told They Will Win in 1932.

Los Angeles, April 13 (A.P.).—Speaking in President Hoover's adopted State, Chaiman Shouse, of the Democratic national executive committee, tonight urged California to aid in turning the present occupant out of the White House in 1932.

Addressing a Jefferson Day dinner under auspices of the Democratic State committee of California and the Los Angeles County Democratic committee, Mr. Shouse predicted his party would win the Presidency next year, but said that "strenuous, unremitting effort" would be required.

Mr. Shouse criticised President Hoover for signing the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill, for issuing "Pollyanna statements" about prosperity, and for vetoing the Wagner employment bill.

part in the reestablishment of national prosperity."

Through farm loans, intermediate credit facilities and other relief machinery, including that of the Red Cross, he added, more than two-thirds of the 800,000 families affected by the drought have been restored to "self-help," and more will have been made independent of need by May 1.

Fieser saw in the recent congressional criticism of the Red Cross "something that we have needed for a long time."

"We have accepted the Red Cross with complacency and dignity, much as we would a piece of furniture," he said. "A little argumentation between friends is a good thing. * * * It is difficult to predict the limits of relief work which may be entrusted to the Red Cross should popular financial support ever catch up with apparent popular willingness to entrust it with difficult enterprises."

McKinley Parent-Teachers to Meet.

The second annual conference of the McKinley High School Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the school this afternoon. Mrs. T. H. Young, first vice president, will preside over the business meeting.

WOMEN WETS DEFY PLANS TO SIDESTEP ISSUE OF RUM

of Missouri, and Alfred E. Smith, of New York.

Mrs. Rushmore Patterson, prominent socially here and in New York, commented on a story appearing in The Post in the morning quoting Mrs. Sabin as predicting that a wet would be elected President in 1932.

"I have believed the head of the organization that opposes prohibition to be sincere, but misguided," said Mrs. Patterson. "Of course, one always believes the opponent misguided. But that she is occult had not entered my head. She has given several arduous years in an effort to organize women away from the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution, but only some one with the powers of the crystal gazers of the East could foresee the next presidential candidate's wet or dry sentiments.

Leaders Thinking Questioned.

Could it be that this untiring leader of the wet crusade makes wide statements without giving much solid thought thereto, and which would be dubbed by our masculine friends a purely feminine way of arriving at a desired objective, by leaping at a conclusion fathered (or, in this instance, mothered) by a strong desire?"

Mrs. Patterson joined with Mrs. Peabody in answering Mrs. Sabin's challenge that they prove that the National Commission for Law Enforcement represented 12,000,000 women. Mrs. Peabody, in an open letter, said:

"The General Federation of Women's Clubs has a membership of three millions. The Church Federations for Foreign and Home Missions have much larger memberships, since they include all denominations. The Y. M. C. A. and the W. C. T. U. which you mention, are also affiliated, as are the Woman's National Democratic League, the King's Daughters, the Lend-a-Hand Society, and the National Council of Women."

Joins Raskob Attack.

Dr. Jennie M. Califas, of Omaha, who resigned as Democratic national committeewoman for Nebraska as a protest against the nomination of Gov. Smith, was another of the speakers at the Shoreham meeting who denounced Chairman Raskob. Any one that he indorses for the presidency, she said, would be opposed by the drys.

The women elected their officers for the coming year, and then rode to the White House where they were received by President Hoover.

Mrs. Nicholson was re-elected president of the organization; Mrs. Clement L. Shaver, of West Virginia, first vice president; Mrs. Catherine McCullough, Illinois, second vice president; Miss Harriet H. Sedgewick, New York, third vice president; Mrs. John C. Urquhart, California, fourth vice president; Dr. Califas, fifth vice president; Mrs. Maude Saunders, Virginia, secretary; Mrs. Edward Thurman Smith, Missouri, treasurer, and Mrs. J. O. Ross, Texas, chaplain.

All Sections Represented.

The women gathering here today for the meeting of the Organization for National Prohibition Reform are from all parts of the country, including parts of the South and the West that have been regarded as dry strongholds. These delegates, according to Mrs. Sabin, represent 300,000 organized women who are in revolt against prohibition.

Mrs. Graham Dougherty, of Philadelphia, head of the Pennsylvania delegation, arrived here last night, predicting that women voters will "tear through party lines" on the prohibition question in 1932.

Mrs. Maude K. Wetmore, of Newport, R. I., whose father, George Peabody Wetmore, was United States senator from Rhode Island from 1895 to 1913, and who says that with her Republicanism is a sort of religion, said that she would refuse to vote for a dry Republican nominee for President in 1932. However, she did not say that she would vote for a wet Democratic nominee. The most she could do, she said, was to stay away from the polls.

Anti Posters Selected.

In preparation for the 1932 campaign, the women yesterday selected three antiprohibition posters, these being regarded as the best of 100 or more that were submitted. The poster of Henry J. Stahlut, 18-year-old art student of Brooklyn, was adjudged the winner and to him went $250. The poster shows a classic figure of a woman tearing to pieces a dark placard marked "Prohibition."

The second prize and third prize posters were submitted by Herbert Gruhl and Edward McCandlish, both of Michigan. The judges were Richard S. Merryman, director of the Corcoran School of Art; Felix Mahoney, who also conducts an art school, and Mrs. Duncan Phillips.

The delegates who will represent the District of Columbia at today's meeting are Mrs. Spencer Cosby, Mrs. Margaret Cox, Miss Bell Gurnee, Miss Elizabeth C. Harris, Mrs. Henry Leonard, Mrs. William Bevery Mason, Mrs. Frederick Solger, Mrs. Valentine Vickery, Mrs. John R. Williams, and Mrs. W. M. Wright.

REED RAPS RASKOB, SUGGESTS HE RESIGN

risy that we have had from these gentlemen all the way through—these men who drink whisky 365 days out of the year and then pass a law that no one can have a drink when they know perfectly well that any one who wants it can get a drink whenever he wants it."

But, whether the political leaders dodge it or not, Mr. Reed said, "prohibition will play an important part in the next campaign."

"The people opposed to prohibition now," he said, "are not those who are interested in the liquor business because they are making more out of bootlegging. Those who are interested in sobriety and decent Government are the opponents of prohibition today."

As to just how prohibition should be ended, Mr. Reed contends that Congress has the power and right to repeal the Volstead and other enforcement acts any time it chooses. He contends there is no obligation on the part of Congress to enact enforcement legislation, that the eighteenth amendment merely confers the power to do so if Congress so wishes. However, "the right way to do it is to repeal the amendment," he said.

and was not seen alive again. Harmon also told how he had identified the partially decomposed body by the teeth, a belt buckle, and a wallet found in Thorne's pocket.

Dr. Boyd recited the facts revealed by the inquest, stating that the bullet in the head had caused Thorne's death. The Marine was also shot in the right shoulder and through the backbone. He declined to state how long the man had been dead.

The jury, which met in the firehouse at Greater Capitol Heights, was headed by Robert Carr. Other members were Paul Harris, Anderson J. Parks, Harvey Ferguson, Walter Radtke, John Barrett, Louis Sollers, Frank Kneas, Charles Good, George H. Morris, Van Moreland and Aloysius P. Geary.

Coolidge to Be Given Fireplace in Boston

Boston, April 13 (A.P.).—A fireplace which knew Calvin Coolidge as an ambitious and not too conspicuous member of the Massachusetts Legislature is to be his. It is the wish of Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston.

The Mayor struck the first blows in the razing of the old Adams House today, but before doing so he obtained the promise of the wrecking company taht the fire place in the two rooms and bath Mr. Coolidge occupied while serving as Northampton's representative in the Legislature would be kept intact so it could be sent to the former President.

Adams House was one of Boston's oldest hotels, and on its register had been written the signatures of many famous people.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT
Conducted by The Washington Post

Who Are the Champion Bridge Players of Washington?

The question has never been answered to the satisfaction of Washington's 25,000 bridge enthusiasts.

An opportunity to settle all arguments is now offered by The Washington Post.

Contract and Auction fans will be given a chance to test their skill.

The champion players of Washington, including a 25-mile radius, will be known, and rewarded with trophies donated by The Washington Post.

Separate tournaments will be provided for both experts and average players so that full opportunity will be given the newcomers to the game as well as the seasoned players to demonstrate their ability.

Details of the Tournament Will Be Developed Daily in The Washington Post

1. The tournament will be held May 14, 15 and 16 at the New Shoreham Hotel.

2. Entries will be accepted from persons living in Washington or within a twenty-five (25) mile radius.

3. Play will be conducted for teams of four, teams of two or individuals; or such parts of the foregoing plan as entries warrant.

4. The conduct of the tournament will be in the charge of a committee on arrangements. The committee's action in accepting entries, making rules and governing play shall be final.

5. Prizes to the winning teams and individuals will be awarded by The Washington Post.

6. The tournament will be divided into two classes: Class A for advanced players; Class B for intermediate players.

7. Play in both classes will be provided in both contract and auction bridge. Entrants should designate which form of the game—contract or auction—and which class they desire to enter.

8. Clubs and other organized groups of bridge players may enter one or more teams in any classification of the tournament.

WOMAN HIT BY AUTO DIES OF SKULL HURT

Mrs. W. J. Barbee Is Fatally Injured; Car Taking Her to Hospital Crashes.

Mrs. Mary Barbee, wife of W. J. Barbee, former detective of the police force, was fatally injured yesterday when knocked down by an automobile at ixteenth and U streets northwest, which was operated by William F. Robinson, colored, 29 years old, chauffeur for Alfred P. Thom, general counsel of the Association of Railway Executives.

A few minutes later Mrs. Barbee, who was 57 years old, was in an automobile being rushed to Garfield Hospital when the car collided with another car at Fifteenth and U street. She died of a fractured skull soon after her admission to the hospital.

Ran Into Auto Is Claim.

he left her residence in the Balfour Apartments, at 2000 Sixteenth street northwest, soon after 8:30, and, according to witnesses, she ran into theside of the automobile going west on U street, operated by Robinson.

The handle of a door threw Mrs. Barbee to the pavement. She was placed in an automobile driven by Charles Henry Boyd, of 1930 Fourteenth street. On the way to the hospital this car struck an automobile driven by Zachariah R. Lloyd, 48 years old, of 2618 University place northwest.

Mrs. Lloyd, wife of the driver of the second car, received a sprained ankle in the collision. Her injury was treated by a private physician.

Boyd said he attempted to cross the intersection of Fifteenth and U streets and was continually sounding the horn of his automobile to obtain the right of way when his car and Lloyd's struck.

Was on Way to Work.

Mrs. Barbee was on her way to work in the Treasury Department when the accident occurred. Robinson told police that he had crossed the intersection on a green light when Mrs. Barbee stepped from between two automobiles into the side of his automobile.

Robinson is being held for the inquest of a coroner's jury, which will be held at the Morgue today. Mr. Barbee is now a detective for a downtown department store. Olive Barbee, a daughter, is employed in the District playgrounds department.

William G. Barbee, jr., a son, was killed in 1926 in a shooting that occurred on a Hallow'een night at a Boy Scout camp near the Indian Spring Country Club.

ALBERT C. BAKER.

BAKER SURRENDERS, SAYS HE SLEW WIFE

and was forced to break up his home. For a short time he lived in the Mission House until he found a position in the Department of Agriculture at Somerset, Md.

With his meager salary he established a home in a basement apartment on O street near Eighth street northwest; but his wife refused to accept his home, he said, and lived apart from him and the children.

"On April 2," he said, "I got to the apartment about 5 o'clock and my oldest boy was there. My wife said: 'I am going out.' I asked her to stay to hear some of the recitations my boy had composed the night before. She called me a fool and flew into a rage.

"We had an argument and when she started to go I shot her; but I did not think that I had killed her."

Baker said he then walked a few blocks from his home and was about to kill himself when he thought of his children. He later walked to Glovers Park, a woody section near Reservoir and Forty-fourth street northwest, and spent the night in the woods.

During his refuge in the woods he again raised the gun to his head, he said, but the thought of his children deterred him. He read of his wife's death in the morning papers.

He spent several days in the city and was about to surrender at the Second Precinct when he decided to assure himself that his children would be cared for and went to his brother's home in Cedon, Va., 20 miles south of Fredericksburg. His brother advised him to surrender.

Baker said he purchased the gun with which he killed his wife when he heard she was going with another man and he was trying to locate her to bring her to the children. He said he heard the man with whom she was keeping company was a "bad fellow," and he intended to use the gun for self-protection.

He told detectives he threw the gun in the woods in the Georgetown section. Detectives searched unsuccessfully for more than two hours for the weapon.

Baker will appear at a coroner's inquest at the morgue today.

The Baker children were dyeing Easter eggs when their mother was killed. Several hours later the children were found huddled in the W. B. & A. Station, where they sought refuge from the cold.

FINALISTS CHOSEN IN ESSAY CONTEST

12 Boys and Girls to Take Part in Ceremonial Test Saturday.

girl who took part in Saturday's test is urged to be present at the final test next Saturday.

Mrs. Jacob Leander Loose, patroness of the boy and girl who will represent the schools of Washington on the good-will trip to London and Paris, will be guest of honor at Saturday's meeting, and prominent officials of the Government, together with high-ranking Army, Navy and Marine officers, as well as members of the Diplomatic Corps and others prominent socially in the Capital, will be among the guests who will attend the ceremonies.

To Visit London, Paris.

The two winners will be part of a party of 83 boys and girls, representing a "living flag" who will go to London and Paris for the purpose of extending good-will messages to the children of these two countries, who will some day be the rulers of those same countries. There will be good-will mass meetings at both London and Paris, which will be broadcast across the Atlantic, and, through a special hookup on this side, to all parts of the United States.

Preceding the European trip, the children will be guests on a patriotic pilgrimmage to points of American historical interest, including Fort McHenry, where Francis Scott Key was inspired to write "The Star-Spangled Banner," Valley Forge, where Washington's soldiers, the rag-wrapped feet leaving trails of blood in the snow, still carried on to ultimate victory, and Philadelphia, where the Liberty Bell first proclaimed freedom to all the land.

Parents and teachers breathed easier yesterday with the end of the preliminary test. Prior to that time thousands of boys and girls were still in the contest and were not only working as hard as possible, but were haunting parents and teachers for further information.

That the contest has attracted more attention than any similar event ever held in the schools here was the statement of one teacher. "I believe every eligible boy and girl in the school was entered," she said, "and for a time it appeared as if The Washington Post were to become a regular text book in the school."

POLICE HOLD YOUTHS IN FIRES AND THEFTS

a quantity of shellac on the floors of the Hilton-Carbery School after the fire on April 4. The fire is alleged to have been traced to the group and the arrests began on Sunday.

In rapid succession the following youths were taken in custody: Edgar W. Wilkinson, 17 years old, of B street near Third street southeast; his brother, Bernard, 15 years old; Richard R. Martin, 14 years old, of Fourth street near B street southeast; an 11-year-old boy; Rozier L. Carter, 15 years old, of Eighth street near East Capitol street southeast; George E. Bowles, 18 years old, of Sixth street near E street northeast. Solon, the alleged ringleader, was arrested early yesterday.

Solon is said to have admitted that he started the fire in th Hilton-Carbery School. He is also said to have admitted trying to ignite the Ingraham Memorial Church, at Tenth and Massachusetts avenue northeast. He told Patrolman Malone that he stuffed paper on the inside of a roll top desk but the flames were smothered before they could make any headway.

Set Sheds Afire, Is Claim.

Within 10 days, he is quoted as having admitted setting fire to a row of sheds in the rear of 223 A street southeast. Later, he said, he stole a truck and set it afire in an alley between Sixth and Seventh streets and East Capitol and A streets southeast. He is booked on this charge at headquarters.

Solon also is reputed to have confessed to igniting a house at 607 A street northeast, which caused $1,000 damages. Patrolman Malone said that the alleged pyromaniac also set sheds afire in the rear of the 200 block of Fourteenth streets southeast.

To the band is also traced a series of false alarms in the past three months in the southeast section. Solon admitted, the investigators said, that he took shellac from the carpenter's shop in the Hilton-Carbery School and used it to ignite the cloak room.

Law Held No Terrors.

The law apparently held no terror for the group, for it is said they admitted stealing a car from the garage of Sergt. T. G. Delhouse, of the Fifth Precinct, taking it on a joy ride and abandoning it the following day.

Without any trepidation young Carter and Edgar Wilkinson are said to have admitted that they had been disturbed by a polceman while in the act of stealing an automobile in the Eleventh Precinct. They fled and the policeman sent several shots in their direction.

While the entire group did not participate in every robbery, the jobs which they collectively admitted are: Looting of desks and savings banks in Hilton-Carbery School, Edmond School, Lovejoy School, Bryan School, Peabody School, and the looting of poor boxes in St. Peter's Church and the Waugh M. E. Church.

Maryland Police Plan Drive on Bad Car Lights

Maryland State Police have issued a warning that a campaign against cars with improper lights, will be inaugurated tomorrow night, and that all drivers of autos with one light out or dazzling headlights will be arrested. The practice of warning the offenders will be discontinued for an indefinite period.

While realizing that a determined drive will work a hardship on innocent drivers who may not know that one light is out, police are determined to drive improperly lighted cars off the highways. The tightening up of regulations will apply to both Maryland drivers and those from other States.

DR. JOHN A. FOOTE RITES TO BE TODAY

Friends and Associates Will Be Pallbearers in Dahlgren Chapel.

Funeral services for Dr. John A. Foote, Washington physician and educator, who died Sunday, will be held at 10 o'clock this morning in Dahlgren Chapel at Georgetown College. The Rev. Dr. W. Coleman Nevils, S. J., president of Georgetown University, where Dr. Foote was dean of the medical department, will be the celebrant at the mass.

The services will be attended by about 50 honorary and active pallbearers, numbered among Dr. Foote's friends and associates during 25 years of practice and teaching in Washington. Burial will follow in Holy Rood Cemetery.

The Medical Society of the District, of which he formerly was president, will be represented by a committee appointed by Dr. William H. Hough, now president, and consisting of Dr. Joseph S. Wall, Dr. Edgar P. Copeland, Dr. James A. Gannon, Dr. H. P. Donnelly and Dr. Prentiss Willson, and 17 past presidents. The active pallbearers will be Dr. John F. Hunter, Dr. Harry H. Kerr, Dr. George T. Vaughn, Dr. William Hird and Dr. Charles Crawford.

The offices of the National Geographic Society will be closed this morning in respect to the memory of Dr. Foote. He has been health officer of the society for twenty years and a member of the board of trustees since 1924.

Kinsmen Will Get Sherman's Estate

Attorney Also Bequeaths Sums to Farm Hands and Employes.

Four cousins and the children of a fifth cousin will receive, in equal parts, the large estate left by Raleigh S. Sherman, Washington lawyer, who died April 11, his will, filed yesterday, shows. The cousins are Victor M. Smith, Harry F. Smith, Louis R. Smith, and Henry P. Millar. The two other major heirs, Elizabeth P. Norgore and Marcellus N. Stow, will share the remaining one-fifth.

There is no estimate of the size of the estate. The petition for probate, which will be filed within a short time, will show the extent of Mr. Sherman's holdings.

Among the specific bequests made in the will is one that gives to Emory Summers, of Sharpsburg, Md., the home of Mr. Sherman, the home where Summers now resides. "Summers was the slave of grandfather," the will states. The Reformed Church at Sharpsburg, and a score of cousins and farm hands, in addition to household employes are named as receiving bequests. The estate is to be liquidated and the cash receipts given over to the heirs.

killed and one member of his patrol wounded by armed bandits who appeared early Saturday morning at Logtown, 120 kilometers from Puerto Cabezas on Bragman's Bluff lumber company's railroad.

"Another Guardia patrol under Lieut. Darrah, of the Marine corps, left immediately for the scene and was cut off by a large group of outlaws with which he fought all night and Sunday morning.

"Assisted by two bombing planes from the Marine brigade Lieut. Darrah extricated himself and his patrol, having one man wounded."

73 QUAKE REFUGEES ASHORE AT NORFOLK

Washington Woman Is First to Land; Red Cross Takes Charge.

Norfolk, Va., April 13 (A.P.).—The National transport Chaumont, with 73 refugees from quake stricken Managua aboard, docked at the Hampton Roads naval operating base today shortly before noon.

The refugee groups was composed of 43 children and 30 women, most of them members of families of marines and naval personnel stationed in the Managua area.

The Norfolk Chapter of the American Red Cross took charge of the refugees as soon as they were landed from the Chaumont and is supervising their transfer to train and boat for transportation to their respective homes.

While survivors of the Managua disaster had but little baggage, practically all of them were possessed of the money necessary to pay their expenses to homes in the States. Only three families needed financial assistance from the local Red Cross.

100 Officers Are Passengers.

In addition to the refugees, the Chaumont also had as passengers approximately 100 naval and marine officers from the West Coast who have been transferred to this area.

The decks of the vessel were lined with refugees who waved gaily to relatives and friends gathered upon the docks to greet them. The first of the Managua survivors to come ashore was Mrs. J. C. Donahue, wife of Lieut. Donahue, with her little daughter, Mary, in her arms.

"It was terrible," said Mrs. Donahue. "Everything was moving along in its usual course when all at once it sounded as though all the world was shaking to pieces. Great clouds of dust from the falling buildings almost shut out the view of the sun."

"Whole World Started Trempling."

Mrs. Donahue leaves this afternoon for her home in Washington, D. C.

Another of the refugees was Mrs. Dolores Hurst, wife of Sergt. N. E. Hurst, with her four children—June, Joan, Frank and Donald.

"I was sitting on the front porch," said Mrs. Hurst, "when the quake started. Three of my children were with me. The other was playing in the yard. Suddenly the whole world started trembling. Houses began to fall. People were screaming everywhere."

Mrs. Hurst and her children—they comprise the largest family of refugees aboard—leave tomorrow for her husband's home in Beatrice, Nebr.

Lillian Roth, Actress, Wed to Pittsburgh Man

Atlanta, Ga., April 13 (A.P.).—The Rev. W. H. Faust, Baptist minister, said today Miss Lillian Roth, film actress, and William C. Scott, of Pittsburgh, were married by him at his home here Saturday night, after which they left, announcing New York as their destination.

Miss Roth completed a personal appearance vaudevill tour here Friday night.

Drought Relief Goods Stolen in Harrisonburg

Special to The Washington Post.

Harrisonburg, Va., April 13.—Another candidate for the meanest thief role: Someone broke into the drought relief headquarters of the Rockingham Red Cross Chapter here early today and stole $50 worth of used clothing, which would have been free for the asking. Included in the loot was a bathrobe.

The relief headquarters has been supplying food, fuel and clothing to 475 Rockingham families for the last three months, receiving $1,000 monthly from the National Red Cross.

PROGRAM TO MARK UNION OF AMERICAS

Hoover to Lead Observance of Pan-American Day in Midday Address.

Hands of the two Americas will be more firmly clasped today when Pan-American Day, marking the date on which the South American countries were united with the United States 41 years ago, is celebrated in Washington and throughout the Nation.

President Hoover will lead the observance. At 12:30 o'clock, he will address the board of governors of the Pan-American Union. His address will be followed by remarks from Secretary of State Stimson, who is chairman of the board, and by the Mexican Ambassador, Manuel C. Tellez, dean of the Diplomatic Corps in Washington. The session will be broadcast by a nationwide radio hookup.

Students to Participate.

Afterward, Washington university and high school students will participate in exercises in the Hall of Americas. Dr. Orestes Ferrara Cuban Ambassador, will address the students on the significance of the Pan-American movement. Brief remarks will be made by Carlos G. Lee, of Chile, a student at Georgetown University, and Edwin McClintock, of Western High School. Members of the governing board will be introduced by Dr. L. S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American Union.

Student representatives of Washington schools and colleges attending the exercises will be presented with miniature standards, containing the flags of the 21 American republics, by Secretary Stimson. The exercises at the Pan-American Union will be concluded with the planting of a commemorative tree by members of the board of governors.

School Officials to Attend.

School officials and members of the Board of Education will attend the exercises. Prior to the speeches, a concert will be given by the United States Navy Band under the direction of Lieut. Charles Benter. A program of Latin-American music by the United States Marine Band and assisting artists, will be given at the Pan-American Union this evening. Members of the diplomatic corps, officials of the Government and other dignitaries have been invited to attend.

Observance of Pan-American Day will be recognized at the opening of the American League baseball season at Griffith Stadium with an impressive flag ceremony. Flags of each of the 21 countries of the Pan-American Union will be raised to the accompaniment of a cannon shot salute and the playing of part of the national anthem of each respective country. Forty seconds will be allotted for the display of each flag, the entire ceremony consuming but 15 minutes.

WEDDERBURN MOVES TO HALT USURY SUIT

Alleges Case Filed by Evans Executors Has Seven Fatal Flaws.

John Wedderburn, against whom Arthur L. Evans and Karen G. Evans, executors of the estate of the late Victor J. Evans, brought suit two weeks ago, alleging that he had made loans to Mr. Evans at a figure said to have been excessive, yesterday filed an "alternative motion to dismiss or strike" the suit.

Seven general flaws were named as having been found in the suit, Mr. Wedderburn declared through attorney W. C. Sullivan.

These flaws, he said, were the failure to name Arthur L. Evans, a trustee, as a party defendant, and a misconception by the plaintiffs of their remedy for the so-called grievances contained in the suit.

He also said that "no action accrues under a claim of usury until after the lender has actually collected or received more than the original debt with legal interest." There has "been no tender of payment" and "the insolvency of this defendant or his ability to respond in damages is not claimed in the bill." The claim is also made, in Mr. Wedderburn's reply, that the "charge of usury is entirely too general" and that the suit, "if it could be maintained at all is brought prematurely."

Liquor Conspiracy Case Delayed to Wednesday

Trial of nineteen defendants in a liquor conspiracy case, scheduled to have begun yesterday, was postponed for two days when Justice Oscar Luhring, before whom it is to be heard, became involved in a lengthy law suit.

The case was about ready for hearing when it was found that the judge could not sit until Wednesday. James R. Kirkland and John J. Wilson, assistant United States attorneys, are handling the case for the Government.

Speaker to Bare Propaganda Plot

Former Nobleman Praises Post's Editorials Against Reds.

How Soviet Russia directs the spread of red propaganda in this country will be revealed by Baron Eugene Fersen, a former Russian nobleman, now a citizen of the United States, at the Masonic Temple Auditorium tonight, according to an announcement from the National Patriotic League of America, under whose auspices the address will be made.

Baron Fersen has predicted that the hour of world revolution will be marked by the converging of the Soviet five-year plan and the "destructive of propaganda that is being spread throughout the United States." He declares that the plan and the propaganda are so correlated as to meet at a certain time when both will be ripe.

Describing America as having sunken into a state of complacency so far as the red menace is concerned, Baron Fersen said in an interview, that The Washington Post is doing more than any other paper, through editorials against communism, to awaken America from her lethargy. "These editorials," he declares, "have won my profound admiration."

Court Delays Trial of Five in Blackmail Case

Justice Jesse C. Atkins yesterday postponed for one week trial of W. Clark Noble, noted sculptor, and four others who were to have stood trial on blackmail charges. The five are said to have conspired to blackmail Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Calhoun.

Others who are scheduled to stand trial are Mrs. Emelie Noble, Stephen F. Armstrong, jr., Anne M. Hillenbrand and James F. Bird.

CLICQUOT is America's lowest priced Nationally Known GINGER ALE

Here are the facts about ginger ale price and quantity:

Most nationally known ginger ales come in smaller-than-pint bottles labelled as containing 12 ounces. These bottles are, of course, not pints at all.

Clicquot Club Pale Dry and Clicquot Club Golden are always packed in full-measure, full-pint bottles containing 16 ounces.

At 14¢, 15¢ or 16¢ or whatever price you pay for a bottle of ginger ale, look at the label and see if you are getting a full 16 ounces or 12.

Ounce for ounce, Clicquot Club offers you EXTRA value as well as EXTRA quality and flavor.

It is America's finest as well as America's lowest priced nationally known ginger ale.

JOHNSON INDORSES POST-ZAIN CONTEST

Good Opportunity Offered for Amateur Ad-Writing Prizes, He Says.

Walter Johnson, colorful manager of the Washington Baseball Club, paused yesterday in drilling his team for their opening contest here to indorse The Post-Zain Amateur Ad Writing Contest, as "an educational stimulant to Washington business."

The "Big Train" said he knows personally most of the 35 advertisers cooperating in the contest. He said he would try his own hand at amateur ad writing before the contest closes.

"It should be an excellent opportunity for almost anybody to put their ideas on paper and win some money," said the veteran pitcher. "I may try it myself when I have a little more time."

Incidentally, Johnson thought his team looked better this year than at any time since he has been with it. He said he thought it could be relied on in the pinches.

Makes Motto Suggestion.

"You know the old saying, a winner never quits and a quitter never wins," said the most popular manager in baseball's history.

The "Big Train" suggested the same motto might be applied to Post-Zain fans who fail to win money or prizes in the first week of the contest, closing Wedneseday midnight. There are six more weeks of the contest, remember, with a $100 cash award each week and 175 prizes in merchandise, 5 from each of the 35 advertisers.

So, dash off an ad about one or all of the 35 while you are relaxing between the innings at today's game. Who knows, you may win not only the weekly awards, but the $1,000 cash prize that will be given for the best amateur ad written during all seven weeks of the contest.

Baseball enthusiasts who are good at "doping" the games and the pitchers, should also excel at amateur ad-writing, where all it takes is a little headwork. All one needs is the idea, a pencil and paper. And you should have all these with you at today's game.

Judges Meet Thursday.

The first week's entries must be in the hands of the Post-Zain Ad Writing Contest Editor by midnight tomorrow, but if your ad is late it will count for you just the same. Automatically it will be considered in the seecond week's judging.

Judges, all professional advertising men, will meet Thursday to go over the first week's ads, and results will be announced in Friday's Post.

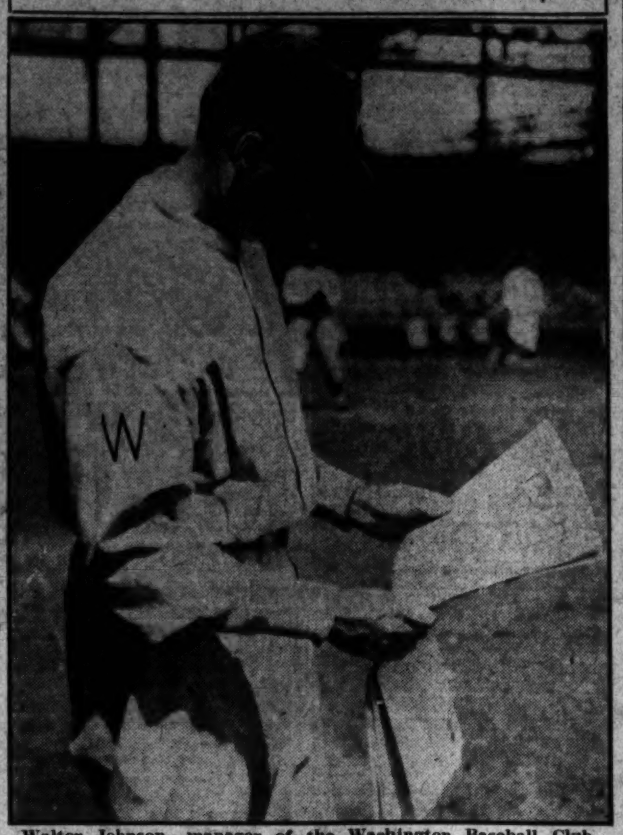
Remember in writing your ad to put the name of the advertiser in the upper left-hand corner of a piece of paper about twice the size of a postcard. Write your ad on the same page, and your name and address and telephone number on the reverse side, and also on the envelope. Write your ads on separate pieces of paper, but put as many as you want in the same envelope.

We have told you before that there is no limit to the number of prizes you can win or the number of ads you can submit, so it would be a good plan to increase your chance by writing a great many ads about most of our advertisers.

Hints on Ad Writing.

In writing an ad on the Washington Building, at New York avenue, Fifteenth and G streets northwest, it might be well to mention the desirable location of this up-to-date structure as an office site. Associated Baker Unions emphasize the superior qualities of union-made bread, and most Washington-made bread is union-made. There is another likely ad subject in Boyd Business University. The university trains its students to fill with satisfaction positions of an executive and secretarial nature. And there is Wardman Park Hotel, and the Carlton Hotel, entered as a unit in our contest, as an exclusive subject for an exclusive ad.

"BIG TRAIN" SCANNING RULES



Walter Johnson, manager of the Washington Baseball Club, interrupts training for today's game to scan the rules of The— Post-Zain Amateur Ad-Writing Contest in yesterday's Post. Manager Johnson wholeheartedly indorsed the contest and intimated that he himself will try his hand at amateur ad-writing before the competition is closed.

RULES FOR CONTEST

1—$10,000 in prizes to be distributed over seven weeks of amateur ad writing.

2—$1,000 in cash will be given for the best ad written by an amateur during the entire Post-Zain ad-writing campaign. To compete for this prize it will be necessary for contestants to write at least one ad about each of the 35 firms participating in the ad contest.

3—Grand weekly award of $100 will be given each week for the best ads during six periods of the ad-writing contest.

4—Five merchandise prizes for each of the 35 concerns will be given weekly during six weeks of the campaign.

5—Ads for the first week of the Post-Zahn ad-writing campaign must be received prior to noon, Wednesday, April 15.

6—Ads submitted in competition for the grand award of $1,000 must be received prior to midnight, May 27.

7—Any one anywhere may compete for the prizes with the exception of newspaper employes and members of the advertising profession.

8—There are no obligations. No coupons to clip, no entrance fees to pay, no subscriptions to buy. One person may submit as many ads as he chooses. The more ads you write, the more prizes you may receive. The Post-Zain ad-writing contest may be entered at any time. Ads may be written about one or all concerns.

9—Write your ideas on one side only of a sheet of paper at least twice the size of a postcard. Place the name of the concern about which you are writing in the upper left-hand corner of the page. Place your own name and address, also telephone number, on the reverse of the advertisement and the envelope. Your contribution may be a slogan, a poem, a regular advertisement, a letter of testimonial, or an essay.

10—Winning advertisements will be selected by a committee of advertising experts. In the event of a tie, awards will be made to both.

11—All advertisements received become the property of the concerns about which they are written.

Ad-Writing Suggestions.

Prizes are given for ideas, not for grammar, spelling, punctuation, art work or layout.

Your idease are likely to be new and original; your idea may win one or more prizes.

If you are not familiar with the advertisers about whom you are asked to write ads, study their service and merchandise; visit their shops, ask questions, and then jot down your ideas simply. Be brief and to the point.

If you can write a letter, you can write an ad. Get members of your family and your friends interested. Encourage them to write winning ads.

GRAPE JUICE FIRMS MAY BE PROSECUTED

Prohibition Director Says Intent to Make Liquor Will Provoke Action.

(Associated Press.)

Prohibition Director Woodcock served notice yesterday that the makers of grape concentrates fermentable into wine will be prosecuted whenever it can be proved their product is sold with "intent" that it become "intoxicating in fact."

The dismissal of a Federal dry agent, Carol T. Byrd, of St. Louis, on a charge of "brutality" also was announced by Col. Woodcock.

In answer to a letter from the Washington headquarters of the Crusaders, the Federal dry chief reiterated his stand upon the sale of grape concentrates.

Col. Woodcock replied that prosecutions against grape concentrate concerns would be made as soon as "intent" could be proved, but added that "the practical difficulty of the proof of such unlawful intent" often constituted a problem. He pointed, however, to prosecutions under way in Kansas City and Los Angeles.

"You ask me," he concluded, "if I believe 'that the sale of a product on the expectation that it will develop 12 to 20 per cent alcohol is in keeping with the spirit of the eighteenth amendment.' I do not."

Referring to Byrd's dismissal, he said Byrd had assaulted an entirely innocent person in a restaurant in front of a speakeasy during a St. Louis raid. He added it was "always a shock" to discover cases of this kind, but that "it is probably worse to have things like this happen without knowing about it."

In an effort to improve morale among the present force of 1,750 agents, Col. Woodcock said the Prohibition Bureau intends to start publishing a weekly newspaper, giving information about the service, which will be sent to the entire personnel.

Police Probe 2 Blazes On Lightbown Estate

Chief Samuel Tayman of the Cottage City Fire Department is making an investigation of two fires in the last two days which damaged outbuildings on the Charles S. Lightbown property on Ross street. A blaze last night destroyed a paint shed, causing damage estimated at $170.

Sunday night a fire damaged a pump shed on the same estate. Firemen believe the blazes may have been set by children in the neighborhood. No definite signs of incendiarism were found last night, but the building was almost destroyed when firemen were called.

Cattleman Friend Of Notables Is Dead

Chicago, April 13 (A.P.).—"Happy Jack" Hill, known alike to English lords and Western cattlemen for his hospitality, died today at 60 from a heart attack.

Formerly known as John A. Hill, for the last 30 years he had been manager of the Stock Yards Inn and the Siddle and Sirloin Club. Numbered among his friends were Sir Thomas Lipton, the Calvin Coolidges and numerous cattlemen. Fifteen years ago he reorganized the national park hotels system at the behest of the Government.

As a consequence, when Pilot George Cobb, of Miami, Fla., takes off tomorrow with the weekly air mail to the United States, he will carry with him a special envelope, bearing the legend "On His Majesty's Service," and addressed to the prince, who is aboard the steamer Arlanza.

When Cobb overtakes the steamer at Bahia tomorrow afternoon the keys will be returned to their owner.

Bar Association to Hear Talk on Hunting Bears

Grizzly bear hunting in the Rocky Mountains will be the topic of an address by Seth W. Richardson, Assistant Attorney General, before the Federal Bar Association tonight at the University Club at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Richardson, an ardent big game sportsman, recently returned from a sojourn in the Rockies. William H. McReynolds, director of the personnel classification board, will atddress the association on the work of the board and outline a comparison in the wage scales of the Government and private concerns. James Grafton Rogers, newly appointed Assistant Secretary of State, will also speak.

Hungarian Scientist to Speak.

Dr. Ladislaus Detre, Hungarian bacteriologist and biblical scholar, will address the Round Table at the Community Center tonight, starting at 8:30 o'clock. His topic will be "A Jewish Interpretation of the New New Testament." Dr. Abram Simon, rabbi of the Washington Hebrew Congregation, will lead the ensuing discussion and participate in the explanation of the subject.

CABINET QUITS, WAR IS LOOMING IN SPAIN

in London or Paris persistently sweep the city. Government officials themselves seemed bewildered and some of the king's closest advisors frankly confessed they did not know what should be done.

Niceto Alcala Zamora, one of the chiefs of the December revolt, gave an interview to the Associated Press in which he said:

"The king must go immediately. There is no other solution. Sunday's elections are unique in Spanish history. The country has found a means of overthrowing the unbearable regime by legal methods and has taken its first opportunity to do so. This is a civic lesson from the Spanish people in political self-education. The result has surprised many, but not me, for I always had faith in all my people."

Socialist labor headquarters already has prepared blanket orders for a general strike throughout Spain, to be made effective immediately if another dictatorship is attempted or if the king refuses Alcala Zamora's ultimatum for immediate recognition of a Spanish republic. It would mean the cessation of all industry, transportation and public utilities in the nation until the monarch yielded.

Civil War Threatens.

Heretofore the government has been able in an emergency to count on a military dictatorship, but today that would apparently throw the country into virtual civil war. In addition, the army and the church, formerly the strongest supports of the monarchy, are both divided at present. The Republicans won the city of Toledo, the heart of Spanish Catholicism.

High church dignitaries urged adoption of the monarchist tickets before the elections, but on election day many priests were believed to have voted Republican. Similarly, most of the highest army officers are monarchists, but from colonels or captains down the forces are full of Republicans.

Any course the king follows was believed to mean sooner or later the end of his dynasty.

Four Possible Solutions.

Those conversant with the situation saw four possible solutions:

1. Abdication, which would settle the matter once and for all.

2. Appointment of a new temporary cabinet to weather the storm.

3. Execution of his program for district and general and parliamentary elections. Inasmuch as the republicans have shown their strength, such an alternative would mean a Republican parliament proclaiming a constitutional republic and ousting the king.

4. Declaration of another military dictatorship, which would be answered by a general strike and probably civil war.

Are you playing fair with your Tea Kettle?

After all, a tea kettle has some rights! And simply because folks haven't respected these rights, many a poor kettle has cracked up and gone to pieces long before his time.

Right now, when the furnace coil starts his 6 months' vacation, is the time when a tea kettle suffers most. Someone suddenly discovers that the "hot" faucets are running cold. And from then on the kettle is up to his neck in hot water.

Poor devil! First it's hot water for shaving. Then hot water for dishwashing, scrubbing floors, cleaning tiles, windows, fixtures, "washing out a few things"—is it any wonder he finally boils over with rage? Now, please be reasonable. You wouldn't ask a boy to do a man's-size job. Don't expect a kettle to do the work of a boiler. You can have hot water—all you want—day or night at the turn of a faucet. Simply install a thrifty, carefree Self-Action Gas Water Heater. It operates for a few pennies a day . . . automatically!

Five dollars down and the balance in easy monthly payments with no extra charge for financing. You can have an allowance of $10 on your old heater, too. Drop in at any of our showrooms.

ILLINOIS WET BILL VETOED.

Gov. Emmerson's veto of the Illinois bill repealing the State prohibition enforcement law is a staggering setback to the wets of that State. The bill was passed in the House by a vote of 91 to 56, and in the Senate by 26 to 24. Evidently it will be impossible to set aside the veto.

The governor does not mince words in his veto message. He describes the bill as an attempted repudiation of the eighteenth amendment—in other words, an attempt to nullify Federal authority. "Repeal of the Illinois prohibition act," he says, "would leave Illinois, for the first time in its history, without any State law for the control or regulation of intoxicating beverages. The supreme court of this State has said that the Illinois prohibition act was a revision of the whole subject under the amendment to the Federal Constitution and was intended as a substitute for and to repeal all existing law on that subject." Since the law of Illinois provides that no law repealed shall be revived by repeal of the repealing act, the effect of the bill just vetoed would have been to wipe out all law relating to prohibition.

The Legislature was brought to the point of passing the repeal bill by the popular vote of last year demanding repeal of the enforcement law. Gov. Emmerson's message exposes the difficulty of law-making by referendum. The people can not make law effectively, because they must vote yes or no upon a naked proposition which may not be properly framed. Probably a large percentage of the citizens who voted for repeal were not aware of the legal consequences of repeal. They thought they were merely voting "wet."

While a State has power to concur with Congress in legislating to enforce the eighteenth amendment, no State can repeal or nullify Federal law on the subject. The Volstead act is valid in every State, whether it has an enforcement act or not. If the Illinois bill attempted to set aside any portion of the Federal law it was of course a futile attempt at nullification.

SPAIN IN TRANSITION.

If King Alfonso is facing the severest test which the stability of the monarchy has encountered it must be remembered, also, that he has a hold upon the hearts of a very large part of the people of Spain that is unique. The attitude of Spaniards toward their king is not well understood by foreigners. The proud Spanish spirit respects a king, but it does not cringe before royalty. A Spaniard can talk to his king as man to man.

The strength of the republican movement in Spain as disclosed by the election returns of Sunday is, of course, largely due to resentment toward the king for the establishment of the dictatorship. Alfonso was responsible for that, but he also issued the decree restoring civil rights, which made the municipal elections possible.

Intelligent observers hold that the dictatorship of Gen. Primo de Rivera, however it may be criticized otherwise, must be credited with three important services—the termination of the Morocco troubles, establishment of comprehensive economic reforms, and a six-year peace in the labor world. Under this military ruler Spain passed through a critical period and emerged with national strength and added international prestige.

The demand for liberalization of the Spanish constitution and the movement toward peaceful solution of democratic aims was interrupted by the closing of the Cortes in 1923. Later attempts to remedy the situation through a constitutional reform committee were abortive. When an appeal to military commanders failed to secure support for the dictator and his policies he was succeeded by Don Damaso Berenguer, who in one day formed a cabinet, and a new deluge of decrees descended upon Spain. With the change of regime public opposition grew more pronounced.

It is the Spanish tradition that the king derives his sovereignty only as the representative of his people. The oath of fealty, taken by members of the Cortes as far back as 1187, contained this clause: "We and you are equal, but we accept you as king provided that you uphold the law and if not, no." Spanish kings of the past have not always lived up to the letter of that relationship, by any means, but they never departed from it sufficiently to destroy popular support of the monarchist principle.

More complete returns from Sunday's elections and the extent of the republican victory will largely determine the course of future events in Spain. It is difficult to believe that the country is ready for an overturn of the monarchy, to which it has been attached through the centuries. Nevertheless advocates of a republic, together with the activity of the Socialist party, have gained many converts to the belief in needed reforms. A compromise may be reached by the liberalization of the constitution and complete restoration of civil rights under the king.

PUBLIC RIGHTS IN OIL.

A question which is certain to have a vital influence upon the future of the oil industry has been raised by Senator Borah. By what method will the public interest be protected when the plans for rigid control of production by the States and of imports by the Government have been put into effect? The success or failure of the so-called stabilization program will probably hinge on the answer to this question.

The entire movement for the proration of domestic output and the limitation of imports is being carried out with a view to the welfare of oil producers. Not many months ago the Federal Conservation Board was advocating an increase of imports to diminish the heavy drain upon the domestic oil supply. Now that policy has been reversed, and the board is cooperating with the importers in a limitation program. The board has given its approval of the proposed interstate agreement through which State governments intend to curtail the output of oil in accordance with market demands. Both of these projects conflict with the spirit, if not with the letter, of the antitrust laws.

Conservation is urgent. The waste involved in bringing oil to the surface and refining it is appalling. But the public will not tolerate any corrective program which puts the great oil interests in a position to charge monopoly prices for their products. Apparently production must be limited by public authority to save this valuable resource from reckless exploitation. But it must be done in such a way as to protect the interests of the public and the Nation.

Oil has come to be so indispensable to industry and to national defense that it may be regarded as a public utility without stretching that term. The Supreme Court has said that "property becomes clothed with public interest when used in a manner to make it of public consequence and affect the community at large." The United States is drawing upon its limited oil reserves many times faster than any other oil-producing country. Yet oil is being exported and the Conservation Board is trying to cut down imports.

The national and the public interest in this question should be considered first. If the board is trying to conserve American oil, why does it cooperate in reducing imports? If the board had the welfare of the people in mind, how could it agree to control of production with no regulation of price? The maintenance of gasoline prices at or near their former level when crude oil prices have undergone drastic cuts in recent years suggests that prices are already controlled by the great oil corporations. In the face of this fact it is absurd to talk of limiting production without extending some kind of protection to the consumer.

Efforts to solve the problem for the exclusive interest of the oil producers are bound to fail. Senator Borah's determined stand against leaving the consumers out in the cold foreshadows a fight in Congress if the proposed interstate compact does not set up the proper safeguards. The American people will not stand by and see the oil industry immunized from the antitrust laws without demanding rigid regulation of the industry.

THE DEMAND FOR GOLD.

It appears something of an anomaly that in times of depression gold mining should be stimulated to increase production. But with nearly all the world today upon a gold basis it is a natural result. Gold maintains a fixed value and as the prices of commodities inevitably fall during a period of hard times the gold dollar will buy more of all the other things that the industry of man produces.

The greater purchasing power enjoyed by every ounce of gold speeds up gold mining and immediately the shares of gold mining companies are enhanced in value. The New York Stock Exchange and the curb market show response to the increasing gold output. Shares of South African, Canadian and American companies almost without exception record substantial upward trends. The number of gold mining companies whose stock is traded in on the exchanges in New York is comparatively limited, owing to the speculative character of such enterprises, and because of many fraudulent projects which the lure of gold has enabled unscrupulous promoters to foist upon the public.

Gold is so firmly established as the world's measure of values, and the steadily increasing needs of the world's business for actual stocks of the yellow metal are so apparent, that greater production must be considered distinctly advantageous. The fact that business depression stimulates mining by making gold recovery more profitable to the companies so engaged is one of the apparent contradictions occasionally encountered in business and finance.

Not only is gold worth relatively more as commodity prices decline, but mining costs of all kinds are lower in times of depression. Thus deposits of low gold content can be worked at a profit not possible in times of higher costs. This is possible because a fine Troy ounce of gold, 480 grains, by Federal law is always worth $20.67183462. That is figuring it out pretty fine, but it means that your American dollar, no matter what form it takes, is always worth 100 cents.

SENATE IMPEACHMENTS.

Senator Bingham's suggestion that the power to start impeachment proceedings be extended to the Senate is not likely to meet with public approval. It is difficult to recall any incident in the history of the United States when the public interest could have been better served through the initiation of an impeachment by the Senate.

The chief complaint of Senator Bingham is that the House is reluctant to impeach "an appointee of any President whose election has carried into office a majority of the House." Senators, he contends, are less influenced by presidential politics, because only one-third of them are elected at one time. Being much more willing to criticize the administration, the Senate, he thinks, should have authority to make its influence felt through impeachment proceedings.

Senator Bingham seems to have misconstrued the nature of impeachments. This is a weapon to be used with the greatest discretion and restraint. It is a credit to the good judgment of the House that impeachment is not frequently employed as a political weapon. Under ordinary circumstances the President, who is directly responsible to the people, can be relied upon to dismiss any appointed official who has betrayed his trust. Only gross malfeasance in office justifies an impeachment.

The fact that Senator Bingham's suggestion is an outgrowth of the attempt of a political bloc to remove Dr. George Otis Smith as chairman of the Federal Power Commission makes it particularly distasteful. The senator thinks that the method used in trying to oust Dr. Smith is unconstitutional. Apparently he wants to change the Constitution so that Senate blocs may lawfully bludgeon presidential appointees who insist on following the law rather than the dictates of politicians.

Senator Bingham admits that the willingness of the Senate to go as far as it can in bringing charges against the executive officials has destroyed its effectiveness as a court of impeachment. Why, then, does he wish to confer upon the Senate the power to impeach? The recent history of the Senate indicates that this power would be grossly abused.

Col. Woodcock intends to prosecute vendors of grape juice where there is evidence of "unlawful intent." This calls for the invention of a device to reveal the inner workings of the bootlegger's mind.

Experts on noise abatement have concluded that rattles in automobiles are detrimental to health. It may be assumed that this includes noises heard from the rear seat.

It's difficult for the public to realize that the world convention for the blind in New York is not a political gathering.

Spain is all excited about King Alfonso's prospects of joining the ranks of the unemployed.

JOEL BARLOW

From the New York Times.

Of that eighteenth century group of once famous Hartford Wits, some eminent in public affairs, all Yale men or closely associated with the college, Joel Barlow had perhaps the most interesting career. Son of a village farmer, born in an intensely Federalist community, he lived abroad for seventeen years after 1788. The generous ardors of the French Revolution possessed him. He shared in the aims and labors of men whose names were an abomination to the Federalists—Horne Tooke, Dr. Priestly, Thomas Paine. Agent in Paris for an unsuccessful American land company of whose transactions too many Frenchmen were victims, he consoled himself for the crookedness of some of his business associates by his writings, touched with enthusiasm but full of philosophic thought and reasoning, on the absorbing questions of the hour.

The national convention thanked him by making him a French citizen. One of his books was honored in England by Fox's praise in the House of Commons and by official suppression. Proscribed by the British government, the man who had got Paine's "Age of Reason" published when its author was imprisoned, member of that London Society for Constitutional Information so abhorrent to Edmund Burke, in the eyes of the respectables of Hartford and Boston Barlow must have looked even worse than a Communist looks to Hamilton Fish. But the broadened Yankee was not wholly transformed. He put his money into French consols. They rose obligingly. He was rich when Robespierre fell.

In 1793 he was beaten as a candidate for deputy to the convention from Savoy. That was a strange role enough for the bucolic lad from Fairfield. If his political expedition failed, it was in the course of it that he wrote at Chambery that mock-heroic "Hasty Pudding" which is his chief title to a rather pale literary immortality. It is a New England pastoral in a European frame. It can be read with enjoyment still. If his grandiose epics are tucked away in the limbo of dullness, one should still be grateful to him and the other too early dreamers of a native American literature. Precursors and pioneers, it can not even be said of them that > the maiden flowers of fame.

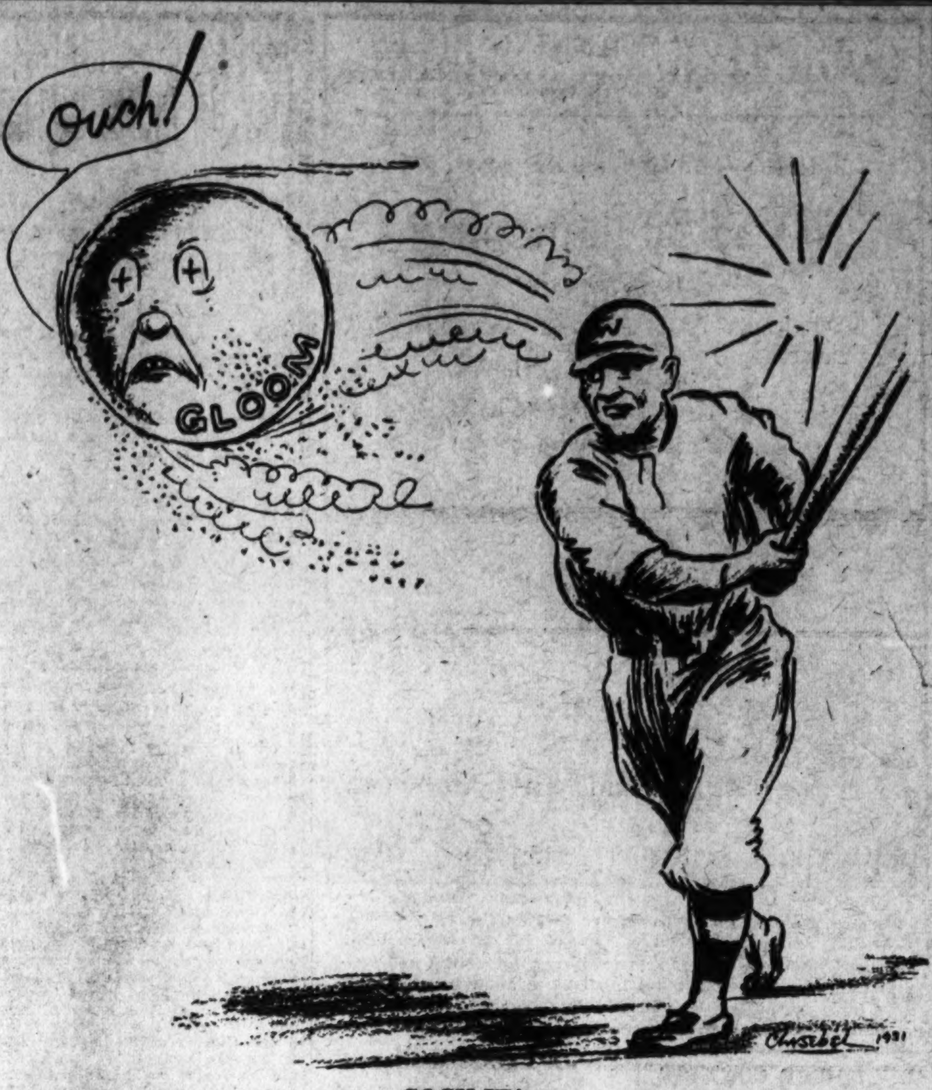
In 1795 Barlow was appointed consul to Algiers, where he did effective work and exposed his life to set free the American captives of those Barbary States and pirates that for so long exacted a shameful tribute from the weak United States. It is curious to remember that that splendid American adventurer, William Eaton, was made consul at Tunis in 1797. He was a Dartmouth man. Barlow was at Dartmouth a couple of months before going to Yale. In those days some college men were treating themselves to lively careers. Barlow died in the service of his country. In 1811 Madison sent him as Minister to France in the hope of getting Napoleon to loosen his stranglehold on our commerce.

Barlow did his best to negotiate with the foreign office officials. Late in October, 1812, he was told that Napoleon, then plunged into the Russian misadventure, would talk with him about a treaty at Wilna in Poland. Thither he went and waited. After the disaster of Beresina the jig was up. Barlow set out for Paris. He suffered much from the cold and other hardships. On Christmas Eve he died at Jarnovice, a village near Cracow. His grave, too long neglected, is now cared for by the Polish-American Society of Warsaw. A Warsaw dispatch in Saturday's Times reminds us that the society has begun to raise a fund for a monument and the repair of the graveyard. Senator Glenn, of Illinois, has introduced into the Senate a bill to appropriate $10,000 for these purposes.

It should pass. At the end of his sophomore year Barlow went into the Army. He was at the Battle of Long Island, August, '76. He "commenced patriot" early, and we have seen how he ended. He was many-sided. He was not only a good American but a good European.



SOCK IT!

POST HASTE.

Affairs of state,
Both large and small,
Must all await
Herb's first baseball!

Senator Borah issues a stirring demand for protection of the public from increased prices if production and imports of oil are to be restricted. It is almost overpowering to find ourselves lined up with the senator on the same side of a fight.

The cheerful frequency with which hold-up men are "getting theirs" these days recommends more general adoption of the Texas plan of $5,000 rewards for dead bandits; nothing for live ones.

There must be visions of the spirit of Blasco Ibanez riding with the Four Horsemen in many parts of Spain today.

If you insist on knowing, senator, technicalities of congressional procedure will just have to wait until we get a few little things like overproduction and underemployment fixed up.

If Alfonso would take the bull by the horns and fight for the presidency of Spain he probably would make a killing.

Washington is relieved of considerable embarrassment by the fact that the royal visitors due this week are not addicted to night club life.

Senator Borah quotes the state umpire of Oklahoma in the fight of the small producers for oil restriction: "We leave the consumer out; we do not take him into consideration." Yet numerically and financially the consumers' interests are as 100 to 1 in relation to producers.

Travel broadens one. Mr. Snouse, after a trip across the continent, minimizes Chief Raskob's specific home-rule recommendations and in a generous, big way advises regarding prohibition that "the time has come for Republicans and Democrats alike to face this question honestly."

"When you get to the end of your rope tie a knot and hang on." Hold the wage level a few months longer and pull industry back to match it.

The Soroptimist meetings and Mr. Shouse's college words must surely be helping the dictionary trade.

A George Washington University team upholds the eighteenth amendment in a debate on prohibition. It would be interesting to know where they went to get their enforcement arguments.

Astrological insight indicated that this was not a good year for kings to press their luck, but, after you, Alfonso! By the same sign, the Labor government and Ramsay MacDonald should pull through this week's test.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE STATUE.

We stood before a marble bust
The critics called the perfect thing,
Defying time and care and rust,
Once treasured by an ancient king,
A beauty and a joy forever
Which suffers pain and sorrow never.

The tranquil features never change,
The smile is frozen on the face;
In all the years I think it strange
That grief has never left one trace
Upon those cheeks, or gentle pity
Made lovelier those glances pretty.

Anger the marble can not know
For stone is heartless, dull and cold,
It smiles alike on friend and foe,
Stays young the while the world grows old.
Should it become a vile man's treasure
That face would never show displeasure.

Rather I'd know the living joy
Of eyes that weep and cheeks that fade,
The charms which time and care destroy
Than beauty so superbly made,
Excelling any marble splendor
Are living spirits, warm and tender.

A Sophisticate Offers the Stranger Tea; the Yokel Offers to Lick Him.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

In Baltimore some years ago a number of schoolboys inspired a newspaper controversy by snowballing a Japanese official.

To many it seemed a trivial incident, for boys with snowballs are no respectors of persons in any case; but this was something more than a boyish prank. It was a revelation, in miniature, of something sinister that makes fields wet with blood.

The official was snowballed because he was a foreigner.

If you grew up in a small town you can remember a city boy who came to visit his cousin. His city clothes and city manners proclaimed him an alien, and you hated him. You and your crowd insulted and abused him. You called him a "dude."

Or if you grew up in a town large enough to call itself a city you can remember boys and men from the country whose clothing and speech confessed their rural origin. You and your crowd jeered at them. You called them "rubes."

Now that you have seen more of the world and of life you are ashamed of such episodes. You realize that your vulgar insolence was a confession of provincialism. You were intolerant of outlanders because you were ignorant and never had been anywhere.

The automobile has been a civilizing and broadening influence, but most of us are provincial still.

It is a fault that endangers all mankind.

In small inland towns any man from another land is a creature to be laughed at or scorned; even in cities of the first class a prince or peasant in the strange garb of his native land meets amused smiles or unfriendly stares; and in cosmopolitan capitals, where strangers from all lands attract little attention because many of their kind are seen, provincialism still appears in the writings of patriots who ridicule the customs and the culture of other peoples.

It is the narrowness of ignorance.

As the city that has seen many strange people is more tolerant than the village, so the traveler who has seen much is more tolerant than the man who never has left his native township.

Always the measure of tolerance is the measure of knowledge. As country and town are unfriendly because they know little of one another, so the people of rival nations suspect and fear one another because they are ignorant.

If they could meet one another, and learn how much they have in common, the prejudice that makes wars would disappear.

Analyze your intolerance and discover how much of it is a product of ignorance. Hearsay evidence has tricked you.

The dogs kept within a yard are the ones that bite strangers.

PRO AND CON

Press Comment Upon Acts and Actors in the Great American Show, "Politics."

Democratic Policy,

Atlanta Constitution.

It is to be regretted that Chairman Raskob, of the Democratic national committee, has sought to commit the committee to an expression of party policy in advance of the national convention, for the committee has only to do with administrative details incident to the calling of the convention, and has nothing to do with an expression of party policy.

Whatever may be said out of partisan emotion and personal prejudice against Chairman Raskob, of the Democratic national committee, he shows the spirit of a true Democrat when he declares that he will bow to the party will and follow the party flag with unflexing loyalty.

Like every other Democrat, he has the right to his free opinion upon mooted issues of party policy. Like them he is free to express his preferences and fight for them; but when the party in full convention speaks its will, Chairman Raskob says he will stand upon the Jeffersonian principle of frank submission to "the will of the majority." And in that loyalty he presents a highly imitable example to every other Democrat in the nation.

When earnest and trusted delegates from every State in the Union come together and reach decisions upon the issues confronting the country, there should follow a massing of the Democrats of the nation without complaints and desertions.

But the convention, and not the party executive committee, is the forum through which the party must make known its position on all questions.

Cermack's Best Argument.

Minneapolis Journal.

The strongest argument of the Democratic candidate for mayor of Chicago is Big Bill Thompson.

What Will the South Stand?

Chicago Tribune.

Mr. Raskob seems to be getting nowhere in particular as he tries to bring the Democratic party to a position on prohibition. His idea that the party management should know where it stands before the selection of delegates is taken up in the states finds most of his party associates convinced to the contrary. Some sort of a shift will be made in the convention, probably on a guess as to what pressure the South will stand, and for many of the Jeffersonians the evil of that day will be sufficient unto it.

Weather Signals.

Los Angeles Times.

House leaders of the antiprohibitionary movement hope to muster 140 votes on four major questions to come up before the next Congress, in order to force balloting heretofore blocked by majorities. December is a long ways off and in the meantime the prospective 140 will be doing a lot of thinking regarding contests for their seats in 1932. We wouldn't call that an encouraging wet outlook.

The Governor and the Tiger.

Christian Science Monitor.

What is Governor Roosevelt going to do about Tammany? The Tiger has an awkward way of intruding its stripes into every pleasant picture of presidential prospects which is painted around New York's Chief Executive.

"Mr. Facing-Both-Ways."

Indianapolis News.

The Democrats seem to be looking for a presidential candidate who can get away with being wet in the North and dry in the South.

Chicago's Big Bill.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

Chicago will remember Thompsonism in the big bill it has cost.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Venerable Dr. Henry Ward Bleacher Has No Fear of Second Childhood So Far as Baseball Is Concerned. "Batter Up!"

To the Editor of the Post—Sir: A healthy old scout who has always been on good terms with life is not apt to view the possibility of second childhood with very much satisfaction. But this does not apply to the second childhood of the baseball park, which can be taken on with the price of admission and off again between times.

The second childhood of the ball park is especially blest at the first game of the season. The poet who wanted to know, "Oh, what is so rare as a day in June?" had probably never enjoyed the day in April which starts the battle of the bats for a big league pennant. Then, if ever, baseball populace get a foretaste of heavenly bliss and worldly cares are forgotten long before they have passed through the stadium turnstiles.

Once inside, it is no exaggeration to say that every prospect pleases. The wind-up of last season, six months ago, seems like yesterday, as the gathering fans hustle briskly up the runway and take their seats amid the old familiar sights and sounds which furnish the enlivening prelude of the national game.

Even the call of the soft drink and other refreshment barkers is mitigated by the spirit of the occasion; and the sight of a popular star lounging in front of the stands, a small batboy lugging a heavy bag of bats, the nonchalant warming up of pitchers, the preliminary batting and fielding practice, the conference of umpires and managers at the plate to verify line-ups and fix ground rules, the presidential tossing of the ball to start the game, such things as these are always enlivening and are never old stuff to the fans.

From the time the first cash customer takes his or her seat until the last batter is out a kind of entertainment is furnished which puts the loyal fans in good trim for the workaday grind of tomorrow. In other words, the simplest preliminaries of the game are saturated with the joy of life, and the game itself completes a superlative symphony of sport—a perfect day of glorious second childhood.

HENRY WARD BLEACHER.

Abolition of Liquor Compared With Abolition of Slavery.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: As a result of the Civil War the Southern States were compelled to accept the edict of the Northern States, and slavery was abolished. This involved an invasion of personal liberty and cancellation of what the South considered were vested rights in property, and there was no remuneration for the resulting heavy financial losses. And the reconstruction that followed was harsh in the extreme and wholly unnecessary. But the South of today has no regrets for the abolition of slavery, and no desire to have it restored. It is better off in every way for the change.

Conditions of today are in some ways comparable to those that obtained in the early '60s of the last century. A majority of the States have decided that traffic in intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes must cease. Another invasion of personal liberty, followed by bitter complaints on the part of the minority. But there is good reason to believe that time will show the wisdom of the change, just as it did in the case of slavery. In the short period that has elapsed since the eighteenth amendment was made a part of the law of the land there have been wonderful improvements resulting wholly from its operation. To name only one, the women and children of the working classes have reaped immeasurable advantages, and the minority opposing prohibition makes no attempt to deny the statement. To do so would be futile; the fact is demonstrated on every hand, in every community. This alone would justify the change, for the women and children of the working classes form a very large majority of the population.

Ultimately the small minority opposing prohibition will come to look upon it as the South of today looks upon the abolition of slavery.

Lock Type of Canal at Panama Chosen by Congress While Stevens Was Chief Engineer.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Your "Alexandria correspondent," in endeavoring to correct some alleged errors of Henry Welles Durham in regard to the history of the Panama Canal, seems to have fallen into a few errors himself.

His statement that the lock type of the canal was decided upon by Congress—"long before Wallace was made chief engineer, and certainly long before Roosevelt ever heard of Stevens," is utterly at variance with the truth.

It was on June 25, 1906, that Congress voted for construction the lock type, as recommended by the minority members of the board. And John F. Stevens was appointed chief engineer and took charge of the work in June, 1905, a year previously.

MENNONITES BRAVE RIGORS OF SIBERIA

300 Germans Arrive in China to Escape From Rule of Soviet.

Harbin, April 13 (A.P.).—Another Siberian tragedy has been brought to a climax in this Manchurian city.

Three hundred half-frozen, starving and ragged German Mennonites have arrived after an epic winter trek of 400 miles from the rule of Soviet Russia.

A few came on horseback, but the majority, including many women and children, walked the long stretch from the Amur River in weather that would have killed many natives. The thermometer was never above 40 below zero.

Had Rich Farm Lands.

The majority of this clan of Mennonites were originally from southern Russia. Before the revolution they possessed rich farm lands and virtually all had gained enough wealth to be classed by Moscow as "kulaks" or rich peasants.

Then they were deprived of their possessions by decrees which delivered their property to "collectivized farms" of the Soviet Union. Then they were barred from Russia and forced to find new homes.

Moving into Siberia, they settled temporarily on the Amur River, close to the Manchurian border. To facilitate their plans to escape, they told Harbin authorities they joined the Soviet along the border, thus lulling watchfulness of authorities.

Stole Soviet Horses.

Those who had horses got them by enlisting in Soviet timber camps that operate along the Amur. They stole the horses on the night of their escape.

It was easy to cross the frozen Amur. The rest of the story was one of unbroken hardship as they pushed through an unknown country.

Their arrival brought the number of Mennonites in this city to 1,000. It is estimated there are 600 more elsewhere in Manchuria. Several thousand others are reported to have fled from Siberia into Chinese Turkestan.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES OF CAPITAL

Capital Soon To Say Adieu To Chermonts

Brazilian Diplomat to Sail for Homeland on May 8.

NOT at all perturbed concerning the fluctuating state of the Brazilian dictatorship, Mr. Jayme Sloan Chermont, Second Secretary of the Brazilian Embassy, and Mme. Chermont are completing plans to return to their native land this spring in accordance with the wish of the latter's father, Senhor Mello Franco, who is serving as minister of foreign affairs under the new regime. The Secretary and Mme. Chermont will leave Washington May 8 for South America.

Despite disturbing news that the provisional government of Brazil is soon to be replaced by a constitutional regime, the Chermonts expect no change of plans and upon their arrival in Rio de Janeiro will "settle down" as a part of the great family of leaders who are supporting the dictatorship of President Getulio Vargas. Mr. Chermont, who is at present studying in Washington for the foreign service, will complete his courses in Rio de Janeiro and in addition probably will be allied with the department of foreign affairs of the new government, if the wishes of his father-in-law are carried forward.

Coming to Washington last October, Mr. Chermont continued his studies looking to a career in the diplomatic service and at the same time was appointed second secretary of the embassy here. Extremely happy in their wide circle of friends in Washington the Chermonts hope the trip to the Southern Hemisphere will prove but a summer holiday and that next October will find them again in the "city of their dreams."

Change seems to stand as the byword of the Brazilian government at this time. With the adoption by the new regime of the present mode of dictatorship an ambassador from that country to Washington came and went—all in a single week. For Sunday brought to the Capital Senhor de Lima e Silva as Ambassador of Brazil and last Tuesday saw the departure of the popular Senhor Gurgel do Amaral, long ambassador to Washington and now transferred to Japan for which post he sailed from New York on Thursday. What the next wind bloweth—who knows?

Political circles in Rio de Janeiro agree with President Vargas and other leaders that the present revolutionary government should be ended as soon as the national political situation will permit. With the situation wobbling, so to speak, Mr. Chermont anticipates an opportunity to complete his assistance to the minister of foreign affairs and ultimately come back to Washington.

The Brazilian Provisional Government has announced a plan to cooperate with Argentina this year to make the Argentine Independence Day celebration the greatest in history and will send a special ambassador with a squadron of Brazil's Italian built planes to Buenos Aires early in July to participate in the celebration on July 9.

Like all Pan American countries Brazil will join today in Pan American Day. Argentina also has elaborate ceremonies planned, among them the award of prizes won at the first Pan American exhibition of contemporaneous paintings at Baltimore. The American Ambassador, Mr. Robert Woods Bliss, will deliver to the artists today the awards as part of the Pan American Day exercises.

Walcotts Will Spend Two Months in Africa.

Senator and Mrs. Frederic C. Walcott, who are on a Mediterranean cruise, will pass two months in Africa, and will go to Paris before returning to this country.

The former Canadian Minister and Mrs. Vincent Massey who are in Nice, France, have been joined by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Tyler. The party will motor through southern France and Africa and will go to Paris before returning to this country in July.

Maj. Arthur B. Owens, U. S. M. C., and Mrs. Owens with their daughter, Mrs. Vincent H. Godfrey, who have been spending several weeks in Paris, sailed last week for New York on the Majestic. They will arrive in New York early this week.

Mrs. Dunton, wife of Lieut. Delmar Hall Dunton, entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Carlton, her guests numbering ten.

Tea Is Given In Honor of Dry Leader

Mrs. Berrien Entertains at Country Club for Mrs. Peabody.

Mrs. Frank B. Berrien, wife of Capt. Berrien, of the navy yard, entertained at tea at the Woman's National Country Club yesterday in honor of Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, of the National Committee for Law Enforcement. Among the guests were Mrs. Harlan Fiske Stone, Mrs. William E. Borah, Mrs. C. E. Wheat, of West Point, wife of Col. Wheat; Mrs. Ben H. Fuller, Mrs. Harry P. Huse, Mrs. William Tilton, of Boston; Mrs. Walter R. Tuckerman, Mrs. Joel T. Boone, Mrs. Rushmore Patterson, Mrs. Olaf M. Hustvedt and Mrs. C. A. Townall.

Col. and Mrs. Wheat are the guests of Capt. and Mrs. Berrien at the navy yard. Last week Capt. and Mrs. Berrien had as their guests Mrs. John A. Birchard, of New York, and Mrs. Percy Talbot Walden, wife of Dean Walden, of Yale University, who came to attend the meeting of the Women's National Committee on Law Enforcement.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawrence Pond, of the American Legation at Peiping, China, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Patience Missplee, on April 10. Mrs. Pond was formerly Miss Josephine Clark, of Milford, Conn.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Mark L. Bristol have returned from a three months' absence in the South and in Panama. They spent some time motoring through the Southern States with visits to Palm Beach, Atlanta, Mobile and Asheville, N. C.

The Secretary of the Legation of Panama and Senora de Chevalier have moved to Woodley Park Towers, where they have taken an apartment. Senor and Senora de Chevalier lived in the Portland for some years until they moved to the legation on New Hampshire avenue after the departure of the former minister, Senor Don Ricardo Alfaro, now president of Panama. Senor Chevalier and his family occupied the legation while the former was Charge d'Affaires, and until the arrival of the new minister, Senor Arias.

Battle, Mrs. James Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keating, Mrs. James H. Small, Miss Agnes Winn, Mrs. Mary Thompson, Miss Eleanor Connolly and Mrs. Ollie James. Many of these members entertained guests, some having large parties.

Mrs. Andrew Carnegie has arrived in Washington from her home in New York and is at the Carlton.

The Financial Counselor of the Roumanian Legation, Mr. George Boncesco, will sail the end of this month for a vacation which he will spend in his home in Roumania. Mme. Boncesco has preceded him to New York, where he will meet her before sailing.

The new naval attache of the British Embassy and Mrs. Patrick Macnamara, have taken a house at Mattapoisett, Mass., for the summer season. Mrs. Macnamara is visiting in Boston and will make only brief trips to Washington until the fall. Capt. Macnamara has taken an apartment at Wardman Park Hotel until summer.

Miss Ethel Butler, daughter of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Smedley D. Butler, spent the week-end as the guest of Col. and Mrs. Thomas F. Dwyer at Newport.

Marchetti Entertains At Luncheon.

The counselor of the Italian Embassy, Count Albert Merchetti, entertained at luncheon Sunday at the Mayflower, where he is now in residence. His guests were members of the embassy staff and a few out-of-town guests.

The counselor of the Spanish Embassy, Count Albert Marchetti, entertained a party at luncheon yesterday at the Shoreham Hotel. Among his guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Rennert and the first secretary of the Spanish Embassy, Senor Don Ricardo Gomez Acebo.

Lady Harrington, who has been the guest of her niece, Mrs. Morris Ernest Locke, for the last several days, has returned to New York, preparatory to sailing for France at the end of April. In France, Lady Harrington will be joined by Mrs. Locke's daughter, Miss Mary Preston Gibson, who has been abroad with Miss McFadden, spending some time with her cousin, the Countess de Cornet de Waysruart, in Belgium.

Mrs. William Bailey LaMar, widow of Judge LaMar, has come to Washington from her home in Atlanta, and is at the Mayflower for the opera season.

Mr. Scherer Weds Yankee Girl May 10

Miss Eleanor Hammer to Become His Bride in Connecticut.

Miss Eleanor Rogers Hammer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Valdemar T. Hammer, of Branford, Conn., has set May 10 as the date of her wedding. She will be married to Mr. Louis C. Scherer, son of Mrs. Louis C. Scherer, of Washington and Brockville, Ontario, and the late Col. Scherer.

The ceremony will be performed in the Hammer home. Only members of the two families will be present. The Rev. D. Benjamin, of the Yale Divinity School, will officiate.

Miss Hammer, who is a member of the New Haven Junior League, was graduated from Miss Masters' School, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.

Mr. Scherer was a member of the class of '21 at Groton and was graduated in 1925 from the Military Academy at West Point. He received a degree for post graduate work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1928 and also served in the Army. At present he is in business in Chicago.

Mr. Charles Bancroft Bell, of Philadelphia and Washington, was the guest in whose honor Dr. and Mrs. Everett M. Ellison entertained at dinner yesterday at their home in M street.

Mrs. James Irwin Steel has gone to her home in Pennsylvania to spend a few days, after which she will return to Washington.

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES.

"KINDLY tell me whether tiger or Easter lilies should be kept in the dark while making a root development. How often must they be watered? Is it better to plant them in fiber or soil? Would you start them in pots or boxes?"
MRS. MILDRED G.

Tiger lilies are summer-flowering bulbs. They are not suited for house use, though you can coax them into flower if you have the facilities of a greehouse. As a rule they are planted any time after the weather permits. Choose a well-drained place where the soil is rich. Easter lilies are usually started in October. They may be grown in fiber or in soil. Florists grow them in soil. The pot should be buried outdoors until late in November, when they must be lifted and started into growth. A temperature of about 55 degrees at night suits them very well, but where you want them in flower for Easter Day and it comes early, you will probably have to put the pots in a slightly warmer situation to hurry development. After the plants are about eighteen inches high it will be well to give them liquid fertilizer in the form of weak manure-water once or twice each week. After they make some growth it will be necessary, in order to prevent attacks from aphis, to spray them weekly with nicotine solution.

"Please tell in a way I will understand the function of a cold frame."
HELEN B. T.

The function of a cold frame is to ward off cold winds, to keep the ground clear of snow, and at this season to increase the feeble heat of the slanting sunbeams and thus foster plant growth. The construction of one of these garden boosters is very simple. The backboard is usually twelve inches and the front-board eight inches wide. The two are connected by a tapered board twelve inches wide at one end and 8 inches at the other. Standard sashes are 3 by 6 feet, and it takes a box of 6 by 8 glass to glaze three sashes.

The framework can easily be made by a local carpenter or any one handy with tools, and when complete the frame is set up in a sheltered, well-drained sunny place, usually near the house. The frame will be useful in carrying many plants through the winter as well as in sheltering some tender seedlings in the spring.

"Please tell me how to get rid of flies about my ferns. Also, how much fertilizer should I give my geraniums? Will fertilizer make them bloom?"
JOSEPHINE T. P.

Constant spraying with cold water will prevent your ferns from being injured by flies. Geraniums should have no fertilizer. When given food the energy of the plant is directed to producing foliage and as a result of this stimulation the plant develops a number of small leaves on long, limber stems and no flowers. Geraniums which have bloomed in the open in the summer will be at this time resting. Such plants never bloom in winter. They usually, if cut back, begin to bloom the first of May.

"Please tell me some annuals which will bloom on the north side of a building."
FREDA T. W.

The following annuals will tolerate some shade: Schizanthus, cornflower, pansy, torenia, godetia and china aster.

"Please tell me the name of the plant from which I have taken the inclosed leaf."

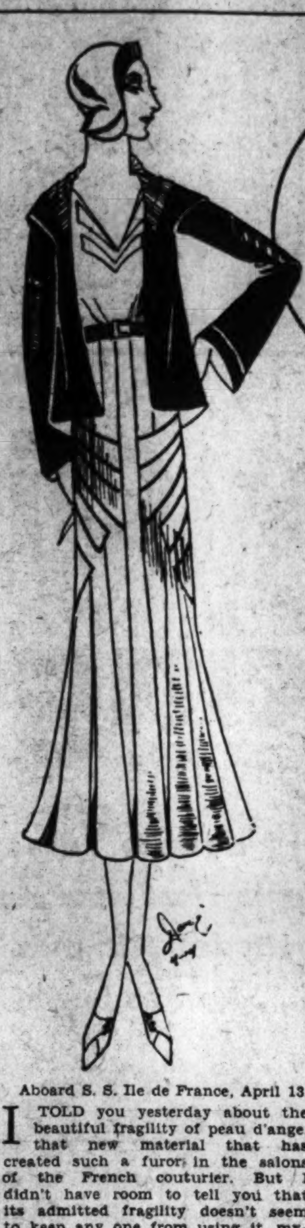
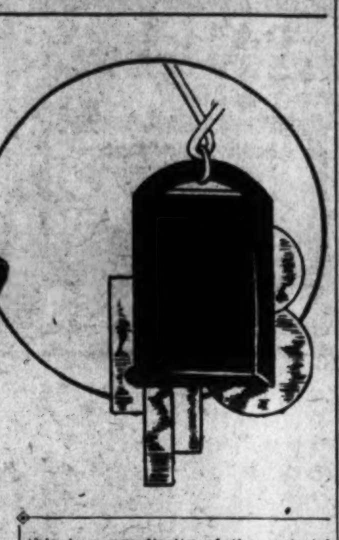
Dare Interprets the Mode

Spring ensemble with jacket in contrasting color to the dress, and interesting skirt treatment on the dress itself. (A Dah-ray Design.)





Aboard S. S. Ile de France, April 13.

I TOLD you yesterday about the beautiful fragility of peau d'ange, that new material that has created such a furor in the salons of the French couturier. But I didn't have room to tell you that its admitted fragility doesn't seem to keep any one from using it, myself included. Whenever the French maid, who is Spanish, has a spare moment, she makes me either a vestee for my black crepe marocain suit or a gilet for my Patou dress, or a collar for my black georgette dinner dress, or a gardenia for my tailleur, of this lovely, lovely material. I look at it, love it, wear it and sigh for it's imminent demise.

I have already told you that this material keeps white and doesn't wrinkle, and that it cleans beautifully. It does all of these things, but it does one more, and that's the one that slays it, the wearer, and the bank balance. It scratches. No, not your skin, but it scratches of itself, if you can imagine what I mean—and wispy wisps of threads flutter in the air on the suede-like surface, and completely ruin the dress or vestee or whatever is made of it. Long before it is soiled enough to send to the cleaners, the surface is all marred with this "scratching" and you give up the garment, no matter how fond of it you are. Nor is there any known remedy save a new garment—dyeing, cleaning, pressing, all to no avail, as this is a peculiarity of the material itself. Sad, but true. Meanwhile, do I go on wearing peau d'ange. I do.

* * * *

Aboard this boat I keep a fashion eye out, as it were, and have noticed two things in the last two nights, the nights being a regular elegance contest, you know. One is that even with the most elegant gowns and the most lovely ladies, very few long evening gloves are worn—quite a contrast from the last time I was aboard in December, when not to wear long gloves made one feel slightly more naked that did the most daring decolletage. The other is that red, cerise and pink slippers are the vogue with black evening gowns. There were several worn last night. Tomorrow is the gala night, and I will have more to tell you "fashionishly."

* * * *

House dresses decidedly "ain't what they uster be" and we can be thankful! Today's little housewife and mother dresses for her house work exactly as she dresses for the summer resort, choosing only certain silhouettes that are more easily laundered than others, and certain tissues that are more practical than some others. Otherwise, her "house dresses" are now "day dresses" and as smart as they can ever be! If you would like to send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for this week's illustrated leaflet, you will find some easily made house dresses in the very latest styles.

* * * *

And there's a smart spring outfit I designed for you today, for vacation maybe, made up in peach-colored silk tussor, sleeveless as to dress, and sporting a medium blue jacket with sleeves with a slightly purplish tone. The jacket would be trimmed with sleeves incrustations and collar of the peach material, and the dress would have a kid belt the color of the jacket. Also the skirt incrustations would have everything to say about how the pleats would hang, and from where they would start.

And an odd and very striking pendant is illustrated in the corner, the big stone in composition in green, gallilith, I think, and the bars and circles in flat dull gold and silver. Such a piece is very chic when worn as a part of a costume, rather than a jewelry, do you see?

You shouldn't fail to look for Dare's weekly fashion letter in each Sunday's Washington Post.

What Today Means to You

"ARIES."

IF April 14 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a. m. to 11:15 a. m., from 2:15 p. m. to 4 p. m. and from 8 p. m. to 10:10 p. m. The danger hours are from 12:10 p. m. to 2 p. m. and from 5 p. m. to 6:30 p. m.

The astrological indications of April 14 point to a day of effort with a barrenness of result. Much will be attempted; little accomplished. Those who are wise will be content with the discharge of routine duties. After sunset there will be a soothing atmosphere, propitious for lovers.

A child born on this April 14 will be naturally kind and have a sweet disposition. Its thoughts will be centered on its home and those whom it shelters. Rather than cause trouble, it will gladly shoulder others' responsibilities; it will, of course, be imposed upon. It is assured a fair degree of success.

Were you born on April 14? If so, your horoscope says that you are not only attractive, but fascinating. You possess strong personal magnetism, and draw to you all of those who are your intimate associates. This, of course, is a dangerous gift. In your case, however, you never take an unfair advantage, and no one ever has reason to regret having been conquered by your charm. Although your disposition brings many to your way of thinking, you do not depend only on this factor for success. You are clever and have become so by hard study and by keen observation.

Tactfulness is one of your gifts. Knowledge of human nature is another; while your self-control prevents you at all times committing errors of impulsiveness. Your nature is a sympathetic one, provided those with whom you are called upon to sympathize are frank and candid. Anything that savors of deceit or hypocrisy is anathema to one of your disposition.

The opposite sex is, of course, strongly attracted to you. This may lead to difficulties, but these will be overcome, and, when you make your definite choice of a mate, neither he nor she will have reason to complain of lack of love or of steadfastness.

Successful people born April 14:

John C. Green—Founder of Green School of Science at Princeton.

Horace Bushnell—Congregational clergyman.

Junius S. Morgan—Banker.

Everett Hayden—Meteorologist.

Milo Merrick Belding—Silk manufacturer.

Edgar S. Kelley—Composer; professor of music at Yale University.

YOUR NAME WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A. DEFERRARI, Ph.D.

THE family name "Avery" (also spelled "Avory") is of English origin. Its source is the Anglo Saxon personal name "Aelfric," which means "The elf-ruler." The Hundred Rolls includes the names of Hugh Auveray and Ralph Averey. At the present time this name appears to be more strongly represented in the United States and Canada than it is in England. The modern German equivalents of "Avery" are "Alberich" and "Elfreich."

The family name "Aubrey" is found with great frequency in early English records, and at the present time it is common in both England and France. In most cases "Aubrey" is the French equivalent of the English "Avery" and the German "Alberich," and therefore means "the elf ruler." Three instances of this name in the Hundred Rolls are Johannes Aubre, Geofrey Aubri and Richard Albrici. However, there is evidence that in some cases "Aubrey" is derived from the old French "Aubraye," meaning "the white poplar grove," and therefore indicates the place of residence of the persons who were first so called. One of the distinguished bearers of this name was John Aubrey (1626-1697), an English antiquary and author.

The family name "Pathe" is generally believed to be of French origin. Such is not the case, however, although some families have chosen to write the name with a French acute accent over the last letter. "Pathe" is of German origin, its source being the old Germanic personal name "Bado" (also written "Pato"), which means "battle." Hence, "Pathe" is frequently a German equivalent of the English name "Bates."

Wives of Tomorrow

FRANCES M'DONALD

Curses and Crime.

AN 18-year-old high school girl in a 12-page letter to this column gives a vivid picture of the aspirations of youth today, and asks that something be done to "save fine boys from becoming bootleggers and gangsters," which, she declares, is "their idea of the quickest way to wealth."

The girl's letter is well worth reading. It is an intelligent letter, and sadly enough it tells the truth.

Dear Francis McDonald:

It may do no good, but I must write to you of something that is breaking my heart. I am 18 and for three years—ever since entering high school, have been in love with a clean, fine boy. He is handsome, but not a "flash." Just a wonderful, bright, hard-working boy who could get somewhere.

He comes of a quiet, self-respecting family just as I do. His father is some sort of mechanic, but earns well so that they have a comfortable home in a very plain way. His two sisters are lovely girls who work in one of the big stores. A happy family. They have not the least idea that the boy is not just like them. I can not tell them. I can not be the one to shame him. But he is working for a bootlegger. I found out by accident. I faced him right with it. He did not lie. He said he was not going to spend his life working like a truck horse as his father had. I told him he could study for a profession and he said, "yes, and starve with the other college graduates, not me."

Now, I am only a girl. I can do nothing to stop him. But it seems to me that you or some one could convince an intelligent boy that it was better to starve with the college graduates than be shot like a dog by a cop or some other bootlegger. He is all set to go into bootlegging on his own. He just lives now in the movies when these underworld pictures are showing. I was with him at one once. It showed the racketeers living at the Ritz and he reached over and grabbed my hand. His hand was like ice and dripping wet. Then he started biting his nails and shaking all over. I thought we would never get out. And sure enough he started in. That was the only life. A man was a fool to slave like a dog. I asked him if he forgot that the fellow was on his way to the electric chair at the end of the picture and he replied that they had to put that in the picture to get it by the censors but that no one saw Al Capone on the way to the electric chair or ever would. He is making about $12 a week, selling stuff to fellows he knows. He only works evenings early so his folks do not get suspicious. Can anything be done to save him? His nerves are on edge already. Tell me what is to become of him?
EIGHTEEN.

And any thoughtful soul may well ask also what is to become of him—and of thousands like him with their half-formed characters and their readiness to absorb the worst as well as the best. We have seen mothers herding their 10-year-olds to special matinee performances of pictures depicting the glorified gangland that exists solely in the movies, but which, to the inexperienced young, is the land of promise and easy money.

To "Eighteen" we can only say that her duty is to inform the boy's father of the situation—regardless of what the boy may think of her procedure. Better that he be "shamed" at 18 than be shot at 25. Do your duty, "Eighteen." Show your love by saving him now instead of by waiting for him outside a prison gate five years from now.

Truly this is a sorry age for youth.

THE above Contract hand was played in Chicago. South with a count of 15, three suits stopped and the fourth suit containing a Queen and one, bid No Trump. West doubled, North passed and East bid three Clubs. South passed, hoping that the three-Club bid would get the doubler into trouble; but West bid three No Trumps and that ended the contracting.

If the hand had been played in Auction Bridge, the double would have been answered with two Clubs and West would have bid two No Trumps.

With West the Declarer, North's opening lead was the Five of Spades. South played the Queen and West won the trick. West then led his singleton Club; South won with the Ace and returned his partner's Spade. West won and tried the Diamond finesse, leading the Jack and playing the Five from dummy; but South won with the Queen, drew East's King with his Ace, and then continued the Diamonds, putting West in the lead. West cashed a fourth Diamond and then led the Eight of Hearts; dummy played the Queen and South took with the King and returned the Jack. This gave West three Hearts tricks; but it shut out East; and West in the end was obliged to lose his Nine of Spades, so the adversaries captured one Club, two Diamonds, one Heart and one Spade, saving game

Could you have done better?

THE CORRECT PLAY.

West should have led a winning Spade to trick 2 in order to take a Spade out of the South hand. South's No Trump bid had marked him with the Ace of Clubs, the Ace of Diamonds, the King of Hearts and the Queen of Spades. He might have led Queen of Diamonds and Jack of Hearts also or he might not, but it was important that he should not have a Spade to lead when he won with the Ace of Clubs.

With five Spades marked in the North hand, the Club should have been led to trick 3; and when South won, it would not have mattered whether he led a Heart, a Diamond or a Club; he could not have kept dummy from getting the lead and running five Clubs.

With the hand managed in that way South would have had no defense.

"S.S.S. gave me NEW STRENGTH —now I feel fine"
MISS LOTTIE BELL PULLIAM, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "My appetite was poor. I had lost weight—was nervous and could not sleep well at night. In my rundown condition even my joints ached. I took seven large size bottles of S.S.S. It greatly improved my condition. My appetite picked up. My weight was restored and I now feel fine—in fact, I feel like a new person. S.S.S. is a splendid blood tonic and I recommend it to my friends. My mother also took S.S.S. and it renewed her strength."

AINSWORTH ATTACKS BIRTH CONTROL VIEW

Bishop Says Church Should Not Advise Parents on Subject.

Birmingham, Ala., April 13 (A.P.).—Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, president of the College of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, issued a statement today, criticizing the committee representing the Council of Churches of Christ in America for its recent action on the subject of birth control.

"I wish to register my protest against the impropriety of the recent publication of the committee on the subject," he said. "This committee represents nobody but itself, and it certainly does not represent the Methodist Church.

"However undesirable it is for children to be born in excessive numbers in families that are unprepared to nurture and care for them, this is not a matter for the paternal intervention of the church.

"Such officious invasion of the sacred realm of the home is dangerous in the extreme and in the end will promote more promiscuous sexual relations. It is blasting at the foundations of the home which is the bulwark of civilization and society, whether it is so intended or not."

Wife of Dutch Envoy Hurt When Hit by Car

Mme. J. J. Van Royen, wife of the Minister from the Netherlands, was injured yesterday when knocked down by an automobile while she was crossing the street in front of the legation at Fifteenth and Euclid streets northwest.

She was treated for injuries to the legs and shock. The automobile which struck her allegedly was operated by Miss Ethel Mayhew, 19 years old, of 832 Eleventh street northeast.

Reported Revolution In Venezuela Is Denied

Caracas, Venezuela, April 13 (A.P.). The Venezuelan government today said there is not and has not been any revolutionary movement anywhere in Venezuela.

Reports from border towns in Colombia for the past several days have said a revolutionary force under Arevalo Cedeno was marching on Caracas, fighting as it went.

Bride Delays Utility Cases As He Recuperates Slowly

Corporation Counsel Will Not Take Up Pending Problems Until Later in Week Because of Doctor's Orders Against Exertion.

Corporation Counsel William W. Bride said yesterday that he would not take up the utility problems facing him before the latter part of this week because of his physician's orders to resume his duties as gradually as possible.

The report of the Department of Justice investigation into the ownership of the Washington Gas Light Co. was received officially by Mr. Bride yesterday but was immediately stored away in a safe without being studied.

R. A. Van Orsdel, counsel of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co., called at the corporation counsel's office regarding his company's proposals in the $2,000,000 stock issue case but stated that he was unable to submit his plan for several days.

Likewise the request of the Public Utilities Commission for advice as to the best course to pursue in effecting a reduction in the rates and the income of the Potomac Electric Power Co. will have to wait a few days longer.

In all these matters Assistant Corporation Counsel William A. Roberts will advise Mr. Bride as to the developments during the latter's absence of two weeks on sick leave.

Yeggmen Crack Safe Of Cafe, Get $500 Loot

Thieves cracked a safe early yesterday in the Herald Square Inn, 1303 H street northwest, and escaped with $500 in cash. They used a saw and a monkey wrench taken from a tool chest in the place to saw off the door of the safe.

George Sachlis, 4217 Ingomar street northwest, the proprietor, told police he left the restaurant on Sunday night and discovered the robbery when he opened the place for business early yesterday.

Textile Exhibit Set Tomorrow

Display Precedes Course of Lectures Slated at Y. W. C. A.

The education and industrial departments of the Young Women's Christian Association will sponsor a textile exhibit in Barker Hall tomorrow, from 2 to 10 o'clock. The exhibition will include homespun from the Nancy Hanks looms, Lincoln Memorial University, Harrogate, Tennessee. Looms, materials and garments will be shown in this exhibit.

Another exhibit will be shown of celanese products from the National Institute and models will be on view which have been prepared by the women's bureau, United States Department of Labor and Industry which show trends in the Textile industry, and the employment of women. There will be a speaker from the national institute in connection with the celanese exhiit and three motion pictures will be shown, "The Romance of Silk," "From Cocoon to Spool," "Cotton, From Field to Cloth."

Tea will be served from 4 to 6 o'clock by members of the general education and industrial committees. The exhibition precedes a course of lectures on problems of the modern textile industry, to be given in April and May. The public is invited.

ITY TRADE THREAT WARNING IS ISSUED

ttempts of Outside Firms to Sell Goods Here Are Called Menace.

Washington, which has been for- unate on the whole during the gen- ral business depression, now faces he danger of suffering after-effects rough attempts to deflect its pur- hasing power being made by outside rms at the present time, said Harry ing, president of the Washington hamber of Commerce, yesterday, is- uing a statement in which he urged operation of every citizen to avert his situation.

"Washington is now facing its reatest problem of the business de- ression," said Mr. King. 'On the hole, we have been fortunate, but he effect of the depression on nearby ities is now being felt by us in a reat variety of attemptt to deflect he purchasing power of our city to he advantage of other competing rriories and agains locally manufac- ured and locally distributed prod- cts.

'We have such competition at its rongest when building trade work- rs were brought into this city from he outside and paid wage scales ower than those paid here. To hange this situation Congress at he last session passed the necessary orrective legislation.

"Now we are furnished wiht an ex- mple in the case of food producst. ince its founding the Distrcit of olumbia has engaged ni the milling flour and the making of bread and ther bakery products. This impor- ant District industry is now threat- ned by outside competition at a time hen hte full force of community upport is desirable in order ot main- ain the steady level of local busi- ess.

"It seems to me that every citizen Washington at this time should epledge himself to the "Buy in ashington" movement and do all in is power to promote th euse of ashington-made products handled y Washnigtno-managed firms."

THE POST'S BRIDGE TOURNEY SETS PACE IN WESTCHESTER

lando Springs, Fla., which is largely patronized by the winter colony. A similar one was recently concluded at St. Petersburg, Fla., in connection with the Festival of States when it was reported that more than 4,000 men and women participated.

Since the Washington tournament so nearly parallels the forthcoming Westchester event there is already talk among some of the local contestants of issuing a challenge for a match between winning teams in the two tournaments for a play to determine the superiority of the successful players. This indicates the degree of enthusiasm that is being displayed over the first tournament to be held here, and a confidence that it will develop some experts who will be willing to match their skill against those elsewhere.

The Westchester tournament will be limited to the contract form of the game, but the number and characer of the entrants in the Washington tournament indicates that there will be no dearth of contract players, so that it would be easily possible to make a proposal to meet the New York winners.

Many Cities Hold Contests.

Other tournaments which are now being arranged or have just been terminated, include those in East Orange, N. J.; Garden City, Long Island; South Orange, N. J.; Rockaway Beach; Youngstown, Ohio; Conneaut, Ohio; Greensboro, N. C. (sponsored by the Come-Into-the-Garden Club); Rutherford, N. J. (a four-day event under auspices of the Masonic Club); Schenectady, N. Y. (sponsored by the Council of Jewish Women); the Youngstown Country Club, at Youngstown, Ohio; Atlanta, Ga. (sponsored by the Druid Hills Country Club), and many others.

Most of these tournaments, like the Washington tournament, are local events, but they have evoked widespread interest among devotees of the game elsewhere.

One of the outstanding bridge events of the season has been the tournament at the Advertising Club in New York, which has been in progress for several weeks, in a series of plays held on a stated night each week. There both Contract and Auction are being played and enthusiasm has been developed to a high degree.

Some of the entrants and prospective entrants in the local contest have expressed a little apprehension regarding their ability to play tournament games. They have never had any experience in this method of playing and are wondering whether it will be more difficult than the ordinary way of playing in social games.

It should be understood, however, by those who entertain this feeling that the game, whether Contract or Auction, is exactly the same so far as the bidding and the play are concerned. The difference lies in the fact that the element of luck is eliminated. There is no advantage in the "break of the cards," for each team has the opportunity at some time, of playing the same hands that are played by other teams.

The mechanics of this phase of the tournament will be in the hands of competent managers who have had experience in tournament playing, and who will explain the movement of the players and of the duplicate boards before each session, and all that it is necessary for players to do is to follow the simple instructions and play bridge in the usual way. They need not concern themselves beforehand with the "how" of the conduct of the tournament. That will be arranged for them.

Directors Will Guide Play.

One may not be able to drive a car, but passenger may enter a car and know that the chaffeur will conduct it to the proper destination. Entering the tournament play is similar. Directors of the event will see to it that the play is in regular order. It is only necessary that pairs properly check their scores at the end of the play of each board, and that the hands with which they have played are returned to the board pockets from which they were taken in order that the next table may play the same cards. Both become simple matters as soon as two or three boards are used.

Alice Szechenyi Announces List Of Attendants

Action Dispels Rumors of Wedding Here Last Saturday.

Setting at rest the recent rumor that Countess Alice Szechenyi, daughter of the Minister of Hungary and Countess Szechenyi, and her fiance, Count Bela Hadik, were married last Saturday instead of this Saturday, as the invitations announced, comes the still more reassuring list of attendants for the wedding.

The rumor, which was current on Saturday and Sunday, and which was neither confirmed nor denied, was probably started by a report that, according to European custom, a civil ceremony was performed on the Saturday preceding the religious ceremony, which will take place at 3:30 o'clock at St. Matthew's Church next Saturday afternoon.

The Countess Alice has chosen her sister, Countess Cornelia Szechenyi, for her matron of honor, and her two younger sisters, Countess Sylvia and Countess Nandine for flower girls. The bridesmaids will be Countess Margaret Hadik, sister of the bridegroom, who came to this country for the wedding; Princess Cantacuzene, Miss Edith Eustic and Miss Dora White.

Count Hadik will have as his best man Count Wydenbruck, and for the ushers Mr. Lawrence Morris; the Secretary of the Hungarian Legation, Baron Paul Schell; the First Secretary of the Polish Embassy, Mr. Victor Podoski; the Secretary of the German Embassy, Herr Alexander von Wuthenau; the Second Secretary of the Spanish Embassy, Senor Don Ramon Padilla; the Third Secretary of the British Embassy, Mr. Armine Dew; Mr. Chapin Rodgers, Mr. Eugene Roberts, Mr. Hopewell Darnielle and Mr. Martin Furth.

Mr. Charles R. Lippold has returned to the University of Pennsylvania after a vacation spent with his parents. He had as his guest during his stay here Mr. Don Baldwin, a classmate.

Owing to the cool weather the concert of Latin-American music given in honor of Pan-American Day by Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director general of the union, will be given in the Hall of the Americas tonight at 9 o'clock instead of on the esplande, as announced in the invitations.

Dr. Ladislaus Detre, of Budapest, Hungary, has returned to Washington and is with Mrs. Detre and their daughter. They will be in Woodley Park Towers for several months.

Dr. Emma G. Richardson and Miss Helen E. Farmer, of Camden, N. J., are at the Carlton for a few days, having come on to attend the convention of the Americancan Red Cross being held in Washington at this time.

Mrs. Alexander Wolf is passing a fortnight in the West Indies.

Mrs. Vance Duncan Chapline, wife of Commander Chapline, has returned to her home at 1661 Crescent place after an extended visit in Panama.

Mrs. Edmund F. Jewell will entertain at luncheon today at the Shoreham Hotel in honor of Mrs. Roger G. Mosscrop.

Mr. Emanuel Schloss has returned to Syracuse University after passing a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard B. Schloss.

Cuban Envoy Has Diplomats For Luncheon

Japanese and Belgian Ambassadors Among the Guests.

The Cuban Ambassador and Senor de Ferrara entertained at luncheon yesterday. Their guests included the Japanese Ambassador and Mme. Debuchi; the Belgian Ambassador, M. Paul May; the Minister of the Netherlands, Mr. J. H. van Royen; the Counselor of the Italian Embassy, Count Alberto Matchetti di Muriglio; the Counselor of the Austrian Legation and Baroness Hauenschield, Dr. and Mrs. Calixto Whitmarsh, the Naval Attache of the Italian Embassy, Capt. Luigi Notarbattolo, di Duchi di Villiarosa; the First Secretary of the British Embassy and Mrs. Terence Shone, Mrs. Arthur Bullard and her guest, Miss Drummond, daughter of Sir Eric Drummond; the Second Secretary of the Spanish Embassy, Senor Don Ramon Padilla; the Second Secretary of the Brazilian Embassy and Mme. Chermont, Senorita Rosa Padilla and Senorita Maria Padilla, Mr. Thomas Pearson and Mme. Cardinas, of Havana.

Neuritis

There is no pain like Neuritis. There is nothing quite so torturing—so utterly unbearable as Neuritis. It robs life of all joy—and makes people desperate. But Neuritis is not hopeless—it responds to proper treatment. A well-known physician has written us, "Have been drinking Mountain Valley Water for six weeks for Neuritis and am feeling better than I have for two years." Mountain Valley Mineral Water from Hot Springs, Ark., brings relief in Neuritis because it gets at the root of the trouble—it tends to neutralize the acids which are irritating the nerves and retards the further accumulation of these acids by aiding healthy, normal elimination through the kidneys. Renew your hope—learn how Nature can help you. Phone for our booklet today. Met. 1062.

THE NEW OAKLAND V-8
WITH 85 H.P. V-8 ENGINE . . WITH NEW INSULATED FISHER BODIES . .
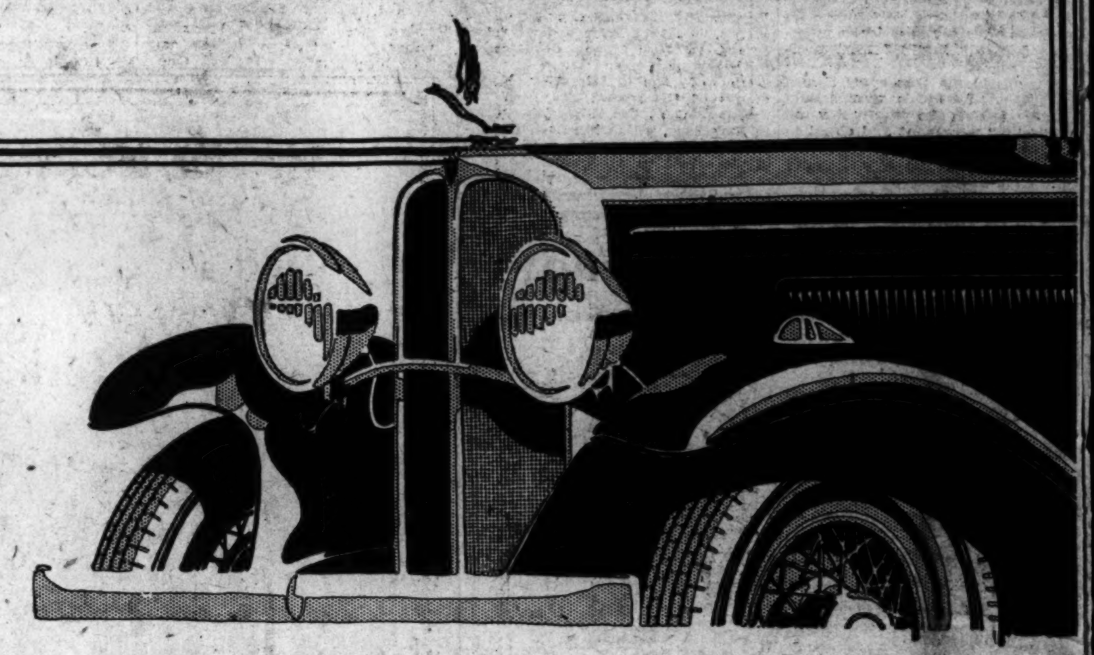
WITH SYNCRO-MESH TRANSMISSION
FOR ONLY $995.50 DELIVERED EQUIPPED

THIS IS THE PRICE OF THE TWO-DOOR SEDAN OR COUPE, equipped and delivered in Washington. Sport Coupe $1,075.50. Four-door Sedan or Convertible Coupe $1,095.50. Custom Sedan $1,155.50. All cars equipped with front and rear bumpers, shock absorbers, 5 wire wheels, extra tire, tube and tire lock.



That familiar phrase, "Must be seen to be appreciated" isn't enough to say of the brilliant new Oakland V-8. See it you should, of course—and you'll find it decidedly handsome, modish, modern in design. But this fine car must also be driven and inspected in detail for a real appreciation of the value its new low price represents.

POWERFUL V-TYPE ENGINE developing 85 h.p. in a smooth flow of energy—more than adequate for all driving needs, speeds and emergencies. The V-type motor, as a type, has long been identified with the finest cars. Now Oakland owners enjoy its advantages at low cost.

NEW INSULATED BODIES BY FISHER—in which progressive craftsmanship has combined roominess, beauty, comfort and safety with a practical snugness of construction which shuts out inclement weather, excessive heat and cold. Cowl and windshield posts are built in one piece, a leak-proof and rattle-free design.

SYNCRO-MESH TRANSMISSION—one of the really outstanding contributions to motoring efficiency and driving ease. It enables Oakland drivers to shift gears quietly and almost without effort under all driving conditions.

QUIET SECOND GEAR—A new design makes Oakland's second gear almost as quiet as high.

RUBBER-CUSHIONED CHASSIS—At more than 40 points in the chassis, rubber insulation absorbs and deadens road shocks, thus not only adding to comfort but increasing the car's steadiness on the road and prolonging its life.

MOHAIR OR WHIPCORD UPHOLSTERY—choice, durable materials which please riding guests, satisfy the owner's pride, and help maintain Oakland's value.

FIVE WIRE WHEELS; heavy single-bar bumpers; Lovejoy shock absorbers; one-piece fenders with fender lamps; new sturdy rear axles, with oil sealed in and dust sealed out.

But no mere listing of Oakland's features can express the values they represent. An accurate appraisal can best be made behind the wheel. We shall be glad to arrange a demonstration.

SOROPTIMIST CLUBS PLAN FOR EXPANSION

Formation of Unity Abroad Talked of at Convention of Federation.

Talks on the importance of the formation of Soroptimist Clubs in foreign countries were heard at the opening session yesterday of the Midwestern and South Atlantic Districts of the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs at the Lafayette Hotel.

Principal speaker of the day was Mrs. Bertha K. Landes, president of the federation and former mayor of Seattle, Wash. Addressing the Washington Soroptimist Club at a luncheon in the Lafayette Hotel, Mrs. Lanes declared that women in foreign countries are more in need of the contacts and friendship that Soroptimist Clubs can offer than the women of this country.

Plans were discussed at the luncheon for formation of a Soroptimist Club in Baltimore. A delegation from that city was told of methods to adopt in organization of a club.

A diner to visiting officers and delegates was given last night by the Washington club at the Shoreham Hotel. Misss Grace Goodpasture, president of the Washington club, welcomed the visitors.

Speakers at yesterday's session also included Mrs. Ruby Lee Minar, past president of the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs; Dr. Bernadine Schefneker, of Detroit, Mich., regional director, and Mrs. Cora Davis, of New York, regional director of the North Atlantic District.

The board of the federation will meet today at the Lafayette Hotel, Soroptimist headquarters. Mrs. Mary Catherine Lewis, of Washington, is chairman of the convention.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

WHEN in a moment of inadvertence there crept into this column a few days ago the statement that I would be glad to pass along to an inquiring executive whatever preferences might be expressed by the lay public in the matter of stage entertainment to be presented in conjunction with pictures, chaos was unloosed.

True to the pledge, the suggestions received will be passed on to the gentlemen in search of first-hand information, but I doubt that he will be able to make much out of them. Not that the letters are not interesting and coherent. They are all of that. But for a total lack of unanimity in viewpoint and scattered fire in the matter of concrete preference, they easily win the bale of asbestos kindling wood!

No wonder the exhibitors and producers are in a quandary as to what the public wants in their stage shows! If the purely negative answers are given first consideration, then we are to have stage shows without masters of ceremony, singing, dancing, acrobats, instrumentalist and comedians. On the other hand, if primary heed is given the affirmative writers, we shall have nothing but masters of ceremony, singing, dancing, acrobats, instrumentalists and comedians. This is by way of getting right back to where we started

I am beginning to give serious consideration as to the bare possibility of the public's not having the remotest idea what it wants—thereby running a dead heat with the theater managers!

The explanation has been published before, but since it still neither looks nor sounds like a real name, and so many are asking "How come?" the secret of ZaSu Pitts' peculiarly capitalized first name may as well be divulged again.

It seems that when Miss Pitts was born, her parents were anxious to honor two of her aunts by naming the baby after them both. One was named Eliza; the other, Susan. By combining the last two letters of the first and the first two letters of the second, "ZaSu" was evolved and everyone was satisfied—except the typesetters and the proof-readers and a few thousand motion picture editors who have to try to keep it straight in print!

Jue Fong, whom you heard in Fanchon and Marco's "Enchantment" idea, closing last night at the Fox, not only sings in his own language and English, but in Italian, French, German and Spanish as well.

Perhaps it would be better to say "Chinese" instead of "his own language," for Jue Fong is a native of Portland, Oreg., and a graduate of the University of Oregon, where he became a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity. He is one of the highest paid artists on the stage.

A remarkably fine contralto voice which needed no special training, and has never had any, as a matter of fact, was the powerful magnet that drew fame to Ethel Waters, star of Lew Leslie's "Rhapsody in Black," opening at the Belasco tonight.

Back in her native Pennsylvania the children of the neighborhood liked to hear her sing the songs of her race. After all the years, she still prefers the melancholy lament and the naive charms of the Negro spiritual to any other kind of song. Deeply religious by nature, she loses herself in the rich desolation of the spiritual. Mr. Leslie is said to have gone to considerable trouble to secure special numbers peculiarly adapted to the Waters tastes and voice.

Ethel Waters, like many another, got her start in Philadelphia cabarets. Harlem heard of her and engagements in Gotham night clubs followed. Soon she became one of the foremost crooners of the blues. Big-time vaudeville followed, and soon led to the singing movies. In a comparatively recent moving picture she almost stole the show from a galaxy of Hollywood's brightest stars by her singing "Am I Blue."

When the concert stage calls her, as it evidently will, she will be ready.

Of course you remember that Charles Winninger, in "Bad Sister," at the Rialto, is the husband of Blanche Ring, former queen of musical comedy, and, by marriage once removed, brother-in-law of Thomas Meighan, whose wife is Frances Ring, Blanche's younger sister.

And O. P. Heggie, playing Emma Dunn's husband in "Too Young to Marry," just as Charlie Winninger is in "Bad Sister," you probably remember first in the role of Androcles in George Bernard Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion," presented at the Belasco years ago with Anatole France's "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" as a curtain raiser.

It might be a good idea to reserve your world series tickets on your way in this afternoon!

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should try Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 20 years of study. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and help overcome constipation. Take nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes sold yearly. 15c. 30c. 60c

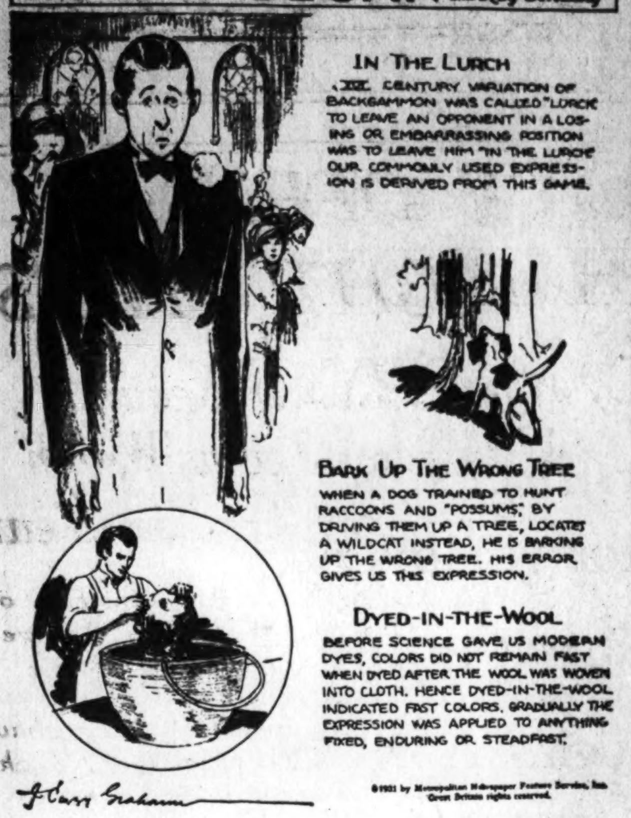
HOW IT BEGAN

By Russ Murphy and Roy Sevesky



IN THE LURCH

A XIX CENTURY VARIATION OF BACKGAMMON WAS CALLED "LURCH." TO LEAVE AN OPPONENT IN A LOSING OR EMBARRASSING POSITION WAS TO LEAVE HIM "IN THE LURCH." OUR COMMONLY USED EXPRESSION IS DERIVED FROM THIS GAME.

BARK UP THE WRONG TREE

WHEN A DOG TRAINED TO HUNT RACCOONS AND "POSSUMS," BY DRIVING THEM UP A TREE, LOCATES A WILDCAT INSTEAD, HE IS BARKING UP THE WRONG TREE. HIS ERROR GIVES US THIS EXPRESSION.

DYED-IN-THE-WOOL

BEFORE SCIENCE GAVE US MODERN DYES, COLORS DID NOT REMAIN FAST WHEN DYED AFTER THE WOOL WAS WOVEN INTO CLOTH. HENCE DYED-IN-THE-WOOL INDICATED FAST COLORS. GRADUALLY THE EXPRESSION WAS APPLIED TO ANYTHING FIXED, ENDURING OR STEADFAST.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

POISON FATALITIES.

A STUDY of 440 deaths from acute poisoning found recorded in the files of the Metropolitan Life Insuance Co. showed that 115 resulted from mistaking poisonous drugs for medicines or from overdoses of medicines. Bichloride of mercury, or corrosive sublimate, caused 22 of these deaths; arsenic, 12; lysol, 11; carbolic acid, 6. Some 34 others were distributed among a considerable number of other poisons.

Overdoses of allonal, luminal and veronal were responsible for 18 deaths. The deaths due to taking poison accidentally occurred principally among children. There were 104 such. Strychnine led the list of poisons causing death among children, followed by kerosene, lye, oil of wintergreen, arsenic and phosphorus.

It is only the occasional accident which causes deaths. Nonfatal accidents are far more frequent, but they do not get into the records. Here is a letter from a man who was in the habit of using eye drops diluted. He got his bottles mixed and used some acid from the wrong bottle. Fortunately the dilution was great enough so that the drops did not cause blindness, though he had a very bad five minutes and an uncomfortable week.

The lesson is that medicines should be conspicuously labeled and then put and kept in a closed cabinet. The cabinet should be placed where it is inaccessible to children. It should have narrow shelves, and the bottles and boxes should be placed in position to show the labels plainly. The position of the box should permit it to be capable of being well lighted day or night.

The danger of drinking substitutes for whisky is shown by these figures. One hundred and eighteen deaths resulted from drinking wood alcohol or denatured alcohol. When a man drinks these substitutes he is playing with death.

It is generally thought that there are more deaths from poison than find their way into the records. Some of these may be homicides. Taking a man for a ride and shooting him as an evidence of hospitality is a crude procedure scarcely worthy of our advanced society. Various classical citizens who lived a few centuries ago were much more skillful and scientific. They make our bump-'em-off ruffians look like ignorant apes. But it is anticipated that even these gorillas will learn the art and even that some of them have already done so.

Few police departments, sheriffs' departments and coroners' offices are equipped to analyze for poisons, especially some of the subtler kinds.

IT IS DANGEROUS.

C. D. writes:

1. Is it dangerous to remove moles on the face and other parts of the body with a medicine which is made for the purpose?

2. Is there any treatment which will cause a birthmark, which is about the size of a dollar and pink in color, on the neck, to disappear?

3. Would it be inherited by the children?

REPLY.

1. Yes.

2. Operation is done for some. Others are otherwise treated.

3. No.

Ornithologist to Study Death Rate of Pelicans

New Orleans, La., April 13 (U.P.).—E. S. Hopkins, ornithologist of the Louisiana conservation department, is making a trip to the marshes of southern Louisiana in order to determine what is causing the unprecedented number of deaths among pelicans there.

Hopkins expects to secure well pelicans, sick pelicans, and dead pelicans, and examine them for the presence of a parasite.

NATS AND MACKS RENEW FEUD TODAY AS RACE OPENS; TEAMS LAUNCH PENNANT CAMPAIGNS IN EIGHT CITIES

Close Campaigns Looming In Both Big Leagues as Another Flag Race Starts

Five Clubs Conceded Chance to Triumph in National.

Three Teams Under New Pilots; Macks, Cards Favored.

By HENRY McLEMORE.

NEW YORK, April 13 (U.P.).—The long dustry drive toward October and the glory and riches of the world series begins tomorrow, when sixteen major league clubs inaugurate the 1931 baseball season on eight different fronts.

As ever, the new season promises to be the grandest, most glorious and what not in the history of what is tritely, but rightly, termed the national sport. As ever, each and every club will begin the season with championship hopes running high and, as ever, but two will win. The losers, true to the finest traditions of the game, will explain just why they lost and chant as one, "Wait until 1932."

The 1931 campaign should provide the millions of fans with two of the hottest races seen in years. No less than five National League clubs—St. Louis, Chicago, New York, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh—are of championship caliber, while in the American Washington and New York—appear strong enough to wage a neck and neck battle to the finish.

Athletics and Cards Popular Favorites

Philadelphia's Athletics and the St. Louis Cardinals are the popular favorites to retain their honors won in 1930. These teams are favored, however, only in the event they receive their share of "breaks" and are able to keep their regular line-ups intact.

Four clubs will start the season without their full strength. The Brooklyn Robins will not be able to use Pitcher Adolf Luque for two weeks because of his dislocated thumb, and Second Baseman Fresco Thompson for three or four days because of a spiked hand.

George Pipgras, New York Yankee pitcher, still is under the weather as the result of an appendicitis operation, and Harry Heilmann, veteran Cincinnati outfielder, may be out the entire season because of arthritis.

The St. Louis Cards will be handicapped by the absence of Outfielder Chick Hafey, a holdout.

Three Clubs Under New Managers.

Three clubs will start the campaign under the guidance of new managers. Rogers Hornsby has replaced Joe McCarthy as boss of the Chicago Cubs, with McCarthy moving to the New York Yankees. John Shano Collins will make his mapor league managerial debut as leader of the Boston Red Sox.

The opening day schedule follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Brooklyn at Boston.
Pittsburgh at Chicago.
St. Louis at Cincinnati.
New York at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Detroit at St. Louis.
Chicago at Cleveland.
Philadelphia at Washington.
Boston at New York.

Washington's is likely to be the most gala opening with the world-champion athletics and the Nats providing the setting for the customary gay and elaborate ceremonies which the National Capital alone can accord.

A capacity crowd is assured for the Yankee Stadium, where the ample Mr. Babe Ruth will again unfurl himself for the delight of the audience of something like 75,000 persons.

Teams opening away from home will make their home debuts April 22. That is, all save Brooklyn, which will appear at Ebbetts Field for a single game with the Phillies on April 19.

Giants Nose Out Army, 4-3, in Final Exhibition

West Point, N. Y., April 13 (U.P.).—The New York Giants won a loosely played exhibition game with the Army team today, 4 to 3. Seven errors were made during the eight innings of play, five of them charged to the Giants.

New York got away to an early lead with three runs in the first inning and scored the winning run on an error and wild pitch in the seventh after the Army had tied the score in the fifth.

The game was late in starting because of a review held in honor of Prince and Princess Takamatsu, of Japan, and it was cut short to enable the Giants to get an early bus to New York. Score by innings.

New Ball to Receive First Test in Majors

New York, April 13 (U.P.).—The new baseball, which experts believe will be an aid to the pitchers rather than to the hitters, will receive its first major league test tomorrow.

The baseball which the National League will use this year has a looser and thicker cover than the one used in 1930 and also has raised stitches. The American League baseball will be the same as last year except the stitches have been raised.

The raised stitches are expected to be a big aid to pitchers, as it will enable them to get a better grip on the ball and put more "dope" on their curves, drops and other deliveries. The consensus of the experts is that batting averages will drop considerably because of the large seams.

MAJOR LEAGUE SCHEDULE TODAY

(By the Associated Press.)

The starting pitchers and probable attendances for the opening games of the mayor league season today are forecast as follows by the managers and fans, themselves.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Philadelphia at Washington—Earnshaw vs. Brown; 33,000.

Boston at New York—MacFayden vs. Ruffing; 45,000.

Detroit at St. Louis—Whitehill vs. Stewart; 13,000.

Chicago at Cleveland—Thomas vs. Ferrell; 22,000.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Brooklyn at Boston—Quinn vs. Zachary; 25,000.

Pittsburgh at Chicago—French vs. Root; 40,000.

New York, at Philadelphia—Fitzsimmons vs. H. Elliott; 18,000.

St. Louis at Cincinnati—Rhem vs. Benton; 30,000.

WRIT ENTERS RACE PRIZE TANGLE

Relatives Claim Part of $1,770,000 Won in Sweepstakes.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, April 13 (A.P.).—The $1,770,000 first prize in the Irish Sweepstakes was further tied up today when Justice Meredith ordered sweepstakes officials to invest the money pending settlement of the ownership of the ticket drawing the horse Grakle in the Grand National.

Two countrymen of Emilio Scala, who held the ticket, have secured a writ restraining the officials from paying the money to the London cafe owner on the ground that they are part owners. They are Toney Epicella and Matteo Constantino.

The complainants contended they possessed an agreement signed by Scala in which he promised to divide any winnings on the ticket. Scala's counsel argued that the winning ticket was listed on the agreement after the race had been run and thus was a forgery.

Scala's affairs are further complicated by the fact that he sold a major portion of the ticket to a London syndicate.

Joseph McGrath, director of the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes, said today there was no truth in statements that a million sweep tickets had been seized by customs officials in New York.

"The man may have had a book or two," he said, "and they made a million of it."

New York authorities said they found the tickets several days ago in the baggage of D. Fish, who described himself as a theatrical producer. Each ticket was valued at $2.50 and was said to represent the largest seizure of its kind in the port of New York.

D. C. Police Marksmen Lose Intercity Match

The Washington Police Pistol Team was nosed out, 941 to 937, in the final match of the intercity police marksmenship tests sponsored by the National Rifle Association, it was announced last night. The Massachusetts State Police administered the final coup, despite the fine work of Fondahl, of the local team, who scored a 195 out of 200.

The Boston police won the league championhip, with a record of four wins and no losses, with Dayton, Massachusetts State and Cleveland tied for second with two wins and two losses. Washington batted .000, with no wins and four losses.

The local team was made up of, besides Fondahl, Bridges, Kelly, McCormick and Brodie.

Cross-Winds Delay Trials of Gar Wood

Miami Beach, Fla., April 13 (A.P.). Brisk easterly cross-winds continued today to prevent Gar Wood from attempting to set a world's motorboat speed record, and Weather Bureau predictions for tomorrow were not bright.

Bringing occasional showers, the wind whipped across the Indian Creek course at a velocity of about fifteen miles an hour and kept Wood's Miss America IX in its cradle at his private dock throughout the day.

Weather Bureau officials tonight said the wind would continue easterly for probably the next two days, but added it should diminish gradually.

The present speedboat record is 103.49 miles an hour established by Kaye Don, British race car driver, in his Miss England II, on the Parana River at Buenos Aires recently. He broke the mark of 102.256, which Wood set a short time before in Miss America IX.

Wood said he was considering a new means of increasing the speed of his boat. This would be done through forcing oxygen from a tank into the carburetor, to be drawn into the cylinders with the gasoline. He said he believed the oxygen would cause a stronger explosion and thus develop more power.

COLUMBIA JRS. WIN.

The Colonial Juniors defeated the Takoma Tigers Juniors, 6-5, in eleven innings Sunday ni a game previously reported as a Tiger victory to The Post.

Virginia Nine Beaten by V.M.I.

Shomo, Relief Hurler, Stops Cavaliers to Win, 4-3.

Bryant Stars Afield; North Carolina Is League Leader.

Special to The Washington Post.

LEXINGTON, Va., April 13.—In a fast and exciting game, Virginia Military Institute defeated the University of Virginia by the score of 4 to 3 here today. It was a Tristate League game. Virginia scored two runs on a hit and three errors, and tallied again in the third with three singles.

Noble was driven to the showers and Shomo came in to stop the damage. Shomo pitched the remainder of the game with only three men getting past first base. In the sixth Dent, first man up, got a three-bagger and Shomo pitched superbly to keep him on third. The Keydets held a big batting rally in the fifth and scored all four tallies. The first two men up got on then Blocker hit a two-bagger, and a costly error of Pender brought in two more. Edmunds led with the willow, getting three hits out of four times up. Bryant was notable for his fielding with his difficult catches of five flies. It was a game marked with double plays, three of them stopping various threats.

Scott Would Bet $500 He Can Defeat Negro

London, April 13 (A.P.).—Phil Scott, British heavyweight boxing champion and beauty parlor operator, today offered to make a personal bet of $500 that he beats Larry Gains, of Toronto, Negro heavyweight champion of Canada, when they meet here June 13. Gains signed for the bout today.

Acclaimed here as a puncher, Gains rules a strong favorite over Scott, who has not fought since his beating at the hands of Young Stribling at Wimbledon last July.

Scott declared today he was in fine condition after weeks of light workouts. His beauty shop, he revealed, has not proved a brilliant financial success.

Marine Nine Beats Shepherd College, 10-3

Special to The Washington Post.

Quantico, Va., April 13.—Shepherd College Baseball Team made the sixth victim for the Marines when the Sea Soldiers easily outclassed them on the parade ground this afternoon by the score of 10 to 3. Despite a three-run lead, which the Marines spotted the college boys, they were unable to keep in the front long and erratic pitching and fielding, combined with three solid base hits and several stolen bases, sent the Marines out in front after the third inning.

Sutton, the Marines' cub hurler, while wild, pitched good baseball and never was in danger after the first inning, striking out eight during the game. Capt. Freeny led the attack for the Marines with three hits. The Marines fielded erratically in the first inning, which enabled the visitors to put across their three runs.

14,000 Seats on Sale For Opener Today

Although most of the boxes and reserved seats have been sold for today's opening baseball game between the Nationals and Athletics, 14,000 unreserved seats in the pavilions will be put on sale at Griffith Stadium this morning at 9 o'clock on a "first come, first served" basis.

Johnson Expects 1931 Pennant, Fearing Only Philadelphia Club

MANAGER WALTER JOHNSON, usually reticent when it comes to making predictions, last night came out flat-footedly with the opinion that he expects his Washington Team to win the 1931 pennant.

WALTER JOHNSON.

"If we get our share of the 'breaks,' or even do not get too many bad ones," he said, "I believe that we will win out in the coming race. My team is in great physical condition and the boys have the pennant bee buzzing in their bonnets. I believe that Philadelphia is the team we have to beat to win. I am not afraid of the others, although Cleveland, in my opinion, will bear watching. I don't believe that the Indians are well enough balanced to become serious contenders, but, in view of the Yankees' poor pitching staff, I look for them to finish third."

Five Montgomery Teams Enter Capital City League

Three Others Expected to Apply for Franchises in County Section; Season Scheduled to Start May 17.

THE Montgomery County section of the Capital City League was organized at a meeting held in Room 2 of the District Building last night, with five of the leading teams in that territory applying for franchoses. Needless to say, all five were highly confident of sporting The Post's gold baseballs at the conclusion of the season.

At least three more teams were reported by managers present as anxious to obtain berts in the loop, but were unable to have representatives present at the conference last night.

The teams represented and their managers are as follows: Takoma Tigers, Capital City League champions of the Maryland, District and Virginia sections last year, Earl Baker; Old Colony, E. H. Burdine; German's Bakery, O. K. Maher; Bethesda Fire Department, J. L. Murdock; Chevy Chase Grays, Nick Valenza.

Season to Start May 17.

It was voted to begin play Sunday, May 17, with franchise fees and signed players' contracts submitted to the league secretary on or before May 9. This will give each team sufficient time to play a three-game series with each of its opponents without conflicting with the dates set for the play-off with the District and Virginia winners.

The District of Columbia Umpires Association was approved as official arbiters for all games played in this section. The Reach official American League ball was adopted for use in the league for the current season. This is the same ball the teams used last season. By this act, the winning nine becomes eligible to receive the trophy offered by the Reach Sporting Goods Co.

The rules, as revised by the District section of the league, were found to be acceptable to all of the Maryland teams, with two minor exceptions, and the same rules will be enforced by all the teams in both groups.

Play in the Montgomery organization this year is expected to be of even higher caliber than the brand produced last year. The champion team of the three Capital League circuits barely nosed out the second place team by one game after one of the most hectic pennant battles in seasons.

Franchises Issued At Post.

The fan interest, too, is expected to be greater this season. Last year all of the clubs played to large crowds and, with league standards on a higher plane this year, a better attendance is forecast.

Teams who were unable to have representatives present at the meeting last night may obtain their franchises by applying to The Washington Post, where they will also receive their players' contracts. Thursday night at 8 p. m., in room 2 of the District Building, the teams of the Virginia section will meet to organize for the season.

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 13 (A.P.).—Gene Moore, jr., rookie outfielder, today was released on option by the Cincinnati Reds to the Minneapolis American Association Club. Moore was obtained by the Reds from Dallas (Tex.) League.

Dempsey Admits Divorce Plan Against Own Wishes

RENO, Nev., April 13 (A.P.).—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion pugilist, is in Reno for a divorce.

Dempsey admitted today that he planned to institute suit against his wife, Estelle Taylor of the films. He declared she had put her career above home life and her desire had wrecked their marital happiness.

"I have not heard from Estelle since I left Los Angeles on March 11," Dempsey said. "I took my clothes and personal belongings and my farewell at her request. It was she who said 'We are through.'"

He said he still loved his wife, but that he wanted a home, a family and family life, and declared it was against his personal wishes that he sought the divorce. He added he had never been a "squawker" and would not be now.

When they married, he said, it was agreed Estelle would continue acting as long as he actively engaged in fighting. When he quit the ring she was to quit the films. He said Estelle refused to do this and that for the last two years they had practically been apart.

The divorce complaint, he intimated, probably would charge incompatibility. He said there would be no sensational charges and no bitterness on his part.

Estelle regarded married life with him as a hindrance to her ambitions as an opera singer, Dempsey related.

He said they had agreed on a property settlement more than a year ago, and that he had given her a fair share of his property. He then explained he was no longer getting the big purses of his fighting days and had to keep busy at other pursuits.

MACK PICKS TEAM TO REPEAT

As Manager Says His Club Is as Good as in 1930.

(The following statements on the prospects of the two championship clubs of the major leagues conclude a series written for the Associated Press by the sixteen managers.)

By CONNIE MACK
(Manager, Philadelphia Athletics).

WE are starting off with the same team that won the October series last year. Whether the team will play up to that standard this year remains to be seen, as there is nothing certain in this world. I see no reason why the team as a whole should not play up to its last year's form.

If the Athletics do, the other clubs in the league will have to play better than they did last year to overcome the margin by which the Athletics won the pennant.

Nothing has occurred to make me think any of my players has gone back, so I am hopeful of the final result.

By CHARLES E. (GABBY) STREET
(Manager, St. Louis Cardinals).

A year ago at this time I said that I believed the Cardinals, barring injuries, were strong enough to win the 1930 pennant. This season it is my opinion that the club is formidable enough to repeat its triumph

I say this knowing that Chick Hafey, a great outfielder, is not with us, and from present indications will not be with us. Fortunately for the club, we have capable outfielders to replace him.

I think we will have improved pitching. Burleigh Grimes is ready to go right now and his help from the beginning of the season will be of much assistance. Jesse Haines also is ready and everyone knows he is a great pitcher. Of the new men, Derringer, late of Rochester, seems a find. Dizzy Dean has the makings of a great pitcher.

After watching Charley Gelbert last season and this spring I feel safe in saying he is destined to become one of the stars of the game With Bottomley, Frisch and Adams he helps to make one of the best infields in baseball.

Old Mike Gonzales is with us to help round out a great catching staff. Wilson will do most of the catching and when he is not behind the bat Mancuso fills in acceptably.

I look for a great fight, but believe we have a better chance than any of the others to finish on top.

"Valuable Player" Committee Named

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Although the two major leagues officially discontinued the practice, selection of the "most valuable player" in each circuit will be continued this year under the auspices of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

William J. Slocum, of New York, president of the association, today announced the makeup of special committees empowered to make the selections this season, as follows:

National League—Boston, James C. O'Leary; Brooklyn, Thomas Holmes; Chicago, Edward Burns; Cincinnati, Frank Grayson; New York, Daniel M. Daniel; Philadelphia, Ed Pollock; Pittsburgh, Charles J. Doyle; St. Louis, J. Roy Stockton.

American League — Boston, Burt Whitman; Chicago, John Hoffman; Cleveland, Stuart Bell; Detroit, Harry Bullion; New York, Charles Segar; Philadelphia, John J. Nolan; St. Louis, James M. Gould; Washington, John B. Kelleher.

ED. YEOMANS EXTENDS SHIELDS

Davis Cup Star Given Hard Battle by D. C. Netman.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 13 (U.P.). Frank X. Shields, New York, seeded No. 1, was pressed to the last ditch to defeat Ed Yeomans, Washington (D. C.), tennis star, 5—7, 6—4, 9—7, in a second round match in the annual United North and South tennis tournament here today.

All seeded players in both men's and women's divisions survived first and second round matches, today, though Marjorie Sachs, Boston, encountered almost as much opposition as did Shields in eliminating Virginia Rice, a fellow townswoman, 6—3, 2—6, 9—7. Both drew byes for the first round.

Men's singles—First round: Wilmer Hines, Columbia, S. C., national junior champion, defeated F. J. Haas, Washington, 6—1, 6—0. Shields defeated J. M. Smith, New York, 6—0, 6—0. Marcel Rainville, Montreal, defeated William Campbell, New York, 6—1, 6—2. Jack Wright, Montreal, defeated Mark Lynch, Raleigh, 6—1, 6—0.

C. S. Ridgeway, jr., Boston, defeated Harold Buckminster, Boston, 6—2, 6—2. B. T. Walsh defeated P. B. Hawk, Forest Hills, Long Island, default. C. A. Major, New York, defeated E. K. Graham, Chapel Hill, 6—4, 9—7. David Morgan, Asheville, defeated F. C. Baggs, New York, 6—4, 6—4. Ed Yeomans, Washington, defeated R. W. Travis, Youngstown, 6—1, 6—0. L. C. Wright, Charlotte, defeated J. Strong, Raleigh, 6—1, 6—3. Edward King, Pinehurst, defeated Clifton Flowers, Rockingham, 6—3, 3—6, 6—3.

Athletics Send Five Rookies to Minors

Philadelphia, April 13 (U.P.).—The world-champion Philadelphia Athletics today released five players to minor league clubs.

Charley Perkins, a left-handed pitcher, was released outright to the Jersey City Club of the International League, and Jimmy Deshong, another pitcher, was released on option to the same club.

Three players, George Snider, pitcher; Lou Finney, outfielder, and eddie Cihocki, infielder, were released under option to the Harrisburg Club of the Pennsylvania-New York League.

King Gustave, Sweden, Stars in Net Match

Paris, April 13 (A.P.).—King Gustave of Sweden and Henri Cochet, king of the tennis courts, defeated Pierre Landry and Maurice Goddet, 6—4 today in the fifth set of a doubles match that was halted last week at two sets all.

Gustave nobly upheld his part in the play of the "royal pair" on the Bois de Boulogne courts and showed Cochet some spectacular stroking Then, flushed with victory, the aged monarch called upon Martin Plaa, French Davis Cup trainer, to replace Goddet in the rival combination. The "royal pair" then beat Plaa and Landry two straight sets, 6—2, 7—5.

Miss Sachs Extended At Pinehurst Tennis

Pinehurst, N. C., April 13 (A.P.).—Virginia Cross, of Boston, carried Marjorie Sachs, Boston, national indoor champion, to three sets before losing, 6—3, 2—6, 9—7, today in the feature match of the women's singles of the North and South tennis tournament.

The two Boston players met in the second round after drawing byes in the first round.

Other results included:

First round—Mrs. John van Ryn, Philadelphia, defeated Anne Rainey, New York, 6—0, 6—0.

Second round—Mrs. Marian Jessup, Wilmington, Del., defeated Barbara Stoddard, New York, 6—3, 6—0; Anne Page, Philadelphia, defeated Florence Jennison, Chicago, 6—0, 6—1.

H. Rice Instead of West Only Change in Nats' Line-Up.

Brown vs. Earnshaw Is Likelihood; Mack Lacks Pitchers.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

TODAY'S the day; Griffith Stadium is the place; Washington and Philadelphia furnish the teams, and 30,000 or more of the rabid fans who last year stuck with the Nationals from start to finish, including President and Mrs. Hoover, the Cabinet, and other notables, make up the crowd which will be there. All of this, of course, has reference to the American League's opening game here this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Washington and Philadelphia teams finished one-two last season and ended their schedule here in a game in which the Nationals pounded George Earnshaw out of the box in ringing up a victory. Today Manager Walter Johnson and his charges hope to pick up where they left off last year.

Both teams will take the field almost as they ended the 1930 season. A last-minute shift brings Buddy Myer back to second base, following a layoff while Jack (Sonny Boy) Hayes was getting a tryout, with Harry Rice patroling the territory in center field due to Sam West's absence because of an attack of influenza.

Brown Earns Honor Of Starting Game.

There will be at least one change in pitchers, as Lloyd Brown, young southpaw, who was more or less on trial at the start of the last race, did so well during the season and has been so impressive in the exhibition games this spring, has earned for himself the honor of starting on the mound for the Nationals.

Connie Mack, the 68-year-old manager of the Athletics, who is starting his thirtieth season in that capacity and who has hopes of leading his team to its ninth league pennant and its third straight world's title, is prone to play tricks with the scribes and last night he would make no definite announcement as to which of his flingers he would call on.

In the experts' opinion, it should be either George Earnshaw or Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, probably the former, but it may be most any member of the Mackian mound staff. The veteran mahout of the White Elephants has a habit of crossing the dope in this respect and he may do so today. Last year, it will be remembered, Mack started Carroll Yerkes, an unknown.

Mack Will Resume With Same Team.

With the possible exception of his pitcher, Mack will start today with the team which left the field following victory in the final game of the world series last October. Jimmy Dykes, third sacker, has been inactive much of the exhibition series this spring, due first to pulling a Charley horse and later to receiving one or two minor injuries. This caused a shift in the line-up, Jimmy Foxx going to third and Phil Todt, obtained from the Red Sox on waivers, holding down the first-base job, but Dykes is ready again and will be on the job this afternoon.

Connie Mack brought his team to Washington early last night so that the athletes would get a good night's sleep and avoid the bustle of traveling this morning.

Mack, let it be said, does not hesitate to say that he looks for most of the hurdles his team must clear in the coming race to be set up by the Nationals, while Manager Johnson sees only the Athletics between him and a pennant.

Rivalry of Two Teams Heated.

Last year it was a two-team race between Washington and Philadelphia practically from start to finish. Rivalry between the two entrants, always heated, reached the boiling point on several occasions, and the players themselves will not be so awed by the impressive pregame ceremonies this afternoon as to forget that they are starting another "dog eat dog" fight.

Philadelphia won the 1930 opening game and then lost seven in a row to the Nats. Washington then fell in a slump and dropped the next seven straight to the A's just when it appeared the champions were on the run. This string of defeats is generally held responsible for the Nationals' loss of the pennant. The victories gave the Mackmen heart and they perked up and continued on to victory. A belated comeback enabled Johnson's team to gain the series with the Men of Mack, 12 to 10, and gave them the rather hollow honor of being the only team in the circuit to do so.

So today is not merely the start of the 1931 baseball season for the re-

EQUIPOISE WINS 1931 DEBUT AT HAVRE DE GRACE

Whitney Ace Easily Wins Feature

Odds-on Choice Beats Panetian by 2½ Lengths.

123-Pound Impost No Handicap; Dark Hero Third.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.
Special to The Washington Post.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 13.—Beginning its spring meeting under bright skies and summer weather, with the proceeds going to charity, the Harford Association played its high card in the fourth race, when it procured the entry of America's leading 3-year-old, Equipoise, winter favorite for the Derby and also favored for the Preakness.

C. V. Whitney was repaid for his cooperation with the Havre de Grace management by entering the colt that all might see him in the Glen Oaks, the feature of the opening day program, by the cheers for the son of Pennant—Swinging when the magnificent colt stepped on the track in answer to the bugle calling the field of five to the post.

Equipoise Scores by 2½ Lengths.

Equipoise won by 2½ lengths. G. D. Widener, whose entries were not out of the money today, furnished the second horse in Panetian, and H. T. Archibald's Dark Hero was third, four lengths farther back, with Sunny Lassie fourth. The time was 1:11 3-5, 6 furlongs. Fractional time, 0:23 1-5, 47.

Equipoise is all that has been said about him. He was conceding thirteen pounds to the next high weight, Sunny Lassie. Equipoise was restive at the post, but Robertson broke him in front. Panetian was permitted to pass him. Rated next the pace, Equipoise came nearer the leader rounding into the stretch. Once in the stretch, Robertson unloosed a rap and the favorite bounded to the front and drew away, but he never was permitted to go as fast as he wanted to. He paid 25 cents on the dollar, 1 to 4. The colt had no surplus flesh. He was trained to the minute, a compliment to Fred Hopkins.

There was a large crowd cheering wildly at the finish of the race, reminding one of the old days when Man o' War was wont to thrill at Havre de Grace.

Equipoise's Earnings Now $157,835.

Equipoise has started in seventeen races, won nine, second in five, third in one and unplaced in two. He has won, including the Glen Oaks today, $157,835. Cornelius V. Whitney came down from New York to see Equipoise, his best horse, make his debut. His chief trainer, Tom Healy, accompanied him.

Mrs. John Hay Whitney's Brocado, a filly by The Porter-Brocatelle, winged her way to a close victory in the first race, coming from far back on the outside to beat fourteen other 2-year-old fillies, most of which were making their first appearance under colors.

There was a struggle in the last few paces among four which finished heads apart. George D. Widener's St. Mica was second, H. Teller Archibald's Westy's Rose third, and the Glen Riddle Farm's Temple Bells fourth.

Westy's Rose set the early pace, followed by St. Mica, and the large field was well bunched outside the leaders. St. Mica had conquered her rival, Westy's Rose, when George Ellis made his unexpected bid at the last with Mrs. Whitney's entry. The time was 0:55 1-5 for the four and a half furlongs, which was very fast. The winner returned $10.10 for a $2 mutuel. Little time was consumed at the barrier and the start was good.

George D. Widener, Philadelphia, had better luck in the second race than in the first, for he won easily with Scatter. Rockdun, a field horse, was second by a head in front of Portcodine. Holiday was fourth. The Superior Stable's Curtsy was scratched, as the field went to the post and the money refunded to purchasers who bet on the filly. Scatter was the favorite and was sent right to the front, with Holiday the closest to him in the chase until Portcodine moved up second. The winner paid $4.10. The field was $8.90 a place. Time, 1:13 1-5. Scatter was much the best, winning by four lengths.

Protractor, Choice, Cops In the Third.

Another favorite scored in the third race and it was a sensational run down the stretch. Protractor, L. Perry's entry, under a waiting ride by Kurtsinger, took the lead at the turn into the home stretch, to beat J. W. Y. Martin's fast filly, Con Amore, by two-thirds of a length. Sun Mission was third and the Walter Jefford's colt, Aegis, fourth.

Miss Betty Bowman's Era led all the way in the fifth race, winning by three lengths. Spectacular, closing fast, was second, and Elizabeth third, five lengths back. T. Fowler, who had the mount on Era, "loafed in front," while Spectacular was last away and when he moved up second and went out after Era in earnest, the latter moved away easily and the Torrell mare's quest was hopeless. The winner, paying $4.10, and Spectacular were almost equal choices.

P. R. Codd's English-bred Foundation Stone, which cost the Pulitzers $25,000, but proved a disappointment, won the sixth race, and paid the longest price of the day, $15.90. With W. Prior up, he led all the way, having a margin of almost two lengths. Bask was second and Luck Piece, favorite, third. The winner was never in danger.

Keith, slight favorite over My Scoop, won the seventh race by two lengths over Mary Dale, with My Scoop third. This made a double for A. Robertson, who had the mount on Keith. Keith paid $4.40.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—BROCADO, $10.10, $6.00, $4.00; ST. MICA, $5.00, $3.40; WESTY'S ROSE, $4.00.

BROCADO, outrun first three furlongs, responded with splendid courage when put to a drive in stretch run and, closing stoutly at end was up in final strides. ST. MICA forced the early pace and had lot taken out of her racing WESTY'S ROSE into submission. She hung after getting on even terms with the latter. WESTY'S ROSE, a fast breaker, went to the front soon after the break and drew away rounding the far turn. She showed good speed until last furlong and weakened when put to a drive. MAUREEN O ran an even race. JUSTA MAID a very slow beginner.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 3:05. Off at 3:06. Winner, G. D. *Field.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SCATTER, $4.10, $3.10, $2.70; ROCK DUN (field), $8.90, $5.10; PORTCODINE, $6.90.

SCATTER, quick to find his foot, outran his field from the break, and after opening up an easy lead was rated in front under slight restraint to stretch turn. Hugged the rail entering the homestretch and drew away at his leisure final furlong. ROCK DUN, a forward contender from the start, responded with good courage when put to a drive and stalled off a determined challenge from PORTCODINE at end. Latter, hard ridden from the top of homestretch, was gradually wearing ROCK DUN down. He broke fast but was unable to keep pace with the winner in early stages. HOLIDAY bore out entering homestretch, where he lost ground. SUN CRAIG broke and immediately wheeled and unseated his rider and bolted through the gap.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,400. The Combat. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gate. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:35. Off at 3:37. Winner, L. Perry's b. g. 5, by Tetrameter—St. Ina. Trained by W. Short. Values to winner, $1,000; second, $225; third, $125; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23, 0:47 1-5, 1:11 4-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—PROTRACTOR, $3.20, $2.20, $2.10; CON AMORE, $2.70, $2.20; SUN MISSION, $2.30.

PROTRACTOR, raced under slight restraint first three furlongs, gradually improved his position rounding the far turn but went wide entering homestretch, where he lost a couple of lengths. Went to the front with a rush when straightened out but had to be ridden out at end to stall off CON AMORE. Latter broke fast and set a rapid pace. She saved ground at all of the turns and responded with a game effort when put to punishment. SUN MISSION outgamed AEGIS when put to a drive. SEA FOX, a forward contender to top of homestretch, weakened under pressure.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,400. The Glen Oaks. For 3-year-olds. Start good from gate. Won easily; place, same. Went to post at 4:05. Off at 4:08. Winner, C. V. Whitney's ch. c., by Pennant—Swinging. Trained by F. Hopkins. Value to winner, $1,000; second, $225; third, $125; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 1-5, 0:47, 1:11 3-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—EQUIPOISE, $2.50, $2.40, $2.10; PANETIAN, $4.60, $2.40; DARK HERO, $2.20.

EQUIPOISE broke in stride and following PANETIAN closely for the first three furlongs while under restraint, went into lead without effort when approaching the homestretch and drew out at his leisure during the stretch run. He appears in perfect condition and was racing smoothly at the end. PANETIAN had good speed from the barrier, raced under steadying restraint while making the pace, but was unable to stay with the winner when put to a drive. DARK HERO was away sluggishly, secured racing room on the inside when improving his position and was gaining steadily. JOHN F went along in pursuit of the pace early. He weakened and was not persevered with through the final stages. SUNNY LASSIE was always outrun.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, 1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from gate. Won easily; place, same. Went to post at 4:41. Off at 4:44. Winner, Miss Betty Bowman's br. g. 5, by Audacious—Notime. Trained by D. Yates. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24, 0:49 2-5, 1:15, 1:41 2-5, 1:54.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—ERA, $4.10, $2.10, $2.10; SPECTACULAR, $2.10, $2.10; ELIZABETH, $2.30.

ERA outran his field to the first turn, was steadied along in front while resisting opposition from REFORM. Shook the latter off when leaving the backstretch and came away smartly when shaken up during the final furlong. SPECTACULAR, taken under stiff restraint for the first six furlongs, moved up menacingly when released from restraint, but was held perfectly safe in the closing test. ELIZABETH, hustled along from the start and saving ground throughout, was best of the others. REFORM raced in pursuit of ERA for seven furlongs and weakened. GAMBOL trailed his field for the entire trip.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from gate. Won ridden out; place, driving. Went to post at 5:16. Off at 5:17½. Winner, P. B. Codd's ch. h. 8, by Rock Flint—Alpha. Trained by P. B. Codd. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24, 0:49 2-5, 1:14 3-5, 1:42, 1:55 1-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—FOUNDATION STONE, $15.90, $8.80, $3.50; BASK, $5.70, $3.20; LUCK PIECE, $2.30.

FOUNDATION STONE went into a long lead in the first half mile, was taken under steadying restraint thereafter, saved ground and continuing gamely when put to pressure, outstayed BASK. Latter, in closest attendance of the winner all during the running, made repeated efforts in the closing stages and fought it out courageously. LUCK PIECE was kept closer up than usual and failed to respond when the real test came. MADDER was taken back shortly after the start and allowed to drop far out of contention. She settled in her stride after six furlongs and closed some ground. RING ON was never a factor. EXPENSE, prominent in the early running, flattened out when put to punishment. BLACK FRIAR lacked speed at all stages.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from gate. Won ridden out; place, driving. Went to post at 5:46¼. Off at 5:47. Winner, C. M. Two-dollar mutuels paid—KEITH, $4.80, $2.70, $2.10; MARY DALE, $2.50, $2.10; MY SCOOP, $2.20.

KEITH sprinted into a commanding lead when straightened away on the backstretch, was given a breathing spell at the far turn, and held on well when challenged through the final furlong. MARY DALE, as usual slow to settle in full stride, improved her position rapidly after seven furlongs and was going strongly at the finish. MY SCOOP faltered after making a bold effort at the far turn. MAD MULLAH showed good speed until he began tiring. The race will prove beneficial. REALTOR and HAT BRUSH met with no mishaps.

Emerson-Business In 5-5 Practice Tie

Emerson Institute's batters peppered out four hits and cashed in on four runs in the third inning of yesterday's game with Business to give them an even 5-to-5 score, when the practice game was mutually called after the fourth inning. The game was played on the Monument Grounds.

Silverman, Stenog flinger, started well and finished up strongly to hold the Maroon to five hits, four of which came in the third. He mowed down five batsmen on strikes.

Emerson showed good fielding form, allowing but one error, something of an oddity in high school baseball. The Business Team was more of an offender, letting six grounders get away from them.

Talbot and Draper divided the Emerson pitching duties, and held the Stenogs to three hits. Too many free passes kept Business runners on base, however, in all four innings.

Association Season Also Gets Start Today

Chicago, April 13 (A.P.).—What promises to be one of the closest American Association pennant races in years gets under way along the Eastern front of the eight-team circuit tomorrow with a probable grand total of 55,000 fans watching the inaugurals and with Louisville and St. Paul standing out as favorites to capture the flag.

The inaugural battle lines, with probable starting pitchers and crowds:

At Louisville—Minneapolis, Benton, vs. Louisville, Marcum. Probable attendance, 15,000.

At Columbus—Milwaukee, Polli, vs. Columbus, Ash. Probable attendance, 12,000.

At Indianapolis—St. Paul, Betts, vs. Indianapolis, Burwell. Probable attendance, 10,000.

At Toledo—Kansas City, Sanders, vs. Toledo, Mays. Probable attendance, 7,000.

Louisville and St. Paul stood out as preseason favorites to win the pennant, not only because they finished one-two last year, but because they have retained most of their strength.

P. REMILLARD TO RIDE FOR WIDENER

Star Jockey Contract Brings $15,000; Other Notes.

Special to The Washington Post.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 13.—Joseph E. Widener, of New York, is expected to turn over $15,000 to W. W. Finn, of Lexington, Ky., before nightfall, thus taking over the contract which the Kentucky horseman holds on Pat Remillard, the lad who tied Albert Robertson with eleven victories for the honor of being the leading winning rider at Bowie.

Finn took Remillard to New York this morning to close the deal, thus forcing the lad who hails from Beresford, S. Dak., to cancel his engagements here today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Vaughn, of Freehold, N. J., accompanied by Ed Holland, of Atlantic City, were clubhouse visitors. The Vaughns will run a small string here, while Holland also has several horses in training. They will remain throughout the remainder of Maryland's spring season.

Horsemen expressed regret when word reached here from Washington that Jim Bean, popular turfman, had died in that city.

This plant was a veritable fairyland, Track Superintendent Jimmy Ross having everything looking new. The barns at the head of the homestretch are white and red, while those in other parts of the court are yellow and red. The railings encircling the racing strip are white with red poles. Spring flowers, which have yet to blossom, have been planted in the center field and on the lawns around the clubhouse and paddock. These flowers should be in bloom in a few days unless a sudden cold snap appears.

Roy W. Seldon pulled a good one today. He failed to bring the Superior Stable's Curtsey to the paddock in time for the second race, giving as an excuse that he thought she was in the following race. Tickets had been sold on the filly, but they were promptly refunded. He was fined $50 for the mistake.

The Seagram Stable's Sun Craig, bolted soon after the start of the second race and tossed Jockey P. McGinnis. The horse disappeared in the direction of the stables.

Uncle Jim Arthur scratched Guarny off today's program in memory of Jim Bean, of Washington, who died yesterday at his home. Bean and Arthur have long been associated in racing.

Bob Padgett, prominent Baltimore business man and politician who has been confined to his home due to a leg injury, paid his first visit of the season.

J. H. Carstairs, of Philadelphia, Julius Reeder, of New Orleans, and Bill Woollatt, general manager of the Thorncliffe, Canada, track were clubhouse visitors.

Capt. P. M. Walker's Dunfern failed to ship properly from Bowie and the stewards excused him from today's second race.

'Honey Boy' Finnegan Becomes Court Officer

Boston, April 13 (A.P.).—Dick (Honey Boy) Finnegan, for many years a first-rank lightweight boxer, today announced his definite retirement from the ring to become a suffolk County court officer.

"Honey Boy" Finnegan first gained fame in professional boxing ranks in Washington, after winning the United States Navy featherweight championship. In bouts in Washington and at Berwyn, Md., he scored decisions over Johnny Dundee and Goldie Ahearn.

Heavy Chisox Attack Trounces Toledo, 13-8

Toledo, Ohio, April 13 (U.P.).—Chicago's White Sox won their final exhibition game today, defeating the Toledo American Association Team, 13 to 8. The major leaguers piled up a total of 20 hits off three Toledo moundsmen. Score by innings.

DEMPSEY PLANNING FOR NEVADA DIVORCE

He expressed the hope that Mrs. Dempsey succeeds in her career. He said he had not been calling her up nightly on this last trip away from Los Angeles and that she had not called him, and that in two years she had not written him a line.

Today he concluded negotiations for lease of a large home in the fashionable residential district.

Dempsey said he would not "go into any cross-fire controversy" in connection with statements made by his wife in Hollywood. "My statement speaks for itself and I have nothing further to say. My plans are definitely set, and whatever Estelle cares to do is her affair. I am not vindictive and bear no malice. What the trend of Estelle's mind is I do not know."

NEITHER Charlie Paddock, Frank Wycoff nor George Simpson can claim the title of "World's Fastest Human." R. P. Williams, now a physical director at Wittenberg College, in Springfield, Ohio, was the fastest human the world has ever known. And, strange as it seems, the 100-yard speed record that he established was over a quarter of a century ago. It is probably the only track speed record that has weathered record-breaking onslaughts of the "modern marvels." William also ran the century in 9 1-5 seconds on three different occasions. His almost unbelievable record of 9 seconds was made at Winthrop, Mass., in May, 1906, on an accurately measured track and timed by five absolutely perfect watches, each of which showed 9 seconds for the 100 yards.

Tech, Emerson Unable To Find Playing Field

Inability to secure a diamond in the Monument Lot caused the cancellation last night of today's game between Tech and Emerson Institute. It was to have been the first appearance of the 1931 edition of the Manual Trainers' team this year, and one of the two games scheduled to put Tech in shape for the opening of the high school series Friday.

Tech now looks forward to the Hyattsville game tomorrow as the game in which it must knock off all the rough edges before Central is met in the series opener. Coach Edwards will start Batson in the box against the Suburbanites, with Chewning, a newcomer, in reserve. Tech will have to step along to win from Hyattsville. The Maryland Freshmen had to battle to win a 12-6 decision from them last week.

Eastern will know this morning whether it will have a team in the dual track meet Saturday at College Park between the freshmen teams of Catholic University and Maryland. Coach Mike Kelley has written to officials of both schools and will know today whether he may make it a three-cornered affair.

Dark Magnet Rated Best In Havre de Grace Feature

Kilmer Filly Named to Beat Phantasime by Snodgrass.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 14.—The second day of the Havre de Grace meeting, which began brilliantly yesterday, is featured by The Adorable, ni which nine 3-year-old fillies are listed to race for 5½ furlongs.

In The Adorable, DARK MAGNET, W. S. Kilmer filly, is selected to win. At this track last fall she beat a good field, includnig Phantasime, which also is in this race, and other good noes. This will be her first start of the year, but she hsa worked well and has the class. PHANTASIME is expected to again be a contender. She started at Bowie, but after running a nose finish with Toney Princess, was later beaten by Peace Dove. MEASURE, from the Greentree Stable, making her first start of the year, is expected to get inside the money circle. MEASURE was fast last year, and beat Harlem and other good ones.

FIRST RACE—LEVANTE appears best, but it may be a close finish wiht QUORUM. The advantage of the Zeigler Stable's entry is that he had three conditioning races at Bowie and in his last there he was htird to Colossal in a stake, ni which the time was sizzling. G. D. Widener's QUORUM has not been out this year, but the Widneer horses showed they were fit on the initial card at this track. He was fourth at Saratoga to Epithet. EIGHTY TWENTY is said to be a fast worker and may be third.

SECOND RACE—Mr. Widener's WAR SAINT is best in the second race. He won four races last year in fast company. CRASHER, winner of eight races last year, is dangerous, and he should be second. BLIND LOVE has an outside chance and has been tabbed for third money.

THIRD RACE—Two-year-olds go here. WISE COUNT, on the ease with which he won his only start at Bowie, is selected. There is a rumor that he may not start for some reason. BRIGHT BIRD is highly regarded by the clockers and may get in. FALL APPLE, from the Whitney Stable, also will be well backed. Zeigler's PEACOCK ALLEY, by Epinard, also is said to be very fast.

FIFTH RACE — WORKLESS and FIRST MISSION should fight it out in the fifth race. WORKLESS was second in his two last Bowie starts. He may like this track better and is on edge. FIRST MISSION is in light and waiting for a spot. BUD CHARLTON showed enough at Bowie to warrant placing him in the money.

SIXTH RACE — GREY GULL, daughter of Grey Lag, is expected to take this on New Orleans form. She beat better company more than once. She has worked fast. OTILLA won her last at Bowie, beating Tang, and is dangerous. LADY BIENVILLE, second in her last start, should hold the others safe unless NURSERY RHYMES comes to life.

SEVENTH RACE—COGWHEEL is the form horse. He was beaten by Chio Boy at Bowie in a better field than this. Has worked fast since. ASTRON, a good one from the Glen Riddle Farm, should be the contender. FAIRMAN is always at his best here and may get in the money.

HOPKINS NET TEAM BEATS COLONIALS

G.W. Racqueters Win But Two of Nine Matches Played.

TOURNAMENT tennis came out in full bloom yesterday at Columbia Country Club as the teams of George Washington University and Johns Hopkins battled it out on the newly rolled courts, with the Colonials taking a 7-2 drubbing at the hands of the visiting outfit.

Showing plainly the loss of Bill Seidel, Richard Edge and Larry Phillips, George Washington dropped behind from the opening match. Starting the winning streak of his team, Charlie Brooke trimmed Ray Gable, of G. W., 6—1, 6—0, by dint of a generally superior game, especially in serving.

Considine First G. W. Winner.

Emanuel Farber, one of the best of the junior players of Baltimore, put the Blue Jays ahead by two matches as he trounced Al Ogus, also by a 6—1, 6—0 score.

G. W. was three matches down, counting Alan Staubly's loss to Lou Palitz. The first win appeared on the Colonials' calendar as Bob Considine outstroked Herman Goldberg, captain of the invaders. Goldberg hit considerably harder than the local player, but was unsteady in the pinches.

The only other victory scored by the Colonials came in the final match of the day. In it, Staubly and Ogus defeated Helmholtz and Lebou, 8—6, 12—10.

SINGLES.

Considine (G. W.) defeated Goldberg, 6—2, 6—3; Helmholtz (J. H.) defeated Staubly, 3—6, 6—1, 6—4; Palitz (J. H.) defeated Goldsmith, 6—4, 7—5; Farber (J. H.) defeated Ogus, 6—1, 6—0; Brooke (J. H.) defeated Gable, 6—1, 6—0; Dietz (J. H.) defeated Sherfy, 4—6, 6—3, 6—2.

DOUBLES.

Goldberg and Brooke (J. H.) defeated Considine and Younianski, 6—4, 1—6, 6—4; Staubly and Ogus (G. W.) defeated Helmholtz and Lebou, 8—6, 12—10; Farber and Palitz defeated Sherfy and Goldsmith, 2—6, 8—6, 6—2.

NATS AND MACKMEN RESUME OLD FEUD

spective teams, but rather the beginning of another hot pennant race. Throughout the country the Mackmen are picked to win, with the Capital City entry to finish second, but in many cases the guesses are made solely because the A's are the present champions.

Outhit Athletics Last Season.

On dope the Nationals appear to have a royal chance. They had the best pitching staff in the league last year and there is a good chance that their present one will be even better. The Johnsons outhit the A's in the 1930 race, while they were outfielded by the Quakers by only a percentage point. Washington was weak in reserve strength last season and its present machine has been equipped with spare parts almost as good as the originals.

On the other hand, Philadelphia will be no better than it was in 1930 and may not be as good. No one questions the power of the Mackian hitters, but there is some doubt as to whether Boley, Bishop and Dykes will stand up afield through a whole season. At times last year their defensive work was quite spotty.

The big question mark, however, has to do with the Philadelphia mound staff. Mack did the "can't be done" stunt of going through the whole of last season and winning a pennant with practically three men—Earnshaw, Grove and Walberg. On the few occasions that this trio was staggering from overwork, he was fortunate in getting by with Mahaffey, Shores, Rommel and Quinn, none of them first-class pitchers.

Unable to Develop Young Pitchers.

Mack is trying to do the same thing again this season; not because he wants to, but because he has been unable to develop any other capable hurlers.

Mahaffey, Shores and Rommel are still available, and the best Mack has obtained from his new crop is three youngsters who are green and inexperienced. One is Hank McDonald, 19 years old, who performed with Portland last season; another is Lew Krausse, 18 years old, who graduated from Media High School last June, while the third is Buck Carter, 22, who came up from Alabama Poly. All are right-handers.

And it is largely on the collapse of the Athletic pitching staff that the Nationals are betting and are pinning their pennant hopes.

Outfielder Sam West reported at Griffith Stadium yesterday, but was sent home again and told to go back to bed. Trainer Mike Martin examined his throwing arm and announced that most of the swelling had left. Sam is weak from the grip, however, and probably will not be able to play for two or three days from this malady even if it turns out that his arm has not been affected.

Outfielder Alvin (Jake) Powell and Pitcher Carlos (Chief) Moore, who failed to make the grade with Chattanooga and were returned to the Nationals, reported to President Clark Griffith yesterday. They will be shipped to the Springfield Club of the Eastern League.

Billy Southworth's Rochester Redwings remained over yesterday and worked out with the Nationals in the morning.

METZGER, NOTRE DAME, JOINS C. U. COACHING STAFF

All-American Guard Will Be Aid

Return of Gross as Line Coach Seen as Doubtful.

3 Notre Dame Men Now on Staff at Brookland.

BERT METZGER, mighty atom of the Notre Dame Football Teams of 1929 and 1930, has signed to assist Head Coach Dutch Bergman in spring football practice at Catholic University, it was announced at the Brookland institution last night. Metzger will arrive this afternoon from Chicago at 3 o'clock and proceed directly to Brookland to don coaching habiliment.

Coincident to this announcement, it was revealed that the return of Assistant Coach Lou Gross is uncertain. Gross, who joined Bergman's staff last fall as assistant in charge of the line, has a lucrative position with a nationally known business concern and may not be able to continue coaching while representing his firm. He is now in New York at headquarters, seeking an arrangement whereby he will be stationed in this vicinity, which would permit him to continue as Bergman's assistant.

Will Coach Only During Spring.

Metzger will be employed only for the spring practice, which has three or four more weeks to run, the termination being conditional upon the weather. It is improbable that he will take up coaching as a profession, it was said.

Metzger was mentioned on several all-American elevens last fall. His 149 pounds belied in amazing fashion his work at guard on the championship Notre Dame Team. He was praised by Knute Rockne and public alike for the way in which he dealt with opponents weighing sometimes 50 pounds more than he.

The signing of the "mighty atom" adds one more Notre Dame man to the Catholic University grid coaching staff. George Vlk, end on the teams on which Metzger played, was appointed end coach of the Cardinals last week. Head Coach Bergman played with Notre Dame in 1915, 1916 and 1919.

St. Francis College May Be Played.

The Catholic University schedule is practically completed for the 1931 season, with negotiations now under way with St. Francis College, of Loretto, Pa., for a game to be played here on November 14. This will be the eighth game of the Cardinal grid program, the others already listed being Boston College, at Boston, September 26; City College, of New York, here, October 3; Gallaudet here, October 9 or 10; Octboer 17 open; North Carolina State, at Raleigh, N. C., October 23; Duquesne at Pittsburgh, October 30; Manhattan here, November 7, and Providnece here, November 21.

St. Alban's Nine Wins After Tying 1st Game

Strong pitching by Patton and Watson featured as the St. Alban's nine battled Charlotte Hall and Swavely Prep in a double-header yesterday on the St. Alban's field. The first game, limited to five inings by agreement, ended in a 4-to-4 tie, but the Saints captured the decision in hte nightcap, 7 to 5.

Patton held Charlotte Hall's batters to six htis in the opening tussle, while Watson yelded but four and artuck out twelve in the second game. Alger, who got a double, triple and hoem run, was the lone Swavely player able to solve Watson's curves.

son to bolster the club's hitting power which pales considerably toward the lower end of the batting order.

Manager Connie Mack again will place his dependence on the same line-ups that carried him to victory in 1929 and 1930. The 68-year-old pilot of the Mackmen will be completing his third full decade of managership this season. Again he boasts a devastating array of hitters featured by Al Simmons and Jimmy Foxx, but labors under the handicap of only two winning pitchers—Grove and Earnshaw.

N. C. DEFEATS GENERALS, 8 TO 7

Tar Heels Rally in Seventh to Clinch League Game.

Special to The Washington Post.

LEXINGTON, Va., April 13.—North Carolina took advantage of Washington and Lee's miscues and found Leigh Williams' offerings for five hits in the seventh inning to pound out an 8-to-7 victory in a Tri-state League game here this afternoon. The victory over the Generals gave the Tarheels the lead in the league race with four victories and a lone defeat.

In the fifth Routon's double off Shield's glove, Mattox's walk and successive hits by Fitzgerald, J. Richardson and Thibodeau gave the Generals a four-run lead. A hit to right which Richardson allowed to roll through his legs for a run, a walk and four successive hits sent Williams from the mound with the score tied and two on base. Jarrett was nicked for another hit and Violett miscued to allow the base runners to score. The scoring ended when the Generals turned three singles into a run in their half of the inning.

Fighting Cocks Battle To "Dead Heat" in South Carolina Bout

YORK, S. C., April 13 (U.P.). The cock-fighting laurels of two South Carolina cities were trailed in the dust today when gamecocks representing Camden and Rock Hill fought five minutes to a double knockout, fatal in both cases, in an illegal tournament near Camden.

One special South Carolina judge entered some of his own game cocks in the meet and lawyers, doctors and business men, farmers, bootleggers and rum-runners sat excitedly arm to arm watching the great bout from which all "liquor and pikers" were barred.

The principals of the main bout—Camden and Rock Hill are as good names as any others—battled fiercely amid lightning-swift jabs of the long steel gaffs and showers of feathers.

Camden drew first blood, driving his gaff deep into Rock Hill's breast. The Rock Hill entry rolled over on his back, his legs kicking. If Camden had been satisfied then, he might have been awarded a knockout decision, but the blundering cock sailed into his opponent's kicking spurred legs and got for himself a round that pierced the brain and killed him instantly. Rock Hill died a moment later.

Big Right-Hander Former Mail Man

When Big Jim Weaver, New York Yankee recruit hurler, started his baseball career back in 1923, he wasn't at all certain that the game was more important than mail carrying.

JIM WEAVER

At any rate, Weaver had a job with Uncle Sam in Kentucky, and he wasn't giving it up to pitch for Fullerton. This isn't so curious when it is known that Weaver's first contract with the club, a Class D outfit, called for $60 a month.

After launching his baseball career, doubts as to his course again assailed Weaver. He thought of becoming a school teacher, and for a winter attended the West Kentucky Teachers' College at Bowling Green.

He is big enough to handle tough boys in any class. His height is six feet seven inches, and his weight, 230 pounds.

Weaver worked in 55 games last year, with Baltimore, in the International League, winning 19 while losing 11. His earned run average was 3.36.

PRO GOLFERS IN 3-WAY TIE HERE

Spencer, Barnett and Hunt Shoot 75; Other News.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

THE initial event of the season's program of the Middle Atlantic Professional Golfers Association, played yesterday on the course of the Indian Spring Club, attracted a field of 21 professionals, including many who are connected with Baltimore clubs. Competition was a sweepstakes, 18 holes.

There was a triple tie for first money between Glenn Spencer, Maryland Country Club; Robert T. Barnett, Chevy Chase, and J. Monro Hunter, Indian Spring, each with a card of 75, as follows:

Out—
Spencer.......	4	3	4	4	6	4	5	3	4—37
Barnett.......	4	4	4	5	5	3	4	4	4—37
Hunter........	4	4	4	4	4	3	4	4	4—35
In—
Spencer.......	3	5	4	3	4	5	6	4	4—38—75
Barnett.......	5	4	4	4	3	5	5	4	4—38—75
Hunter........	4	5	4	4	4	5	5	4	5—40—75

Spencer was lucky to get into the money for he had two sixes on his score, his errors being neutralized by birdies on the second, eighth, tenth and thirteenth holes. Hunter, with a par 35 for the first nine holes, slipped on his inward journey, being short of three of his approaches while on the sixteenth green, where he had a 12-foot putt for an eagle 3, he finished with a 5.

Four Others Stroke Behind.

Four other players, Cliff Spencer, unattached; Mel Shorey, East Potomac Park; A. L. Houghton, Kenwood, and Gene Larkin, Chevy Chase, lost out by one stroke. Spencer ruined his score when he three-putted four greens in succession, beginning with the fifth. Shorey was also the victim of three-puttitis, while Larkin's six on the sixteenth green was due to the same trouble. Houghton not only took three putts on the fourth green for a 5, but after overapproaching the fifth green and missing his third shot, reached the green in 4 and then took three putts for a disastrous 7, a sad fatality, which resulted in the immediate destruction of his putter. The summary:

Robert T. Barnett, Chevy Chase	37	38	75
Glenn Spencer, Maryland C. C.	37	38	75
J. Monro Hunter, Indian Spring	35	40	75
Mel Shorey, East Potomac Park	37	39	76

Women's Group Opens Season.

The season of the Women's District Golf Association opened yesterday with 56 players competing in a medal play handicap tournament on the course of the Chevy Chase Club. Owing to the prevalence of a strong wind and lack of familiarity with the new and lighter ball, the scores were comparatively high. Four contestants tied for low gross with cards of 95 each, as follows: Mrs. J. M. Haynes, Miss Winifred Faunce, Mrs. Alma Von Steinner and Miss Virginia Williams. Mrs. Harrison Brand, with 98, was runner-up. Mrs. Von Steinner and Miss Katharine Lowman tied for low net with 84.

Other low net prize winners were: Miss Lowman, Miss Williams, Mrs. B. C. Hill, Mrs. J. B. Baylis and Mrs. H. B. Leary. Among the well-known women players who participated but did not turn in cards were Mrs. Betty Muckley, District champion; Mrs. J. O. Rhine, winner of the Star cup last year; Miss Susan Hacker, Mrs. W. S. Corby, Mrs. J. F. Gross, Mrs. Norman B. Frost, Miss Elizabeth Brawner, Mrs. H. A. Knox, Mrs. H. R. Quinter and Mrs. G. E. Elliott.

MANNIX JOINS BAKERS.

The German's Bakerq Team, which will compete in the Montgomery County section of the Capital City League, has signed Charlie Mannix, Notre Dame mound star, for the coming season. The bakery team was formerly knwon as the Argyle A. C.

TIED FOR MEDAL.

White Sulphur Springs, W. V., April 13 (A.P.)—J. B. Ryerson, Cooperstown, N. Y., and R. A. Stanahan, Toledo, Ohio, tied at 78 for low medal in the qualifying round of the annual Mason and Dixon golf tournament today.

NAVY LOSES TO ORIOLES BY 4-1

Baltimore Club Held Scoreless After 3d at Annapolis.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 13.—Naval Academy tossers gave the Baltimore Orioles of the International League a stiff rub here this afternoon, though losing, 4 to 1. The game was played under a sunny sky, but a cool wind swept the field. Play was reeled off in snappy order as the Middies held the visitors scoreless and practically hitless after the third inning.

The exhibition tilt, the first of four games the Navy Team is to play this week, including Harvard, Wednesday; Washington Nats, on Friday, and Lafayette, on Saturday, was much enjoyed by the Navy diamond contingent and practically the entire Navy squad excepting two regular twirlers, Coombs and Engelhart, saw action.

Boyle, of the Birds, opened the game in auspicious fashion by driving a home run to deep left field on the first ball pitched.

Davenport Takes Mound.

Davenport, regular of last season's Plebe team, making his varsity debut, then settled down, though three more Orioles were sent home in the third, two, however, the result of a miscue in center field by Weston Byng.

Davenport got himself in trouble by walking Koupal and Boyle to open the frame. Southern fanned for the first of three times, but Gill singled, and, as the bounder rolled through Byng, Boyle and Koupal tallied. Gill scored as Capt. Tommy Ashworth was tossing McGowan out at first.

The Orioles only got two singles after that. They failed to get a safety off Heinie Schult, who toiled the final four sessions for the Navy. Koupal, who is expected to twirl the opener for the Birds in the loop, hurled the first three innings, and it was off him that Navy got its tally. Fitzgerald's long triple to right was followed by a clean safety by Hodgkins.

Navy had several other chances to score off Roy, another regular, who twirled the middle three innings. However, against Richmond they were helpless, six men fanning. Navy outhit the International Leaguers, 7 to 5, and put up a generally creditable game whether or not the Birds were putting forth their best efforts.

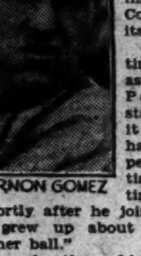
"Gopher" Hurler Back With Yanks

Vernon Gomez's teeth alone cost the New York Yankees more than Ty Cobb did the Detroit Tigers. When the 21-year-old southpaw smiles, $1,200 worth of bridgework gleams.



VERNON GOMEZ

The club made the investment after Gomez, whose home is Rodeo, Calif., was brought East last year after standing the Pacific Coast League on its ear.

Gomez, at the time, was touted as another Herb Pennock. He started well, but it was found he hadn't the experience to negotiate the big time.

When he threw his "gopher ball," Gomez explained, base-line coaches of opposing teams invariably bellowed to the batter, "Go-fer three."

The joke was quite funny, but it soon developed that it contained too much truth. Gomez wound up the season hurling for St. Paul, in the American Association. He won eight while losing four.

$50,000 Recruit No "Dizzy Dean"

There is none of the Dizzy Dean or Art Shires in Myril Hoag, recruit outfielder with the New York Yankees. Hoag, wearing a $50,000 price tag, reported to the club this spring with a record that well might leave a 22-year-old youngster buttonholing newspaper reporters.

MYRIL HOAG

Playing centerfield for Sacramento last season, he led the Pacific Coast League both in put-outs and in assists for the position. It was his second year as a regular. Many old-timers professed to see a likeness in his work to that of Tris Speaker.

Hoag, however, simply and quietly set about trying to make a place for himself with the club. That place, it appears, this season, will be as an understudy for Babe Ruth and Earl Combs, in covering right and left fields.

Hoag's chief drawback is his hitting. Last year his record was .337. His stance at the plate has seemed to observers at the St. Petersburg (Fla.) training camp, a bit inept for long-distance clouting.

VA. BOWLERS HOLD FETE THURSDAY

Old Dominion's Celebration Due; Ball Clubs Active.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., April 13.—The annual banquet of the Old Dominion Boat Club Bowling League will be held on Thursday at the Belvoir Grillroom, it was announced today by Chairman Jack Howard of the banquet committee.

J. Earle Ross will again be the toastmaster for the occasion. He has officially presided in this capacity for the past two fetes and generally keeps the banqueters in a good humor with his witticisms. Ross is one of the leaders in activities of the boat club.

Individual prizes will be awarded members of the teams at this fete, instead of one trophy and cash prizes, as was the case last season. The Sculls, winner of the boat club championship for bowling, will be presented a handsome trophy by Pearson & Crain, jewelers in Washington. Bill Wimstead, captain of the Sculls, will receive the trophy for the team.

Chairman Howard stated today that any member of the club wishing to attend should get in communication with him for his ticket. This fete is for the boys who took part in the bowling league. Others on the banquet committee are Dr. N. G. Roberts, C. M. Shepperson, jr., Stanley Dreifus and Earl Robey.

St. Mary's Celtics Impress in Drill.

"We will have the best season ever experienced by a team carrying the colors of the St. Mary's Celtics," declared Art Ludlow, new coach of the outfit today.

Over twenty players have reported for berths with the wearers of the Green and Gold, and exceptionally good form has been exhibited in the drills. On Sunday the regulars copped from the Yannigans, 10 to 4, in a game. Sergt. Sims, Art Ludlow, Goodwin and Kidwell displaying real power with the wand.

Director Corbett stated he would cary a large squad as his boys were entered in the Washington Industrial League. He specified that the team playing Sunday baseball would be much stronger than the week-day nine.

Pete Ball, ace with the team in 1930, and Reds Weaver, hurler with the Culpeper Athletic Club last year, seemed to be far in advance of the other moundsmen. In Sunday's drill these two boys had the regulars fanning the air. Both are right-handers. Only two southpaws are on the squad, Lefty Clarke, of Orange County nine, and Doc Dreifus, who alternates at first base. Dreifus, when pitching, is considered the best on the sandlots. He has a screw ball that puzzles the wandsmen.

Others on the mound staff are Two-Buck Struder, of the Potomac Athletic Association; Shoute Taylor, St. Joseph's Athletic Club, and Kittie Curtiss, of Hume Springs. Russ Kidwell, last year's veteran with the Celtics, and Earl Bowman, late of the championship Calvary Drake Club, of Washington, will handle the chucks of the moundsmen.

Candidates Aplenty For Positions.

In the infield Pierce, Dreifus, Delano, Robey, Langford, Brenner, Ludlow and Sgt. Edgar Sims will hold down the berths. The outfield posts will be taken care of by Goodwin, Murphy, Hamilton, Bayliss, Cabell and Glaettle, the latter from Culpeper.

The Celtics will probably open their season Sunday, opposing the post team from Fort Washington. Director Corbett hopes to close with this outfit this week. A double-header will feature.

Twenty-five players are seeking berths with the Columbia Fire Company nine. Those out for the team are: Kersey, Elliott, Shapiro, Robinson, Lee, B. Padgett, Billie Travers, Latham, Darley, Bradley, J. Quayle, George Simpson, Wingfield, Vance, Purvis, Griess, Paul Travers, Snellings, Rhyne, S. Berman, N. Smith, Gettle, M'Menamin, Brenner and Case.

Manager Julian Davis announces the team will open next Sunday. He hopes to bring a Washington Club here. The Columbias will practice on Haydon's Field Tuesday and Friday.

Mapp, V. P. I, Box Ace, Is Out for Two Weeks

Special to The Washington Post.

Blacksburg, Va., April 13.—Virginia Polytechnic Institute Nine will play half of its tristate baseball schedule without Reggie Mapp, its mound ace, who is undefeated in 12 straight games. Mapp was taken to Jefferson Hospital, Roanoke, Sunday for minor operation which will keep him from the diamond at least two weeks, probably longer, his physician said.

Loss of its star hurler is a tough handicap for V. P. I. on eve of the opening game with University of North Carolina here Wednesday. George Kircher, veteran coach, will probably send Lloyd Murden, another veteran right-handers, against the Tarheels. Murden and Billingsley are main hopes of Kircher for mound duty in the eight conference games during the next two weeks.

William-Mary Nine Downs Harvard, 5-1

Special to The Washington Post.

Williamsburg, Va., April 13.—William and Mary defeated Harvard's Crimson nine here today, 5 to 1. The Indians bunched hits in the sixth to push over four runs.

Lefty White held the Cambridge batters in check throughout the nine innings, striking out sixteen and allowing but six scattered hits. Ben Ticknor and Barry Wood, all Americans, each fanned three times. Englebert doubled after Devens had walked two William and Mary batters in the sixth to knock in the first Indian run, and Scott followed with a home run to deep center field. Wood, McGrath and Devens hit for extra bases for Harvard.

Battery Trouble Develops At Maryland and G. U.

Old Liners With Two Catchers Injured and Hilltoppers, With Only Two Pitchers, Face Important Games.

MARYLAND and Georgetown University nines, which made none too impressive debuts here last week, are now beset with troubles in the battery department whcih are almost certain to handicap them in this week's games.

Maryland does not have a single able-bodied catcher at hand, while Georgetown is lacking pitchers.

The only two Maryland catchers—Ralph Sterling and Lloyd Jones—suffered injuries to their hands last Friday in the double-header with North Carolina. In an effort to plug the gap left by their absence, Coach Shipley will use Bob Wilson, former Western High School star, who has been playing in right field.

Wilson's Trick Shoulder Handicap.

Wilson is a natural catcher, havnig served behind the bat regularly during his career with Western. But he has been hampered at Maryland by a shoulder injury which, while having given him no trouble of late, does not bear promise of "staying out." The shoulder has a bad habit of jumping "out" on the slightest provocation. Wilson, however, is reported to be trying gamely to fill the role of substitute catcher despite the threat of a recurrence of his injury hovering over him.

Excepting the catching position, Maryland will line-up as usual against Harvard on Friday at College Park. Bozie Berger, third baseman, and Shorty Chalmers, shortstop remain at the top part of the batting order, although they failed to show much with the bat last week.

Two Experienced Hurlers at G. U.

Georgetown, facing three games in a row, has but two experienced pitchers available. These are Harold Poole and Harry Nozneaky.

Coach Johnny Colrick hopes to find another starter for one of the three contests among a group of hopefuls, including Jack Coppinger, Gene Philbin and Herb Heaney. He expects to make a selection after today's workout.

On Thursday Georgetown meets Harvard, and on Friday engages Villanova, both on local fields. Then Colrick takes his charges to New York to battle New York University on Saturday.

WELTERS VIE FOR TITLE TONIGHT

Freeman, Champ, Favored to Again Beat Thompson.

By CHARLES DUNKLEY.

CLEVELAND, April 13 (A.P.)—Tommy Freeman, world's welterweight champion, will engage in his defense of his title tomorrow night by meeting the sharp shooting young Negro, Young Jack Thompson, of Oakland, Calif., from whom he won the crown here six months ago.

They will meet in a 15-round battle to a decision at the welterweight limit of 147 pounds. Because of an unpopular decision resulting from their first championship engagement, a new policy in rendering decisions will be introduced tomorrow night.

Referee Has No Choice Unless Judges Tie.

Two judges, to be named by the Cleveland Boxing Commission at the ringside, will cast their votes at the end of the contest and unless they disagree the referee will have no voting power. In the event of a disagreement, the third man in the ring will render a decision. Heretofore it has been the practice to use only a referee.

Indications were tonight that a crowd of 10,000 to 11,000 would witness the battle, with a possibility that the gate receipts at prices of $2 to $10 might reach $55,000 or $60,000. Freeman receives 50 per cent of the receipts with 10 per cent going to Thompson.

Freeman ruled a slight favorite to retain his title, although Thompson is firm in his conviction that he will regain the championship by a knockout within five rounds. Whether Freeman can duplicate his victory over the Negro depends upon his physical condition. Freeman appears to be just as strong as ever and plans to center his attack upon the body in the hope of wearing Thompson down and stealing his speed. Thompson has been sacrificing speed in favor of punching power.

Fighters Have No Trouble Making Weight.

Both Freeman and Thompson went through light workouts today and each was under the welterweight limit.

Thompson plans to weigh 146¼ pounds when they jump on the scales at noon tomorrow, with Freeman tipping the beam a fraction under the limit.

The promoters said tonight that the championship match would not be broadcast, but there is a possibility that two Cleveland stations may arrange at the last minute to put the fight on the air.

STARS AT NORTH CAROLINA.

Bryan Grant and Wilmer Hines, coming tennis aces of Dixie, led the University of North Carolina net team to victory in the first match of the year.

SHORTEN SPORTS SEASON.

Rome, April 11 (A.P.)—In order to give athletes a chance to rest up before an elimination meet in 1932 to determine the Italian Olympic team the athletic federation has shortened the sports program for this year.

STOCK PRICES RISE ON SHORTS' BUYING

90 Issues Gain 2 Points Net, Largest Advance Since March 16.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Covering by weary shorts today gave the stock market its best rise in nearly a month. The averages for 90 issues showed a net gain of 2.1 points the largest advance since March 16.

It was a slow and colorless rally but it may have had some importance as a measure of the boredom currently afflicting bears who have seen the market get increasingly duller during a three-week decline until the last hour, when activity picked up, the volume was accumulating at a distressingly slow pace. As it was, sales aggregated only 1,600,000 shares.

The week-end brought nothing to stimulate either speculative party. Some reviews pointed out that the peak of the seasonal recovery had probably been passed, that final returns on first quarter earnings would make unpleasant reading and that the second quarter might be none too cheerful.

Drop in Profits Seen.

Standard Statistics Co. estimated that corporate profits for the first three months would be 35 to 40 per cent under a year ago. Friends of the market's long side contend that so poor a showing has been discounted, and shorts seem to have engineered the market into a stalemate with the news that has so far appeared.

Utilities returned the best group gains, ranging from nearly 2 to 3 points in the favorites. Rails, sluggish until the final hour's flurry, reflected scattered covering, which was translated into many gains of a point or so. Chemicals, led by the 5-point advance in Allied, were strong, while both motors and coppers did reasonably well.

Miscellaneous industrials, including United States Steel, American Can, Westinghouse and Union Carbide, closed 1 to 2 higher, and there was similar improvement in the foods.

Radio Gains Strength.

Special points of strength included Radio, up 2⅜, Worthington Pump, McKeesport, Eastman Kodak and Case, up 3 to 5, and Auburn, which got into the rarified 290s, closing 14 points higher. Gossip concerning the safety of the Vanadium dividend made that stock a bear target and it dropped 5 points, recovering a fraction of the maximum loss.

Armour of Delaware 7 per cent preferred lost 4½, to 44. Reduction of the Julius Kayser dividend explained recent selling of that issue; it was steady today.

The bond list had a spotty appearance, but second grade rails looked a little firmer. Several foreign issues weakened and there were scattering breaks in numerous medium grade domestic industrials.

Money Market.

The money market ignored withdrawals in preparation for midmonth payments, including the New York State income tax. The Treasury is calling some $50,000,000 in deposits over a two-day period and part of that amount was taken out today, but speculative demand was so slack that rates were unaffected.

Large export sales, bullish weather in the Northwest and small stocks of flour contributed to firmer wheat quotations, which showed net gains of ⅝ to a full cent. Higher cash markets and firmer cables assisted corn to slightly smaller advances. Cotton rose 63 to 80 cents a bale.

The Sapnish peseta reacted sharply to the election result, breaking more than half a cent, a loss that eliminated the steady advance since the recent stabilization loan was negotiated. Other states were mixed, with the Dutch guilder strong.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—An early decline in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables was followed by advances in cotton today on trade buying and covering. July contracts, after easing off to 10.45 during the early trading, advanced to 10.69 and closed at 10.68 compared with 10.55 at the close of Saturday. The general market closed firm at net advances of 13 to 16 points.

The opening was steady, 1 to 3 points lower, which was only a partial response to the relatively easy showing of Liverpool. Offerings increased right after the call, however, with some Southern and local selling in evidence as well as liquidation or reselling by buyers of late last week. Part of this pressure was supposed to be based on an idea that the recent rally had eased the market's technical position and there was some selling here for New Orleans account.

May declined to 10.22 and October to 10.79 under the pressure, making the market about 8 to 10 points net lower, but offerings then became comparatively scarce and the market turned upward during the afternoon on some further trade buying and covering. No fresh news factor was mentioned in connection with the advance, but offerings continued light and the buying became a little more active in the late trading. This sent the price of May up to 10.46 and October to 11.04 making net advances of about 14 to 16 points. Closing quotations were a point or two off from the best, on some positions under realizing.

The standard cloth statistics for March published this morning showed a slight increase in the weekly rate of production as compared with February, but sales were reported exceeding the production by 8.7 per cent and while there was a falling off of 5.5 per cent in unfilled orders for the month, stocks on hand showed a decrease of 14.3 per cent. These figures attracted some comment, but appeared to be without any important effect on the immediate market. The early selling may have been promoted by a favorable view of the weather map, but the failure of offerings to become more active or aggressive on the early decline increased a disposition to cover short contracts during the day.

Liverpool reported that some continental buying had been supplied by local selling in that market. Exports today, 10,932, making 5,835,202 so far this season. Port receipts, 9,389. United States port stocks, 3,613,460.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, April 13 (A.P.).—Likelihood that dust storms and drought would sharply curtail spring wheat acreage in Northwestern States and Canada jumped grain prices upward today. Some reports said seeding was useless under existing conditions. A big falling-off in the amount of wheat on ocean passage was shown, and No. 1 Northern wheat went to a premium over May, the first time in months. December delivery of wheat established a new high price record for the season.

Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to 1 and 1⅛ cents higher, corn, ½ to ⅞ advanced, oats, ¼ to ⅜ up, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a rise of 12 cents.

More than 1,500,000 bushels of North American wheat was estimated to have been purchased today for shipment overseas, in addition to 10,000,000 bushels in the last fortnight. An immediate evident reason for persistent export demand was disclosure that stocks of wheat afloat for Europe had decreased 13,000,000 bushels in the last month, compared with an increase of 2,500,000 bushels during the same period last year. Authoritative announcements were also current that stocks of wheat in transatlantic countries had become dangerously low, simultaneous with unusual scantiness of flour supplies in the United States.

Assertions from milling sources said flour stocks in the United States on June 1 would be probably the smallest in a quarter century, and that demand for flour when the new domestic wheat crop moved after July 1 would require use of almost the entire faculties of the milling industry for at least 90 days to manufacture the flour needed. Contributing also to bullish sentiment was 2,271,000 bushels decrease of the United States wheat visible supply during the last week. Reports too, were at hand that Chairman James C. Stone of the Federal Farm Board had been discussing with the Chinese Minister at Washington a proposal to distribute among the hungry in China a part of United States surplus holding of wheat.

Corn and oats derived firmness from wheat strength. Other centers were reported sharply outbidding Chicago for corn. Primary receipts of corn were hardly half the total a year ago.

Despite lower hog values, provisions reflected upturns in grains.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—July, 63¼@63⅝, 65¼@65⅝; September, 61½@61⅝, 63⅛; December, 64⅝, 66¼. Corn—May, 61¼, 62⅝; July, 62⅞, 64¼@64⅝; September, 60⅞, 62¼@62⅝; December, 53⅞, 54⅞.

BUY INDEPENDENCE

Would you invest in a company with assets equal to 9% of the wealth of the nation? Would you invest in a corporation with activities extending throughout the world in every major industrial field? Would you invest in such a corporation if you knew its progress and growth were as assured as the progress of civilization?

INDEPENDENCE TRUST SHARES

The assets of the 50 corporations whose securities underlie each share of this fixed trust exceed 38 billion dollars. To the Public Utility, Railroad and Industrial Groups represented in many trust portfolios, Independence Trust Shares adds a representation in the vitally profitable Banking and Insurance fields.

Independence Trust Shares should continue to show good yield and appreciation as long as America continues its industrial progress.

GAINS IN BONDS LOST BY LATER DECLINES

Sales Total $8,174,000; Slump in Rails Is Believed Halted.

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—The bond market wavered back and forth today in quiet trading, and net changes were about half gains and half declines.

Sales totaled $8,174,000 at par value on the stock exchange. The low record for a 1931 full session was reached on April 6, at $7,850,000. News events affecting the market were unusually few. Although a definite trend was not discernible there were a few interesting developments.

The slump in railroad obligations, particularly the lower grade issues, appeared to have halted. More or less illustrative of this fact was the action of St. Paul adjustment 5s, Missouri Pacific series I 5s, and General 4s and Pere Marquette series C 4½s, which although not all of identical market rating, closed higher after active trading. Bonds of the St. Louis San Francisco, particularly the 4½s of 1978, were under pressure. High grade rails like the issues of the New York Central, Pennsylvania, and Reading were firm to higher.

Firmer prices appeared among the utility obligations. Duquesne Light 4½s of 1967, Columbia Gas 5s of May 1952 and Metropolitan Edison 4½s were fractionally higher. Trading in most utility issues was confined to a few sales usually at unchanged prices. Industrial obligations were usually quiet and steady.

Most foreign bonds fluctuated narrowly on a few sales. Moderate pressure appeared in Brazilian loans and some of the German issues eased off.

New offerings include $3,000,000 of two-year 6 per cent gold notes of the Western Power, Light & Telephone Co. at 99¾.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, April 13.—Stockholders of W. F. Hall Printing Co. have approved an increase in authorized capital to $5,000,000, to consist of 10,000 shares of $100 par 6 per cent preferred and 400,000 shares of $10 par common, from $4,000,000, consisting of 400,000 shares of common. The preferred probably will be used in part payment for all of the outstanding shares of Art Color Printing Co., negotiations for a merger with which have been carried on for some time.

W. C. Alcorn, vice president and general manager of the Triplex Safety Glass Co., denied reports from Pittsburgh that Triplex has completed negotiations for the purchase of Standard Plate Glass Co., which formerly operated plate glass factories at Springvale and Butler, Pa. Mr. Alcorn, however, said that the business of Triplex had grown to such an extent that the company was considering the purchase of an existing factory or construction of a new plant.

Francis H. Brownell, president of Federal Mining & Smelting Co., said at the annual meeting that operating profits for the first quarter would be somewhat over $80,000, with March earnings estimated. He said the company has at present $136,000 in cash and $600,000 in U. S. Government securities and that it would be the policy of the management to conserve the company's ore reserves as much as possible. As a result, it will operate at the lowest rate which would permit the meeting of preferred dividends and yet enable the mines in Idaho to be kept unwatered, he added.

International Hydro System, a division of International Paper & Power Co., Reports net income for last year of $3,790,693, equal to $4.30 a share on the class A stock. During the company's first fiscal period, between April 1, 1929, and December 31, 1929, earnings on the A stock were at the annual rate of $4.25 on a small number of shares.

Reports of production, shipments and sales of standard cotton cloths in March, issued by the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York, confirmed recent reports that the large business of January and February was continued throughout last month. March production was 271,638,000 yards, a weekly rate of 54,328,000 yards for the five-week period covered by the report. This was an increase of 2.4 per cent over February. Shipments were 317,185,000 yards, equal to 116.8 per cent of production. Sales totaled 295,334,000 yards, equivalent to 108.7 per cent of production.

The annual report of the Philadelphia Co., holding company for public utilities in Pittsburgh and vicinity for 1930, released today, showed $15,330,103 available for dividends, compared with $14,992,623 for 1929, an increase of $337,480.

Kimberly-Clark Corporation for the first quarter had surplus available for common stock of $484,148, equal to 96 cents a share, against $694,931, or $1.39 a share, in the first quarter of 1930.

John J. Brown, chairman of the board of Foster Wheeler Corporation, said today his company had obtained a substantial contract as the result of the granting of refining permits by the French government to the Vacuum Oil Co.

"The Vacuum Oil Co.," he said, "will now proceed with its extensive building plan, which calls for the construction of several refineries which Foster Wheeler will construct and equip for them in France. This business will involve several millions of dollars."

National Public Service Corporation reports 1930 net income of $4,506,735, or $2.95 a share on the combined "A" and "B" common stocks, against $3,348,242, or $2.13 a share in 1929. Operating revenues of subsidiaries increased 4.5 per cent last year to $33,126,350.

Curb Review

New York, April 13 (A.P.).—Trading quickened and a fairly wide assortment of issues made moderate upward progress in today's curb market.

The day's transfers aggregated 494,000 shares, an increase of 100,000 shares over Friday's total dealings. Several pool favorites among the specialties were active and higher.

The electric power issues were generally firm. Electric Bond and Share, Middlewest Utilities, American Superpower and American and Foreign Power Warrants pushed up about 1 point. In the natural gas issues, Saxet Co., recently acquired by the Moody-Seagraves interests, moved up a point to a new 1931 high.

Pilot Radio was a firm spot in the manufacturing issues, rising more than 2 points to new high ground for the year at 21¼. The stock has recently reflected new professional market sponsorship, and while its recent earnings report was unimpressive, the management pointed out that the showing was due to moving the plant to Lawrence, Mass. Tobaccos also worked higher in light trading. Tobacco and allied gained 3, and D. Emil Klein rose 1, to new tops. Douglas Aircraft, Crocker Wheeler, and Agfa Ansco were firm, rising about 1 point each.

Oils were dull and mixed. Cities Service rose a fraction and Humble nearly a point. Gulf lost a point, and Vacuum eased fractionally.

CAPITAL BUILDING BODY 50 YEARS OLD

Small Group Here Organized Permanent Association in Early Part of 1881.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

The Washington Permanent Building Association is now 50 years old. Early in 1881 a small group of men met at Gustave Hartig's hardware store at Seventh and K streets northwest to discuss the formation of a building association, different from any then in operation in the District, in that it was to follow the permanent rather than the serial plan.

The permanent plan meant the continuation of business from year to year, instead of a series of periodical settlements as the serial associations then operated. The permanent plan was adopted from Philadelphia, where all necessary information was obtained.

After a few conferences at the Hartig store, a larger meeting was held at Dismer's Saengerbund Hall, where preliminaries for drafting a constitution were settled. On May 14 the first meeting of the association convened at German Hall, on Eleventh street, between F and G streets northwest.

Officers Are Elected.

At this session a constitution was adopted and officers were elected as follows: Charles Herman, president; George Walker, vice president; Gustave Hartig, treasurer; Leonard Eckert, secretary; Henry H. Bergmann, assistant secretary.

At the early monthly meeting held in a rented hall, members' names were called alphabetically, each paying his or her dues at the roll call. After this, the money was counted by directors and offered to prospective borrowers for purchase of homes.

The association's first office was above the German-American National Bank, at Seventh and F streets northwest, where Hecht's store now stands. In 1884 it occupied half of the first floor of the Pacific Building, now a part of Hecht's store. Office hours were then from 3 to 5 p. m. In 1898 it moved to the Second National Bank Building, at 509 Seventh street northwest, occupying half of that building until March, 1907, when it acquired its first home, the McGowan Building at 629 F street northwest. At this time, the minutes of the association were changed from German to English. In 1913, the association's building was razed for its present modern banking office on the site, its temporary headquarters being at 631 F street northwest during the construction period.

Organizers Who Survive.

Of its organizers, E. J. Sacks is still active in its affairs, being president of the association. John H. Clipper has served it 33 years as a director and auditor. Carl J. Bergmann, present treasurer, was for 27 years an assistant secretary. John Henderson's service with the association as director and appraiser numbers 25 years. Christopher Rammling and John Waldman have been on its directorate 20 and 15 years, respectively.

Within the past four years, the association has lost three able officials, H. H. Bergmann, an organizer, a director and treasurer for 47 years and a president for three, died in June, 1930. J. A. Maedel, holding office as secretary, attorney and president during 32 years, died in September, 1927, and Louis C. Ostermayer, for 27 years a secretary, died in July, 1927.

Assets of the association have risen from $38,824.95 the first year, to $7,639,805.14 this year. Loans made since organization total $28,997,600; stock paid in, $20,706,050; dividends and interest paid, $5,352,701.17.

Present officers and directors are E. J. Sacks, president; John Henderson, vice president; C. J. Bergmann, treasurer; Hermann H. Bergmann, secretary; John Waldman, C. Rammling, John H. Clipper, James R. Ellis, C. Chester Caywood, Max Walten, Joseph N. Saunders, Clyde H. Miller, directors.

Carpel Earnings Announced.

Harry L. Carpel, president of the Carpel Corporation, announces that earnings for January and February of this year, as shown by the reports of Robert A. Philipson & Co., auditors for the corporation, are 19.8 per cent in excess of the earnings for the same period last year.

This announcement, coupled with the recently issued earnings statement for 1930, speaks well for the management of this corporation, which has shown steadily increasing earnings even during the present period of depression. The stock of this corporation is listed on the Washington Stock Exchange, where it enjoys an active market. At present selling price, it yields the holders a return of about 8 per cent.

Kenneth S. Wales, manager of Bonbright & Co., with offices in the Hill Building, announces that Robert Stead, jr., has become associated with the Washington branch. Mr. Stead has been in the investment business here for ten years and was formerly connected with Eastman, Dillon & Co. He is well known in local financial circles and is active in the District Golf Association, being chairman of the golf committee of Chevy Chase Club.

Guests at Tea.

Seventy-five women members, instructors and officers of Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking, were guests at a tea Sunday given by Mrs. Anne T. Renshaw, instructor of the chapter's special course for women, at her Connecticut avenue studio.

Ten students are entered in the institute's public speaking contest tonight at chapter headquarters in the Becker Building. The winner will represent the chapter in the district contest at Lancaster, Pa., May 6. Judges will be President Maurice D. Rosenberg, Bank of Commerce & Savings; President H. H. McKee, National Capital Bank, and Joseph Donohue, of the chapter faculty.

Delegates to the national convention of the institute at Pittsburgh in June will be elected April 23, at which time nominations for the chapter election will be made.

The dinner to be given by President A. Chester Flather, of the Ticker Club, of Washington, to club members at Chevy Chase Club has been postponed to April 22.

At a directors' meeting of Nash Motors Co. held recently at the office at Kenosha, Wis., a dividend of $1 per share was declared payable May 1 to stockholders of record at the close of business April 20.

Shell President Resigns.

Chicago, Ill., April 13 (A.P.).—U. de B. Daly today resigned as president of the Shell Petroleum Corporation. He also resigned as a director and as a member of the executive committee of the Shell Union Oil Corporation.

U. S. WORKERS SEEK TO JOIN IN POLITICS

Petition Filed With Hoover Yesterday in Behalf of Arlington County.

ARLINGTON COUNTY
BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

The petition address to President Hoover seeking an executive order which will permit Federal employes, residents of Arlington County, to take an active part in local politics and to hold office, was presented at the White House yesterday afternoon by Hugh J. McGrath, chairman of the civil service committee of the Arlington County Civic Federation. Chairman McGrath was accompanied to the White House by President Henry A. Felows and former rPesident Robert E. Plymale, of the federation.

In addition to the petition, which was drafted by the committee after weeks of careful study, it was accompanied by letters from county officials and many others who are interested in the movement.

The petition in part points out that more than 25 per cent of the total voing population of Arlington County are employes of the Federal Government, and it is felt by the committee, as well as the citizens of the county as a whole, that they should be permitted to take part in the choice of those who shall be in charge of the affairs of the county.

The ladies of the Community Methodist Church in Aurora Heights announce they wil give a benefit luncheon at the church tomorrow from 11:30 to 2 o'clock.

The proceeds will be applied to the church building fund.

With all rights of way assured for the Washington street approach to the new Memorial Bridge, according to the report made last night at the meeting of the North Arlington County Memorial Bridge Approach Association, plans were perfected to go before the monthly meeting of the county board of supervisors tomorrow morning and ask that the project be taken over and the road built.

William C. Gloth, chairman of the right of way committee, in submitting his report, stressed the point that the rights of way which since the last meeting have been obtained from Mrs. Bessie Christian and Rozier Dulaney, were given with the understanding that the road is to be built without any unnecessary delay. Mr. Gloth stated that the land which is beging given is for sale and can not be given as a right of way for a road for an indefinite period.

The committee which will present the matter to the board of supervisors, as provided by a motion of Charles T. Jesse, is the right of way committee headed by William C. Gloth, chairman; Charles T. Jesse, Raymond Bause, W. O. Pickett, Monroe H. Stockett and Ashton C. Jones, and including a representative from each of the civic organizations affiliated with the association.

With the entire right of way available with no cost to the county, Mr. Jesse declared that the point should be stressed upon the supervisors that unless they take advantage of this opportunity that the purchase of rights of way will be most expensive as the land in the vicinity of the new bridge is fast becoming valuable.

According to a statement given out yesterday by Supervisor B. M. Hedrick, the construction of a large water main from the Dalecarlia reservoir across the Potomac River will be made possible through an agreement which has been reached between the officials of the town of Falls Church and Arlington County.

While there has been no contract signed as yet between the two jurisdictions it has been agreed that Falls Church, a considerable part of which lies in Fairfax County, should pay its proportionate share of the cost of existing mains.

While County Engineer C. L. Kinnier stated yesterday that he knows nothing about an agreement having been reached, he said: "I am not concerned regarding the size of the mains across the Chain Bridge, they will supply sufficient water for this year at least, but I am concerned about the present twelve-inch main from Fort Ethan Allen to the county reservoir. That is the one which must be enlarged.

Speaking of the rates of 40 cents per 1,000 gallons for supplying the town of Falls Church, Engineer Kinnier stated that while the town officials have not refused to meet the price they are making some objections to the effect that it is a little high.

The quarterly membership meeting of the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Odd Fellows Hall at Clarendon.

President Louis C. Carl urges all members to attend this meeting and to express their views on the many problems with which the county is confronted and which the chamber may be of some service in solving.

The April term of the Circuit Court of Arlington County will convene Monday, April 20, with Judge Walter T. McCarthy on the bench.

The persons who are to be summoned as members of the special grand jury which convenes at the same time are: F. H. Bailey, R. MacBaldwin, A. B. Eaton, James W. Head, B. S. Hutson, Harris Levy, Walter O'Hara, Frank A. Parkhurst, G. W. Saar, T. R. Stoneburner, J. B. Wright, A. H. Brown, George H. Corder and E. C. Putnam.

Norwood Estes, facing Police Court yesterday on charges of reckless driving and operating an automobile without a permit, was fined $10 and costs in each case by Assistant Police Court Judge Bryan Gordon. The total fine, including costs, was $38.50.

Charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, William H. West was held for the action of the grand jury in $500 bond by Judge Gordon. He was later released for his appearance at the opening of the April term of the Circuit Court, which convenes Monday at 10 o'clock.

Albert L. Fletcher, Leander V. White and Vincent L. Bailey each forfeited the sum of $15 in Police Court yesterday on charges of reckless driving.

The Ladies Aid and Missionary Societies of the Ballston Presbyterian Church will hold a joint all-day meeting tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Frank Weikle, Spruce street, in Clarendon.

A benefit luncheon will be served by the Clarendon Rebekah Lodge, No. 28, in the Odd Fellows Hall at Clarendon Friday from 11:30 to 2 o'clock. The proceeds will go to the I. O. O. F. Orphans' Home at Lynchburg, Va., where 123 boys and girls are being cared for and educated by the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows of Virginia.

The Order of Fraternal Americans will celebrate its eighteenth birthday anniversary tomorrow night at the Juniors Hall in Ballston.

James R. Mansfield, State secretary, and Fred Parks, both of Alexandria, are announced as speakers. President G. Albert Veitch invites all members of the order to attend the celebration.

The monthly meeting of the Lyon Village Woman's Club will be held tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. L. O. Mankin, 117 Ellerson avenue. Mrs. E. L. Bennett will assist as cohostess.

MISS BLANCHE YOUNG, superintendent of nurses at City Hospital Training School, and retiring chairman of the business and professional department of the Martinsburg Women's Club, was unanimously elected president of the Martinsburg Woman's Club last week.

LAMAR LOSES FIGHT ON BOND PROVISION

Leader in Montgomery Civic Federation Voted Down on Amendment Plea.

Efforts of George H. Lamar, "stormy petrel" of the organization, to amend the report of the committee on legislation and legal action of the Montgomery County Civic Federation failed when his amendment which would classify the report as a progress report was voted down by the federation last night.

E. Bond Smith had read the report of the committeee, which stated that the elegislative program indorsed by the federation had been incorporated in full in the legislation passed at the last session of the general assembly. The report was objected to by Mr. Lamar on the ground taht legislation for road and school bonds did not contain specific provisions, but was for a lump sum appropriation.

Mr. Smith replied that the report stated taht the acts referred to were merely enabling acts, and reminded the federation that the Montgomery County commissioners and members of the legislative body had declared their intention of carrying out the federation program as it had been presented. The federation voted down the amendment and accepted the report.

The federation admitted the Glenmont Center Citizens Association and the Community Council of Sandy Spring neighborhood as member organizations, bringing the number of county organizations ni the federation to 41.

It was announced that gavels made of wood taken from the roof of the White House when it was repaired in 1927 will be presented to the three presidents who have presided over the federation since it was organized, Oliver Owen Kuhn, Col. A. B. Barber and Stephen James, the incumbent, by Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3d.

A motion that the federation request the county commissioners to appoint a person who has had public health service training as the county health officer for the next four years was referred to the advisory council.

Soper Is Favored For Appeals Post

Choice as Successor to Late Judge Waddill in Baltimore Urged.

Baltimore, Md., April 13 (A.P.).—Appointment of Judge Morris A. Soper, of the United States district court of Maryland, to fill the vacancy on the United States circuit court of appeals, Fourth Circuit, caused by the death of Chief Judge Edmund Waddill, jr., was urged today in a resolution adopted by the executive committee of the Baltimore Bar Association.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to Attorney General Mitchell and members of Maryland's delegation to Congress.

The executive committee urged appointment of Judge Soper to the circuit bench recently when President Hoover appointed Judge John J. Parker, of that body to the Supreme Court. The appointment of Judge Parker was rejected by the Senate, however, and a vacancy on the circuit bench did not occur.

Cumberland, Md., April 13 (Special).—Eugene Long, 24, tin mill worker, died at Memorial Hospital this afternoon of injuries received Friday night when the car he was driving crashed into a Potomac Edison trolley car on Wineow street. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Long, Short Gap, W. Va., and lived with relatives at 418 Virginia avenue.

FAIRFAX-ARLINGTON COMMITTEE NAMED

Seven Selected to Represent Counties on Bicentennial Commission.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Clarendon 2324-W-2.

Mayor L. P. Daniel of Falls Church has appointed six citizens who will serve with him as the seven members representing Fairfax and Arlington Counties and Alexandria and Falls Church towns in the George Washington Bicentennial Commission. This local committee will in turn appoint the subcommittees to take charge of the various town activities in connection with the celebration next year.

The committee appointed by Mayor Daniel will be composed of Mrs. J. H. Hill, president of the garden department of the Falls Church Women's Club; Mrs. O. B. Livingston, president of the Falls Church Parent-Teacher Association; Mrs. Harry E. Moran, president of the East Falls Church Citizens Association; J. O. Martin, of the Northwest Citizens Association; Jacob O. Belz, the Columbia and South Street Citizens Associations and Guy N. Church, the business men of the town.

Milton Anderson, of Falls Church, is at liberty under $1,000 bond for his appearance in the mayor's court on April 20 to answer a charge of transportation and possession of intoxicating liquor. Anderson was arrested by Town Sergeant Walter Mitchell and Deputy Sheriff Paul Herrman. The police state that they found 17 half-gallons of alleged liquor in Anderson's car when they arrested him.

The Clifton Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its regular meeting this evening in the Masonic Hall at Clifton Station.

Louis Burk and Albert Sobel, giving their address as the Aannapolis Hotel, in Washington, were arrested by Fairfax County Policeman Arthur W. Mills on a charge of peddling without licenses. The men were taken before Justice of the Peace Harry Shepherd, at Accotink, who, after hearing the evidence, fined each man $50 and costs on the charge.

Gideon Yowell, of the 1500 block of Twenty-fifth street, Washington, was arrested by Policeman Mills Sunday night and charged with driving a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and with the possession of ardent spirits. A small quantity of alleged liquor was found in his possession. Yowell was taken before Justice of the Peace John B. Dowden, who held him for the action of the grand jury at the May term of the Fairfax County Circuit Court.

The Music Study Club of the Town of Herndon will hold its meeting this afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William Meyer, in Herndon.

The Ladies' Aid and the Women's Missionary Societies of the Presbyterian Church at Lewinsville will hold a joint meeting this evening at the home of Mrs. J. Hunter Mack, at McLean.

The McLean Community Library Association will hold its regular businesss meeting this afternoon in the Library Building at McLean.

The Fairfax County Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening in the Merrifield Community Hall on the Lee highway, about 3 miles west of Falls Church.

"Arrested on a wararnt issued by Justice of the Peace John T. Moling, and sworn to by G. E. De LaRue, of Devonshire Gardens, near Falls Church, I. H. Presley, of Washington, was lodged in the Fairfax County jail, charged with houseebreaking and the destruction of private property. The offense is alleged to have occurred Sunday. Fairfax County police, in response to calls from neighbors, found that the LaRue home had been broken into and the interior wrecked. Windows and doors of the house were smashed, and clothing and the contents scattered. While the police were investigating, it is said that Presley came to the door and knocked, and on the complaint of Mr. LaRue he was held until the warrant was sworn out.

It is said that Presley is separated from his wife, who has been boarding at the LaRue home in Devonshire Gardens, just west of Falls Church. The police stated that they found Presley's car a short distance down the road from the house with the windows broken, it appeared, by bullets. The LaRues and Mrs. Presley returned home about the same time as the police appeared in response to the complaints.

Fairfax County Agricultural Agent H. B. Derr has appointed a committee to assist him in arranging with the farmers of the county to have their farms in the best possible condition by next year for inspection by visitors, who will desire to see the best types of farming for which the county is noted. Agent Derr has appointed C. T. Rice, of Oakton, to arrange for tours among the leading dairy farms. Herbert Williams, of East Woodford, is to organize the tours among the orchards and Edward D. Vosbury, of Merrifield, to take charge of the poultry plant inspections. Another member of the committee will be appointed to handle the tours of the truck farms in the various sections of the county.

Lay Brother Falls 3 Floors to Death

St. Joseph's College Aid Loses Footing While Washing Windows.

Baltimore, Md., April 13 (A.P.).—Brother Boniface, 60, fell three stories to his death today at Mount St. Joseph's College, Irvington. He lost his balance while washing a window.

He was believed to have fallen on his head, striking the concrete paving leading to one of the college buildings. Students took him to St. Agnes Hospital, where he was pronounced dead. The coroner was notified and began an investigation.

He was known as a lay brother, as distinguished from the regular faculty members of the college, and has been connected with the Xaverian Order of Brothers for many years.

ALEXANDRIA ELKS INSTALL OFFICERS

Park Kersey Is Inducted as Exalted Ruler to Replace Duncan.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU,
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria, 523.

The new officers were installed last night by Alexandria Lodge, No. 758, B. P. O. E., when James Reece Duncan, leader of the lodge for the past twelve months, retired officially from office. One of the outstanding accomplishments of his term of office was the burning of the bonds on the Elks' Home. Many new members for the lodge were also secured during his regime.

The new exalted ruler, Park A. Kersey, with his staff, was inducted into office by John D. Fitzgerald, past exalted ruler of Washington Lodge, No. 15, who delivered a short talk to the lodge.

The other officers installed were Frederick P. Russell, esteemed leading knight; Edward J. Fleming, esteemed loyal knight; Windsor Demaine, esteemed lecturing knight; Herman Friedlander, treasurer, this being his twentieth consecutive term; George H. Railing, secretary; Harry Fedder, tiler, and A. L. Peake, elected trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the refusal of W. A. Moore to be a candidate for reelection.

After the installation of officers several new candidates were initiated, and a social session was held in the rathskeller. The annual reports of the retiring officers were read.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Carlin have sold to Aldrich Dudley, of Middleburg, Loudoun County, Va., their home known as "Andalusia," located at Arcturs, five miles south of this city. The land consists of five acres, and was purchased in 1905 by Mr. Carlin from the late Capt. William H. Snowden, and the original house has been remodeled and added to. It is understood that Mr. Dudley will tear down the present structure and build a new home on the site, which commands a fine view of the Potomac River.

The Alexandria United Charities is asking for contributions and requesting the merchants of the city to keep baskets in a prominent place for patrons to place in them groceries and commodities for the poor.

The Natoli Electrical Corporation, Inc., is having reconditioned the factory building at the northeast corner of Washington and Gibbon streets, to start operations shortly, and expect to employ 25 hands at the start.

Col. G. Seymour Bullock, national organizer of Izaac Walton League, will address the Rotary Club at its meeting today at 12:30 in the George Mason Hotel, and will be the guest of the president of the club, Judge William S. Snow.

The April meeting and annual election of officers of the Business and Professional Women's Club will be held at 7 o'clock tonight, at the George Mason Hotel. Mrs. J. K. Bowman, of Richmond, national vice president, will be the speaker.

James Dove, in charge of the Shell Oil Co. filling station at Washington road and Hume avenue, reported to the police yesterday that at some time during midnight Sunday, when he went to work, and 6 a. m. Monday, two cash boxes were robbed of $80.55.

Two local fishermen, Bruce Lyons and George W. Williams, on Sunday afternoon, while fishing off Sandy Bar, near Jones Point, caught three fine shad, the first to be caught this season so nearby.

Jackson Day Banquet Held.

Charles Town, W. Va., April 13 (Special).—Jefferson County Democrats held a Jackson Day banquet at Thomas Jefferson Hotel here this evening. Afterward former Gov. Robert A. Cooper of South Carolina addressed a large gathering at the courthouse. F. C. Littlejohn, county chairman, and John S. Alfriend, editor of the Spirit of Jefferson, were in charge.

Marines to Guard Queen Shenandoah

Twentieth Regiment Will Form Escort at Apple Blossom Festival.

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., April 13.—The official escort and guard of honor for Her Majesty, Queen Shenandoah VIII, at the coming Apple Blossom Festival here will be a provisional battalion of the Twentieth Marines, District of Columbia Marine Corps Reserve troops, and the Twentieth Marines Regimental Band. Announcement to this effect was made today by Nelson F. Richards, director general of the festival.

Selection of a Marine battalion and band as guard of honor is most appropriate, as this year's queen, Miss Patricia D. Morton, of Winchester, England, is the stepdaughter of Lieut. Gen. Stroud, Royal Marine Light Infantry.

The provisional battalion will be commanded by Maj. Harvey L. Miller, with three rifle companies commanded by Capts. Windsor B. W. Stroup, Sigsbee H. Yorkdale, and Francis R Geraci. The band will be in charge of Lieut. Arthur E. Harper. Drills in preparation for the Winchester formation will be held at the Twentieth Marines Armory, 451 John Marshall place northwest.

MONTGOMERY SELLS PROPERTY FOR TAX

Officials Are Pleased Over Decrease in Number of Parcels Offered.

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post.
9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md.
Telephone Wisconsin 4205.

Montgomery County's annual tax sale yesterday at the courthouse in Rockville was much smaller than last year's sale. There were 325 pieces of property sold for unpaid taxes as against 375 in 1930.

Bidding was more spirited than last year and the county commissioners took in only $72,000 in property as against $99,000 the year before.

Property sold yesterday was that on which taxes for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1930, had not been paid plus costs of advertising and sale. Redemption of the property can be made any time after 60 days from date of the sale. The treasurer's office can not negotiate any redemeptions until after the 60-day period due to clerical work and legal procedure which must be carried out. An additional cost of 10 per cent per annum for interest will be charged in the redemption.

County officials were elated over the smallness of amount involved in this year's sale.

Berry E. Clark, clerk to the county commissioners, announced yesterday that he had effected either sale or redemption of most of the property which has been offered at previous tax sales. This property involved a valuation of about $60,000.

Hiawatha Adams, colored, of Kensington, Md., is in Rockville Jail awaiting trial on charges of transportation of liquor with intent to sell, reckless driving and driving without a registration card, as the result of the efforts of Corpl. George Windham, of the Silver Spring substation, Montgomery County police.

Annual election of officers will be held tonight in two sections of Chevy Chase, Martin's Addition and Section 3. Three members of the citizens committee will be elected in Martin's Addition. The election of two members of the citizens' committee of Section 3 will be held between 5:30 and 8:30 o'clock tonight in the home of F. E. Meloy, on Raymond street. Members whose terms expire are C. Wohlgemuth, jr., secretary, and Paul Anderson, who are candidates for reelection. Other candidates are E. J. Murphy, James H. Pugh, F. E. Meloy and E. H. McLachlen.

The Montgomery County Board of Education will meet today at the board offices in the Rockville High School.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, JUNGLE HUNTER.

A HUNTER of a deadly sort,
The swift pursuit I stress;
I chase the wild beasts for the sport
Of seeing their distress;
They are a brave, courageous lot,
But you can bet they quail
And flee, all bothered and all hot,
When I am on their trail.

I cow them with gymnastics slick
And acrobatic stunts—
My movements are so very quick
They "pep" up jungle hunts;
When I come bounding o'er the veldt,
With vigor and with vim
A sense of doom by them is felt
Which leaves them very grim.

Some men kill tigers with a gun—
I slay them with a smile;
My teeth a-glisten in the sun
Will make them jump a mile;
But what's a little leap like that
To any man like me?
For ev'ry mile jumped by a "cat"
I'll jump it two or three!

The lion is a kingly beast
But he has moments when
He knows quite well, to say the least,
That I'm a king of men;
I love to get one in a race,
Defying sudden death,
And set him such an awful pace
He can not get his breath.

THIS stuff about the lion's leap,
With all its peril great,
Just puts me yawningly to sleep—
It's tripe like this I hate;
These lions here just look at me
And when I leap you bet
They all admit quite candidly
They ain't seen nuthin' yet!

I've outjumped ev'ry lion here
And made them groan with shame;
I've also outjumped Thompson's "deer"
And all the other game;
The other morn a panther tried
To scare me with a yelp—
I took the critter for a ride
And left it yelling "Help!"

I've got the jungle on my hip,
Afraid of me, and how!
Because of what I've shown this trip
It's muscle conscious now;
The tigers now in sadness sit,
The lions at me gape—
For since they've met me they admit
They've never been in shape!

AS USEFUL AS A TAXI IN MIDOCEAN.

THERE is, according to the papers, a spirited fight going on between the employers and members of the International Pocketbook Workers Union over working conditions. This brings up the question of what anybody does with a pocketbook these days.

One witness in the New York fish racketeering inquiry intimated that though he called the District Attorney's office, little attention was paid to his visit. Maybe he didn't present his cod.

WHY BROKERAGE OFFICE CUSTOMERS GO MAD.

(From a market letter.)

"DESPITE the chill winds and the raw atmosphere in this vicinity, the grass is greener and the peach trees are nigh to blossoming. This simile may be carried further with relation to improvement in business conditions. There is nothing sensational in current reports, nevertheless when they are carefully read, there is a distinct tendency toward improvement.

"Almost any one can tune in each day and get a Government report on flying conditions, East, West, North or South. At regular intervals Stock Market conditions are broadcast. Unfortunately, these give little help to those who would gain by market operations.

$858,364 TAX TOTAL IN PRINCE GEORGES

$8,000 Increase Over 1929 Shown in Annual Report of Treasurer.

Tax revenues in Prince Georges County during 1930 were $858,364.52, nearly $8,000 more than was collected in 1929, although the 1930 tax rate was 1 cent lower than during the preceding year, according to the annual report of R. Ernest Smith, retiring treasurer.

Not all of this sum had been collected when Mr. Smith retired on March 1, however. Collections on this date were $804,981.46, the remainder being represented by property sold by the county for taxes and insolvencies allowed. Property sold for unpaid taxes accounted for $45,367.89, and the insolvencies took care of the remaining $8,015.17.

The assessed value of automobiles in the county was $2,517,915 in 1930, an increase of more than $200,000 over the value of cars during 1929. This property brought in a tax return of $33,991.85.

The larger portion of tax receipts during 1930 was derived from real and personal property and household goods, which were taxed for $795,014.20, at a rate of $1.35 per $100. Stocks and bonds, taxed at 30 cents per hundred, brought in revenues of $7,161.99 on an assessed value of $2,387,329.

Rolling stock, assessed at $304,093.32 and taxed at a rate of $1.35, brought in $6,624.99, while domestic corporations, assessed at $635,431.96 and taxed at the same rate, paid taxes of $8,578.33.

Of the taxes collected, $1,649.77 will go to the suburban sanitary commission for back sanitary taxes due between 1919 and 1929 and paid during 1930. The sanitary commission will also get $10,955.42 collected from the front-foot benefit charge of 1927, 1928 and 1929. The park and planning commission will get $668.15 collected for 1928 and 1929

Carl M. Blanchard, of Hyattsville, heads the newly-elected officers of the Line Officers Association, which draws its membership from Odd Fellows' Lodges in the county. Other new officers are L. I. Lamphier, of Mount Rainier, vice president; Joshua Stedehouder, of Hyattsville, secretary; E. C. Day, of Bowie, assistant secretary, and David Haller, of Capitol Heights, sergeant at arms.

Mr. Blanchard is noble grand of Oriole Lodge, No. 47; Mr. Lamphier is treasurer of Mount Rainier Lodge, No. 156, Mr. Stedehouder is financial secretary of Oriole Lodge, Mr. Day is recording secretary of Harding Lodge, No. 174, and Mr. Haller is chaplain of Loyalty Lodge, No. 165. The next meeting of the association will be held in Capitol Heights on April 24.

Recent elections in the newly formed Bowie Home Demonstration Club resulted in selection of Mrs. George E. Lancaster for president. Other officers are Mrs. V. M. Nichols, secretary;; Miss Louise Smith, treasurer, and Mrs. Willis Lancaster, publicity manager. The next meeting will be held on May 6, with Miss Ethel Regan, home demonstration agent, present.

Officers of the Lanham-Severn Road Association will be elected on May 4. The meeting will also receive the report of its executive committee on further steps toward building of the highway. A bill for the construction failed to pass the last legislature but county commissioners of Anne Arundel and Prince Georges Counties have promised to build the road out of lateral road funds.

The Prince Georges Permanent Health League, formed to promote health activities among the colored people in the county, has chosen D. E. Brooks, of Seat Pleasant, as president. James E. Diggs, of Marlboro, has been elected secretary.

Fliers Quit Plane When Bomb Sticks

Army Pilot and Passenger Escape in Parachutes; Blast Wrecks Craft.

Newport News, Va., April 13 (A.P.). An army bomber pilot and his passenger this afternoon escaped in parachutes when a bomb stuck in the releasing device and could not be disengaged.

Fearing to land with the bomb dangling beneath the plane, the occupants, Capt. Robert G. Breene, air corps, and Maj. Charles A. French, coast artillery, decided to jump. They reached the ground safely.

Some distance away, the empty plane crashed and was demolished by the charge. The accident occurred during maneuvers.

Maryland Bank Theft Admitted

Man Arrested at Airport Here Confesses to Glyndon Robbery.

Baltimore, April 13 (A.P.).—A clerk who had a fondness for airplane flights pleaded guilty today to a charge that he and another man robbed the Bank of Glyndon, near here, last October 10, and fled with $9,000. Sentence was postponed.

The man, Edwin Monroe, 30, was arrested two weeks ago as he was about to board a plane for New York at a Washington airport. He had flown with his wife and child to Pittsburgh from Cleveland and to Washington from Pittsburgh alone.

Monroe was traced by the license plates of the bandit car. Officers said they knew the identity of his companion.

Ship With 100 Aboard Grounded but Is Freed

New Bedford, Mass., April 13 (A.P.). The Merchants & Miners Steamship Juniata became grounded cross-wise in Cape Cod Canal early today and required the assistance of three tugs to free her and head her about.

A. J. Doyle, general agent for the line, said the steamship's bow grazed a bank and the Juniata, carried by a current, was turned sideways. The tugs freed her within a short time and she resumed her voyage to Boston from Norfolk, Va. The ship, carrying about 100 passengers, was not damaged.

TWO HELD NOT BANK BANDITS, TRIO SAYS

Men Who Helped Holdup Car Out of Ditch Fail to Identify Pair.

Last remaining clew in the hunt for two bandits who escaped after an attempt to hold up the First National Bank of Southern Maryland, at Marlboro, failed yesterday when attempted identification of two men held in Alexandria as the robbers was unsuccessful.

Robert Hurd and Russell Bean are the two held in the Virginia city. Hurd has been sentenced to 60 days for carrying concealed weapons, and Alexandria police indicated that Bean would be released.

Sheriff W. C. Hopkins, of Prince Georges County, went with Harry Fenno, George Wyvil and Elon Turner to Alexandria in running out this lead. Fenno, Wyvil, and Turner the day before the holdup aided a car which was stuck in a ditch near where the bandits were forced to abandon their machine. It is thought that the three holdup men, one of whom was left dead after a gun battle in the bank, explored before the holdup the route they planned to take after looting the bank.

None of the Prince Georges men could recognize either Bean or Hurd as one of the men in the ditched car.

Police yesterday received and discounted a report that two men who are said to have been selling handkerchiefs in Fairmont Heights Sunday had anything to do with the attempted holdup. The report said that the two had tried to pawn a watch at a service station and had been picked up and carried away by a woman in a powerful black car.

VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY HAS FOUNDER'S DAY

President Alderman Defends Right of Criticism; No Money Gifts Made.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., April 13.—Self-criticism within the walls, and universal university criticism throughout the Nation and the world, was declared to be the outstanding characteristic of the year by Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, speaking at the Founder's Day exercises of that institution today, the 188th anniversary of the birthday of Jefferson, the 112th anniversary of the granting of the charter of the university and the 105th year of its uninterrupted work.

"The year 1930-31 might be truly called the inventory year in higher education in America," said Dr. Alderman. "Everybody is having something critical to say about universities and colleges. Professors, deans, presidents, journalists, authors, men on the streets are speaking out, not to mention academic muckrakers and sensationalists, a strange incarnation. All have joined what my friend, President Norlin, of Colorado, calls the Independent Order of University Hecklers, I. O. U. H.

Welcomes This Criticism.

"I welcome rather than deprecate this curious example of a fine type of crowd psychology operating on universities. There is nothing quite so vital and precious to our civilization as the American university. Therefore it ought to be tried without ceasing in the fire of intelligent criticism. Some profound suggestions have arisen out of this stocktaking, though some of the remedies proposed are too drastic to be available or too simple to be intelligent."

President Alderman paid his respects to those "polemic pests" who accuse Jefferson of asserting that all men enter the world exactly equal in power of brain, will, energy and character. "The individual who does not intuitively grasp that Jefferson meant in the declaration statement equality of opportunity rather than equality of mental endowment is a shining example of the man of straw, which, with obvious futility, he is seeking to demolish."

Library Building Greatest Need.

The greatest need of the university at present, in the opinion of Dr. Alderman, is a library building, with an adequate endowment for its operation. Two millions will be needed for this project, he said, and with such a donation "a new dynamic would enter the university's life, enabling it to assume its proper leadership in a movement to promote a better book consciousness throughout the Southern area in America, and to bring into the eager lives of 15,000,000 of people a juster appreciation of the significance of the book in our democracy."

The present enrollment of students in the university was shown to be 2,512. Of this total, nearly half are from Virginia, while 1,246 are from 44 other American States and 29 from 14 foreign countries. An annual income of $2,150,000 is required to give instruction to this body of students.

No Money Gifts Announced.

Recalling that last year he had announced gifts totaling $1,793,858.77, President Alderman expressed regret that he could not at this time assume the role of an academic Santa Claus. The year 1930-31 will not, therefore, live in history as a good Santa Claus year in academic halls or even around domestic firesides, he stated.

Gifts announced include: From Mrs. Ida C. Edmond, of Richmond, oil paintings from Florence, Italy; from Frank Edmonds, of Washington, compass indicator, to be placed in the flagstone flooring in the rotunda of the medical school; from William A. Clark, jr., to the library, autograph letter of Jefferson to Maj. Gen. Gates, and a print of Jefferson drawn and engraved by Longacre, from the portrait by Field, after Stuart; from McCormick Goodhart, set of models of the McCormick reaper, and from Miss Charlotte Lomax Anderson, a portrait of her great-grandfather, Judge John Taylor Lomax, first professor of law at the university, appointed by Jefferson and serving from 1826 to 1830.

Charlottesville, Va., April 13 (A.P.). A little known side of Thomas Jefferson was emphasized today at his birthday anniversary celebration at Monticello. Jefferson, writer of the Declaration of Independence, third President of the United States, exponent of freedom of thought, and able architect, was also a musician.

And Monticello, the Jefferson home, this afternoon was the focal point of a pilgrimage of State musicians, officers of the Virginia State Choral Festival Association, which will present a four-day out-of-door program here this week, were guests of honor at the annual Jefferson reception.

Michael MacWhite, Minister of the Irish Free State to the United States, also a guest of honor and speaker, again eulogized the Virginia statesman.

The late Nicholas Longworth, a member of the Jefferson centennial commission appointed by President Coolidge, was eulogized briefly by Dr. George J. Ryan, president of the board of education of New York City.

Blaze Threatens Historic Mansion

Slave Quarters Destroyed at Carter Hall Near Winchester.

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., April 13.—Grass fire spreading with alarming rapidity licked the walls and menaced the historic Carter Hall mansion near Millwood, Clarke County, today, and was not brought under control until a brick outbuilding formerly used as slave quarters had been destroyed.

It was situated near the main house, former home of the Burwell family and now owned by Gerard B. Lambert, Princeton, N. J.

Landscape gardeners had set fire to a pile of dry leaves and grass and the flames spread. The Berryville fire department fought the fire an hour bringing it under control, saving the colonial mansion and numbers of immense trees and flowering shrubs.
